Subject: The Best of the West Gymnastics Fest Invite

Dear Premier Christy Clark:

In May 2016 a spectacular gymnastics event will be coming to the beautiful Richmond Olympic Oval. Delta Gymnastics, a not-for-profit society and Gymnastics BC will work together to host over 1,700 gymnasts and 5,000+ spectators for the best gymnastics event ever held in British Columbia. We are promoting "kids first" through gymnastics and believe it promotes joy in achievement, success and accomplishment, and physical literacy for life.

From May 5 to the 8th the Richmond Olympic Oval will be the place to be. This unique event brings together three of the best gymnastics events under one roof: The Western Canadian Gymnastics Championships (Westerns), the 32nd Delta Invitational and Cash & Carry Cup, and BC Gymnaestrada.

We would be honored to have you actively participate at our event. Opportunities include:

- Attending our Opening Ceremonies Thursday May 5th at 5pm (Possibly a brief speech of encouragement to our athletes)
- VIP Social Saturday May 7th at 7pm at the Sheraton
- Presenting medals at our Invitational Thursday to Saturday or Westerns Finals all day Saturday (We will be sending out a schedule of the awards ceremonies approximately 6 weeks prior to the event.)
- Gymnaestrada March In Ceremony either in the morning at 8:30am or afternoon at 1pm (times to be confirmed)
- Writing a brief letter/message to the athletes, for our program

We look forward to hearing what opportunities you would like to participate in.

Tamara,

As discussed, the Shoppers LOVE. YOU. Run for Women on Saturday, May 7th is a very important event, which supports BC Women's Hospital programs.

BC Women's Hospital Foundation is partnering with Shoppers and we expect over a thousand participants, based on the success of last year.

Pending the Premier's schedule in Vancouver that day, we would be honoured if she would like to make some opening remarks @approx. 8:55am. We could also work with the organizers to adjust the program and schedule for earlier remarks -- (8:30 am - 1K Little Steps commences).

Alternatively, we would also respectfully welcome the Hon. Suzanne Anton, Attorney General's participation at this event.

As mentioned, I have included some further detail regarding the event below.

Please feel free to contact me anytime.

Presentation to Care BC

Closing remarks

Giving back to BC's health care community

The BC Health Care Awards highlight how health care employees give back to the people of British Columbia. In this spirit, each Gold Apple sponsor has contributed $1,000 for donation to a BC-based health care charity in recognition of the efforts of our award winners. This year's recipient is:

Care BC is an HEABC member organization that provides health promotion and supportive care services – including Meals on Wheels – that allow seniors to live independently in their own homes.

Organization: Rosewood Manor

Project: Enriching the Quality of Care for Dementia Residents

Project Leader: Deborah Goegan – Administrator

Team Members: Rosewood Manor's nurses, care aides, recreation manager and recreation aides, administrator, director of care, assistant director of care, dietician, pharmacist, doctor and a Richmond Mental Health team member

Rosewood Manor is a not-for-profit residential care home for seniors in Richmond that provides care and support to 156 residents. One of its units provides specialized care for 36 residents with advanced stages of dementia. To enrich the quality of care for these dementia residents, three simultaneous initiatives were implemented.

The first is CLeAR which stands for Call for Less Anti-psychotics in Residential Care. The second is PIECES – an acronym for Physical, Intellectual, Emotional, Centered on the resident, Environmental and Social. This approach looks to enhance care for individuals with complex physical, cognitive and behavioural health needs by identifying these needs and providing a framework for understanding why a person behaves the way he or she does. The third is the Gentle Persuasive Approach, which teaches basic understanding of dementia and its relationship with a person's responsive behaviours – which can often be challenging or aggressive – and then offers strategies to help defuse those behaviours.

Thanks to these approaches, staff are seeing a difference in residents, and in themselves. Now, when a resident is showing signs of anxiousness, agitation or aggression, staff consider what may be the cause. Instead of reaching for medication, they use re-direction techniques such as access to art supplies or sensory books, music therapy, aromatherapy, or one-on-one visits to defuse the situation. They are also using technology such as Apple TV and iPads to engage and stimulate residents.

As a result, Rosewood Manor has greatly reduced the use of anti-psychotics amongst its residents and continues to work towards its goal to completely eliminate the inappropriate use of anti-psychotic medications. In addition, injury rates due to aggressive behaviours have gone down by one-third.

