Jordan has heard back from the doodle poll. Everyone responded except Cheryl, and the morning of June 26 was the best time.

Alissa, can you confirm that this time will work for MSS/PSME? Probably 10am – 12pm makes the most sense.

We will get a calendar invite sent out this week, along with last meeting's notes.

And we'll work on a draft agenda (probably next week).

Thanks

Subject: British Columbians want a Poverty Reduction Plan for BC!

Dear Premier John Horgan
(cc'd Minister of Social Development and Poverty Reduction Shane Simpson, Parliamentary Secretary for Poverty Reduction Mable Elmore, Opposition Leader Andrew Wilkinson, Green Party Leader Andrew Weaver, and Minister of Finance Carole James)

Congratulations on the launch of the first-ever poverty reduction plan for BC!

I am pleased to see that you recognize the importance of a comprehensive framework with cross-ministry responsibilities and investments, a foundation in reconciliation, a gender-based plus analysis (which includes tracking impact on low income people), and measures to reduce and prevent poverty. These are critical for a strong foundation to a poverty reduction plan. The Child Opportunity Benefit coming in Fall 2020, alongside a continued commitment to building a quality, affordable child care system in BC, will make a significant difference for children and families in poverty. Eliminating or limiting some of the cruelest elements of the income assistance system is also a welcome step to a more supportive system.

However, your report also identifies priorities named in the province-wide consultation process that are not yet met in TogetherBC including "better access to good food for families, enhanced investments in affordable transportation, and improved income security, including assistance rates." Recognizing the human rights of people living in the deepest poverty requires increasing income assistance rates far beyond the recent $50/month announcement and linking them to the actual cost of living. Tied to this, BC should re-implement vacancy control to ensure those increases are going to the people you want to benefit.

Over the next 5 years, we also need more to address housing, child care, education, employment, health, transportation, access to justice and food security. This includes actions recommended by the #AllOnBoard campaign such as free transit for children and youth and a sliding scale transit pass for all based on income.

TogetherBC outlines many reasons to reduce poverty in B.C. "Because it's the right thing to do. Because we care about our neighbours. Because we care about the kind of world we want to leave behind for our children. And there are costs to inaction...costs that stretch across the system – from health care to policing to social services."

Please ensure that you build on the strong start tracked in TogetherBC and realize these principles in concrete action moving forward.

Thanks again for launching BC's poverty reduction strategy!

Sincerely,

Subject: Poverty Reduction Advisory Committee - gathering insights by EOD Tuesday, May 6
Importance: High

Dear ones: I hope you are all safe and well. I am growing weary of this isolation but am glad to have been able to stay working from home all these weeks. My thoughts are with each and all of you.

In prep for our meeting with the Minister this coming Friday, I'd very much like to hear from you about your thoughts and experiences of the impact of the pandemic on people living in poverty and other vulnerable populations. I had intended to try to call each of you but time is working against me and all of us.

Can you send back, by email, your top three concerns or insights? Zahra: got yours, and thanks! I'll gather and get to staff for them to consider and prepare for our session on Friday. And, if you would rather talk by phone, please send your contact number. My email folder disappeared my contact list!

Look forward to your comments and to connecting with you all this Friday afternoon.

Best,
Catherine
