Hi Jane,

I have the request from Shaw and Dave and will work through the details of what's possible with the designated event coordinator once he gets back from Ottawa. I'll be sure to touch base with you once we firm up options.

Thanks!

Katy

Subject: Pink Shirt Day

Hello Katy and Jordan:

Kiersten Enemark from Shaw was in my office today talking about Pink Shirt Day and Pink Shirt Promise. Apparently she talked to PCC at the Premier's Women's event about Shaw's involvement in #pinkshirtpromise Feb 9-24 and the Premier expressed interest. I understand Kiersten also talked with MLA Tegart and there was preliminary interest in getting something organized with MLA's. Shaw is available to come to the Legislature any time between Feb 9 – 24 and film MLA's in pink shirts to talk about their promises and topics pertaining to anti-bullying – in a build up to Pink Shirt Day. In fact, Kiersten said she will be in Victoria Feb 9 and could do any pre-filming on that day if desired. But she is available anytime between Feb 9-24. I would be happy to organize that if you would like with the MLA's or anything else. However, Kiersten would love the Premier's involvement and pointed out that Shaw has invested in 20 communities province wide for their anti-bullying campaigns. They could do something with Minister Bernier in Victoria anytime too with students, since they will be doing several communities there as well.

I am writing you to determine what is planned for Pink Shirt Day given my Parliamentary Secretary position that includes anti-bullying. As you know, Dave Teixeira ( below) has also approached me with his suggestion to get Tad Milmine to speak at lunch time with the Premier Feb 24 in a similar event that has happened in previous years. I would be happy to help organize that event if need be as well, and anything else on that date that you feel is worthwhile.

Thank you for getting back to me. I am very much looking forward to seeing everyone next week.

Jane

Jane - thanks for speaking with me today about all things anti bullying.

As a quick review:

- For February 24th (Pink Shirt Day) have Tad Milmine, founder of Bullying Ends Here, as a guest speaker on the Leg steps. My client (Dominion Lending - the National Sponsor for BEH) already has him in the Lower Mainland for the 22nd and 23rd. I could drive Tad from Vancouver to Victoria for the day.

- As background, Tad is a former BC RCMP officer now working for the Calgary police. He quit the RCMP when they told him to stop with his anti bullying talks. Tad started BEH in 2012 in BC and uses his own time - and often money - to spread his anti bullying story and message.

- Love to see how Erase Bullying can have a more formal relationship with BEH and I Am Someone by providing some funding and resource support. Tad from BEH spoke to 90,000 people across Canada in 2015 so he has the educational piece down pat. IAS has a technology component which Tad could promote during his talks. Erase has the reach, online reporting tool and funding to help offset some expenses and thus grow the anti bullying message reach.

- An additional thought for the 24th would be (as a surprise) to award Tad with a Medal of Good Citizenship. He is deserving and awarding him this honour brings more attention to anti bullying as well as to the Medal program.

Thanks Jane for your consideration and please feel free to contact me should you require more information.

All the best.

Dave.

Subject: Pink Shirt Day

Hello Jane,

Thank you again for sending me an invitation to the Women's Reception. I enjoyed the event very much last night. Certainly Premier Clark continues to gain momentum!

Following our brief conversation, in recognition of Pink Shirt Day on February 24th and in collaboration with 20 community partners, Shaw will be launching a national social change campaign called #PinkShirtPromise. Although it hasn't been formally announced, for about 10 days leading up to Pink Shirt Day, every promise to stand up against bullying shared on Facebook, Twitter or Instagram, promise-makers are entered to win a trip to Toronto to enjoy an exclusive experience on ET Canada.

As Parliamentary Secretary, Child Mental Health and Anti-Bullying, maybe you would have some ideas or suggestions on how we could further engage government with this campaign? It could be something as simple as setting up Global TV at the Legislature and inviting MLAs and the Premier to make a Pink Shirt Promise and/or speak in support of the campaign and encourage youth to make a promise before February 24th. We've reached out to Katy Merrifield to share this information. Jackie Tegart suggested an information meeting mid-February with 10 or so MLAs, where Shaw could present the details of the campaign, and the call to action. What are your thoughts?

I'm often on the North Shore and would be happy to pop by if you would like to meet to further discuss. I look forward to your suggestions.

Kind Regards,

Kiersten