Project: Bounce Back: Reclaim Your Health

Project Leader: Jonny Morriss – Director, Public Policy, Research, and Provincial Programs

Team Members: Bev Gutray & CMHA BC team, Sandra Severs & CMHA North & West Vancouver team, Michael Anhorn & CMHA Vancouver Fraser team, James Tousignant & CMHA Cowichan Valley team, Christa Mullaly & CMHA Kamloops team, Sue Rossi & CMHA Vernon team, Janice Ivan & CMHA Kootenays team, Maureen Davis & CMHA Prince George team

Bounce Back: Reclaim Your Health is a free skill-building program for adults experiencing low mood or stress with or without anxiety. It offers two forms of evidence-based self-help: an instructional DVD with practical tips on recognizing and dealing with depressive symptoms; and, a series of educational workbooks with telephone-coaching to reinforce the application of cognitive-behavioural strategies for overcoming difficulties such as inactivity, avoidance, worry and unhelpful thinking. The overall goal of Bounce Back is to increase community capacity in the voluntary non-profit sector to respond effectively to individuals who live with mood problems, worry or stress, and who would benefit from improvement in their emotional well-being. This community capacity increase is designed to support primary care patients, primary care practitioners, and divisions of family practice across the regional health authorities and other family practice structures.

Project: Implantable Cardiac Electrical Devices: From Complexity to Optimization

Project Leader: Minnie Downey – Intern, Office of the CEO, Special Projects

Team Members: Loraine Best, Karen Bevan-Pritchard, Jorge Bonet, Lori Boothby, Robin Brinac, Manav Chaudhry, Christine Connal, Viv Giglio, Irene Harder, Jillian Harder, Sean Hardiman, Julie Harrison, Cathie Heritage, Judith Hockney, Allan Holmes, Shahzad Karim, Linda Lemke, Wendy Lilje, Sanji Lochan, Maureen McCroy, Arelen Palmer, Lorraine Prysunka, John Ramsden, Jocelyn Reimer-Kent, Gerry Simkus, Pat Wrigley

Fraser Health's Cardiac Service program implants more than 1,400 cardiac electrical devices – or pacemakers – each year. Growing demand was placing pressure on the system and patient care was being compromised because of longer-than-average wait times and cancellations. Through this project, Fraser Health sought to improve patient care by moving to an integrated system with a single point of entry for inpatients and outpatients, designed to meet the needs of the patient, clinicians and support areas while optimizing resources.

With input from the Canadian Foundation for Healthcare Improvement, the team at Fraser Health consolidated and standardized cardiac services across the health authority from four sites to two. Now 800 pacemaker procedures per year, or approximately 75 per cent of all cases, are being done out of the Jim Pattison Outpatient Care and Surgical Centre, with the remainder being done at Royal Columbian Hospital. Using an outpatient facility to perform these procedures for both inpatients and outpatients is a first in Canada. Also novel is the use of a non-anesthetist model where most procedures are performed using conscious sedation and a respiratory technologist.

Overall, cardiac implants increased from 22 to 30 per week, reducing the waitlist from 120 patients to 40, and no procedures were cancelled due to lack of staffing. Wait time targets were met 80 per cent of the time with the majority of inpatients receiving implants within 48 hours. Fraser Health Cardiac Services has shared the successful outcomes of this project with the Provincial Health Services Authority which is developing a plan to roll it out across the province.

Project: ON TRAC (Transitioning Responsibly to Adult Care) Youth Transition Initiative

Project Leader: Mary Paone – Nursing Lead for Transition

Team Members: Tahia Ahmed, Kyla Brophy, Patti Byron, Dewey Evans, Sandy Hwang, Lucinda Jones, Erin McFee, Susan Rabinovitz, Dr. Lynn Straatman, Dr. Curren Warf, Dr. Sandy Whitehouse

Over 98 per cent of children treated at tertiary pediatric centres will require transfer to adult care providers. However, for many of these children, a transfer to adult health services may result in a deterioration of their health status. ON TRAC is a province-wide initiative to support comprehensive, continuous, accessible and developmentally-appropriate care to youth and young adults (ages 12-24 years) with chronic health conditions and/or disabilities as they plan, prepare and transfer from pediatric care to the adult health care system. Transition is a very significant issue that is increasing. In 2006/07, 790 youth transitioned from BC Children's Hospital to adult care. This year, more than 1,700 youth with chronic health conditions and/or disabilities will transfer out of BC Children's Hospital. The project has resulted in the following initiatives: Transition Clinical Practice Guidelines; the Youth in Transition Project; and, the Youth Voice Project.

