Hi Leah, the letter looks good!

Have a great launch in Surrey and I look forward to seeing you in Vancouver!

Regards,
Mable

Hi Mable,

Please review and make any edits you want in this doc. Need it back by tomorrow morning to be included in the strategy document.

Thanks!
Leah

Hi Mable,

SDPR has asked if you are able to make the 2 min statement on "Community Service Awareness Month" on Tuesday March 5th?

Dear Mable,

Rapidly shifting global trends and continual challenges to our economic systems concern all of us. Vancity, as a values-based financial cooperative, continues to explore solutions for economic, social and environmental sustainability and we believe the cooperative model, where joint ownership and democratic control supports the common economic, social, and cultural needs of members and their communities, is a model that deserves more consideration.

Consequently, I would like to invite you to join us in visiting Italy's Emilia-Romagna region.

For more than fifteen-years, Vancity has studied the cooperative system of the Emilia-Romagna region of northern Italy, where cooperatives account for upwards of one-quarter of the GDP. Vancity's Emilia Romagna Cooperative Studies Program is an investment in our development of and learning about cooperatives and the study tour offers an in-depth look at the benefits that the cooperative model offers. Our time there is spent with leading thinkers—academics, economists, politicians, and cooperators —learning from those at the forefront.

We have much to learn from our colleagues there about the value of this unique business model and its social and economic impact.

Emilia-Romagna's cooperative economy is a highly networked system involving numerous small and large co-ops working in diverse sectors, supported by intermediaries, apex organizations and post-secondary educational intuitions, enabled by robust legislation and policy, and ultimately unified by commonly shared principles and values. This system serves as a multigenerational asset focused on sustaining communities through the provision of goods, services and employment, and the equitable distribution of wealth.

The 2019 tour takes place Sunday, May 26th to Friday, June 7th (inclusive) in Bologna, Italy, and we would be delighted if you would join Vancity staff and other community leaders as we engage with colleagues in Emilia-Romagna to explore the cooperative sector.

Recognizing that two weeks represents a significant time commitment, we are structuring the tour into two parts, an intensive first week front-loaded with critical meetings, and a second week focused more on co-op site visits. We would be pleased to have you join us, if only for the first week, June 3rd to 8th.

Please RSVP to Elvy Del Bianco (elvy_delbianco@vancity.com). If you have any questions, don't hesitate to be in touch.

Regards,

Atul
