Hi Val,

Can you please send (or ask the CU to send) out the following email to the attached list. We should have contact info in the stakeholder list that Casey was maintaining.

I meant to get this out yesterday, so if it can be done first thing tomorrow morning (recognizing it's a bit late today) that would be great. Or if you can even do up an email list for me and send it back, along with hyperlinking the "here" where I put the link, I can send it out tonight when I am landed and not en route.

Many thanks!

Leah

Dear friends,

I'm pleased to write to you today to announce 7 new appointments for the Community Living British Columbia (CLBC) Board of Directors. This new group of people will add their unique expertise and talents to the existing board and I hope you will join me in welcoming them. You'll find the news release and the biographies of the new members here (<https://news.gov.bc.ca/releases/2018SDPR0055-002314>). I'm sure you'll agree that they will bring a wealth of experiences and skills to their new roles. Please join me in congratulating these new board members, I know you will join me in wishing them every success in their new role.

Sincerely,

MSS

Hi Brenda

Could you take a first cut at an email we can send to key stakeholders on Monday with a copy of the IB, and a list of who it should go to? I can send it out while you're at the event but if you don't mind drafting that would be great. Comms will send an issue note later if you want messaging.

Thanks so much.

IB's are pretty direct in tone, but we can add a line about what the board does that is a bit warmer.

Hello Minister Fraser,

I am following-up from briefly seeing you at Orange Shirt Day this year. We discussed the possibility of screening my film, Us and Them, for the Legislative Assembly of BC. I have also reached out to both Minister Judy Darcy and Minister Carole James, who thought this was a great idea.

The film screened on Parliament Hill, and the event was hosted by Minister Jean-Yves Duclos during the National Poverty Conference. The film influenced the newly released Poverty Reduction Strategy in Canada. Hopefully it could have a similar influence here in BC.

Looking forward to hearing back from you!

All best,
Krista

Here's a draft email that I'll send out tonight or first thing tomorrow re: CLBC board appointments. List of stakeholders below – but maybe what we want is to get this to the RCI partnership table list instead? Brenda, do we have the full list of those folks?

Hi Pat

I am fine paying for the upgrade on my own. There was no self-parking option, they only have valet at that hotel.

Thanks
Leah

Hi Minister

I will need your approval for the cost of my hotel, which as you can see from below is over the current rules in Finance for hotel rates. Val has a form for you to sign when you're over tomorrow but you might also just be able to email approval.

Thanks,
Leah

Please find receipts attached for expense claim E130190. I've separated the parking and removed the charges for the hotel upgrade and associated taxes, but please let me know if I made any calculation errors.

Also please note that valet parking was the only option at that hotel. There's no other access to their lot.

Subject: accessible parking

Dear Premier:

I'm writing to ask why, as of December 10 2018, new developments will no longer be required to provide accessible parking for people with disabilities? This is terribly wrong. I know it's hard for someone who is physically able to get around to understand how being able to park close to where you're going is very important. It's also important to have a parking space larger than normal, so that the disabled persons door can be opened wide to make it easier for them to get out of the car. Not to mention the fact that some disabled people have vans with side doors and ramps to remove passengers who are in wheelchairs. Put back this requirement!