Organization: Vancouver Coastal Health

Project: Emergency Department (ED) iCare

Project Leader: Susan Seeman – Director of Strategic Initiatives

Team Members: Yasaman August, Laura Case, Michelle de Moor, Vivian Eliopoulos, Shannon Hopkins, Lori Korchinski, Dr. Doug McKnight, Shelina Meghji, Dr. Chad Kim Sing, Dr. John Sloan

The ED iCare project helps frail seniors avoid unnecessary hospital stays by identifying patients over age 70 in the emergency department who can be transitioned home with necessary supports allowing patients to be in the comfort and familiarity of their own home where they have the best chance to regain their strength and independence. By reducing the hospital admission rate, capacity is freed up for patients who do require acute care. Results include: a decrease in admissions through the ED of two patients per day – the equivalent of 22 inpatient beds (or an entire medical unit) being saved on a daily basis; a 12 per cent increase in weekly discharges; a 16 per cent reduction in revisits to the ED; a 21 per cent reduction in ED revisits with an admit within seven days; and, a 10 per cent decrease in ED visits following an admit within the previous 28 days.

Project: Nanaimo General Hospital – Integrating Violence Prevention Policies into Practice

Project Leaders: Marci Ekland – Site Director, Nanaimo General Hospital

Team Members: Darin Abbey, Susan Anslow, Tracy Augustine, Dan Barber, Jill Breker, Catrin Brodie, Vanessa Caton, Barbara Dixon, Nicole Esleyer, Ashley Gueret, Gail Hannah, Michelle Holmes, Kerry Hoop, Mark Hunns, Christina Iegg, Kelli Jennison-Gustafson, Tamara Judd, John Kalina, Nicole Meyer, Jaycille Neville, Lynne Plumbly, Amanda Rose, Carly Singbeil, Sonya Skeeles, Linda Thomas, Carrie Zelko-Norman

Statistics show that health care employees are more likely to experience workplace violence than prison guards or police officers. Much has been done in BC in recent years by employers and employees to help reduce this risk and make health care employees safer on the job. After rolling out comprehensive violence prevention policies at Island Health, the next step was to ensure success and employee safety by integrating these policies into practice.

Nanaimo Regional General Hospital welcomed the opportunity to be the first to implement this process with a goal to embed violence prevention practice into the site's safety culture. Six staff members were trained and scheduled to work shifts as violence prevention coaches. The coaches reinforce the information and skills taught to employees in the Provincial Violence Prevention Curriculum by supporting staff directly at the bedside – implementing violence prevention best practices into their clinical practice and patient care.

By taking a site-wide approach, targeting interventions and learning at the bedside, staff have made significant practice changes towards creating a safer environment for themselves and for patients. Completion rates for violence risk assessments and behavioural care plans on patients' charts have doubled. Staff feel more confident in managing difficult behaviours. Based on these outcomes, other sites within Island Health as well as other BC health authorities are looking to adopt this program in their facilities.

Project: Site Security Incident Reporting System

Project Leaders: Scott MacMillan – Manager, Process Excellence & Performance Reporting, Integrated Protection Services

Team Members: Ema McMillan

The Integrated Protection Services (IPS) program is a corporate security program that services the four Lower Mainland health organizations – Fraser Health, Providence Health Care, Provincial Health Services Authority and Vancouver Coastal Health. The Site Security Incident Reporting System (SSIRS) amalgamated security reporting systems across these four organizations – encompassing 49 acute, primary, and residential care facilities – into one standard system. The SSIRS project solved privacy and confidentiality issues by storing reports on a dedicated secure network server owned and maintained by Fraser Health. It also allows improved intelligence sharing amongst the hundreds of security officers working at facilities all across the four health organizations, enhancing safety and security mitigation strategies and risk planning to improve the overall safety and security of health care staff. Also, the system's expansive data metric analysis capabilities allows the production of customized reports, and detailed data analysis and trending to improve security delivery models.

Project: Duty-to-Accommodate Pilot Project: A Collaboration with HR Operations & Disability Management

Project Leader: Darlene Doricic – Disability Management Program Leader

Team Members: Kara Hannigan, Jasvinder Heer, Joan Meidl

Interior Health and Northern Health collaborated on a pilot project to create a duty-to-accommodate team focused entirely on the assessment, support and placement of employees with permanent disabling limitations. The overall goals of the project were to retain skilled workers, reduce the duration of sick leaves/long-term disability and WorkSafeBC claims, and adhere to a standardized process when dealing with disabled employees. The implementation of the dedicated duty-to-accommodate team created focused resources, standardized procedures and early intervention. The pilot has been a great success. At Interior Health, 48 per cent of cases were resolved within 30 days and at Northern Health, 57 per cent of cases were resolved within 30 days – a significant improvement over past practice. In 2013/14, WorkSafeBC short-term claim duration for both Interior Health and Northern Health improved by 19 per cent, and there was a long-term disability cost avoidance of six million dollars for the organizations.

Project: Hospital Inventory Optimization Project

Project Leaders: Cecilia Li – Provincial Director & Dr. Doug Morrison – Medical Director

Team Members: Chris Biantoro, Dr. Victor Menghetti, Darlene Mueller, Chris Taruc

Blood is a precious resource within the health care system. Coming from volunteer donors, it is perishable and must be discarded if not used in time. With this in mind, the Hospital Inventory Optimization Project sought to minimize blood product wastage while ensuring sufficient inventory to deal with routine demands and life-threatening emergencies.

To achieve the goals of low waste, fresh blood and no shortages, an inventory management model was developed to better manage and allocate blood inventory at the hospital level, and to decrease the amount of product wasted. The project team collaborated with Fraser Health's Royal Columbian Hospital, Northern Health and the University of British Columbia's Centre for Operations Excellence which built a simulation model to test scenarios with modified ordering and issuing policies. As well, data was provided by Canadian Blood Services, BC's Central Transfusion Registry and the health authority Laboratory Information System.

Now less product is being wasted, Canadian Blood Services can issue the appropriate products and importantly, patients can continue to get the products they need when they need it. It was found that by ordering less, patient care was not negatively impacted; in fact patients received fresher blood which is linked to positive health outcomes and most importantly, the wastage rate decreased by 50 per cent – representing over half a million dollars in savings. Plans are in the works to roll this tool out to other hospital networks in the province. As the first of its kind in Canada, the model has the potential to be shared nationally with hospitals across the country.

Collaborative Solutions

Award of Merit Recipients

Organization: BC Emergency Health Services

Project: Decreasing Lead Time for Red (High Acuity / Emergent) Inter-Facility Transfers

Project Leader: Doug Garland – Manager, Kamloops Dispatch Operations

Team Members: Siobhan Annand, Andrew Binette, Stephen Clinton, Michael Elliott, Dan Froom, Rafal Gryzb, Joel Herrod, Simon Ip, Diane Jerome, Gordon Kirk, Colleen Lachance, Juanita Poelvoorde, Leeann Ring, Rob Schlamp, Sarah Scott, Tina Sharma, Kathy Steegstra, Jane Sun

BC Emergency Health Services provides provincial ambulance and emergency health services through the BC Ambulance Service and the BC Patient Transfer Network which plans and coordinates all inter-facility patient transfers. The main project goal was to decrease the lead time for high acuity inter-facility transfers from the point of initial call to when crews are dispatched from a median of 34 minutes to a target of 10 minutes. This project has led to improved patient safety, better processes, improved quality of information and more efficient service. The target of 10-minute turnaround time has been met and sustained, despite case volume increasing by 26 per cent since the launch of this new service model. This is all being accomplished with the same resources as before. Overall, between April 2014 and January 2015, 8,954 cases were handled and 78 per cent of these met the on-time drop-off target.

Organization: Vancouver Coastal Health

Project: Antimicrobial Stewardship Program: Innovation, Research, Education and Safety (ASPIRES) Team

Project Leaders: Dr. Jennifer Grant, Medical Director, ASPIRES & Dr. Tim Lau, Pharmacy Lead, ASPIRES

The goal of ASPIRES is to improve patient care by collaborating with health care providers to successfully treat infections, reduce inappropriate anti-infective use, reduce adverse drug events and health care associated infections, and support sustainable health care. It is estimated that up to 50 per cent of anti-infectives are inappropriately prescribed. Appropriate anti-infective use improves patient outcomes, reduces adverse events, decreases the development of resistance and potentially reduces health care costs. Previously, there was no formalized program to educate prescribers on appropriate anti-infective use, assess target prescriptions for appropriateness, track prescribing patterns and measure the impact of anti-infective interventions. In 2013/14, the ASPIRES clinical team reviewed 794 Vancouver General Hospital (VGH) patient charts and suggested treatment optimization for 515 of these patients resulting in an overall reduction in use of antibiotics across the intensive care unit, medical and surgical wards at VGH translating to an estimated 2,980 avoided days of antibiotic therapy at these units.

Health Care Hero

Gold Apple Winners

Health Care Hero – Affiliate: Frannie Cruise – Recreation Therapist

Organization: Centre for Child Development

Frannie Cruise has spent 40 years creating programs that expand the horizons of children and young adults with disabilities. She has helped countless kids with special needs be active and full members of their communities through sport. This includes developing track and field programs, teaching adapted aquatics and getting recreational activities embedded in the community. Frannie has worked with the City of Surrey Parks and Recreation, the Surrey School District and various sports organizations to ensure that kids with special needs are actively involved in city and community programs, helping to create one of the best parks and recreation programs in the province for children with special needs. She developed a unique weight training program at the local YWCA that works in conjunction with the physical therapy treatment program at the Centre for Child Development, bringing together youth with disabilities and students planning careers in health care. She was also instrumental in starting the BC Cerebral Palsy Sports Association.

Health Care Hero – Fraser Health: Marika Sandrelli – Addiction Knowledge Exchange Leader

Organization: Mental Health & Substance Use Program

Marika Sandrelli is a champion for the care of individuals with substance use challenges. Bringing passion, experience, knowledge and compassion to her role, Marika advocates the use of evidence and practice-based knowledge and skills as a means to enhance clinical knowledge and deliver client-centered service. Marika exceeds expectations in every initiative she takes on. When the Core Addictions Practice program targeted training 100 individuals per year, her creative planning tripled this number. More than 2,000 individuals have now been trained including 80 per cent of Fraser Health staff working in mental health and substance use, and this training is now being extended to public health, home health and emergency departments. Her caring approach has resulted in a more skilled, confident, supported and supportive workforce, who are not only better equipped to serve a vulnerable patient population with confidence and compassion, but who take pride in the work that they do.

Health Care Hero

Gold Apple Winners

Health Care Hero – Interior Health: Patrice Gordon – Nurse Practitioner
Organization: Community Integrated Health Services (Cariboo Region)

Patrice Gordon's altruistic attitude and strong belief in the interconnectedness of life have guided her career. After working as an emergency flight transport nurse, and a high altitude and open ocean sailing medic, she has spent the past nine years delivering primary health care to six isolated, rural First Nations communities on the Chilcotin plateau. Trained to deal with medical crises beyond the basic nursing curriculum, Patrice is highly valued in these areas particularly where recruitment and retention can be challenging. A humanitarian at heart, in 2008 Patrice served as part of a multi-national medical unit in Afghanistan. She became a member of the Canadian Red Cross in 2010 and in late 2014 set course for the epicentre of the Ebola outbreak in Sierra Leone. Returning home Christmas Day, Patrice spent the holidays in quarantine after developing flu-like symptoms. After testing negative, she went straight back to work with her patients in the Chilcotin.

Health Care Hero – Island Health: Dawn Nedzelski – Chief Professional Practice & Chief Nursing Officer
Organization: Island Health

Throughout her career as a nurse and health care leader, Dawn Nedzelski has demonstrated an unwavering commitment to both her patients and the nursing profession. Colleagues say it is Dawn's unique ability to bring people together that has made a significant impact on her immediate work environment as well as the broader Island Health community. After starting her career in frontline nursing more than 30 years ago, Dawn is now Chief Professional Practice & Chief Nursing Officer. Although she is now an administrator, Dawn has never forgotten her frontline nursing roots. Dawn is the first to ask how a proposed change will impact patient care, and works hard to ensure that patient safety and quality care are the driving forces behind administrative decisions. She has extended this approach to the community too – building bridges to groups that might otherwise feel marginalized and ensuring that the unique needs of each population are being met.

Health Care Hero

Gold Apple Winners

Health Care Hero – Northern Health: Heather Floris – Head Nurse

Organization: St. John Hospital (Vanderhoof)

Drawn to nursing for the opportunity to help people at their most vulnerable, Heather Floris exemplifies selfless dedication in service to others including her family, community, staff and colleagues. Covering a busy rural emergency room requires skill, knowledge and an enormous capacity for flexibility. Universally cherished, Heather has been seen driving discharged patients home when no ride is available, picking up medications for those unable to do it themselves, leading the hospital response to emergency situations such as a fire at the local mill, and for simply “getting things done”. She was once witnessed pushing an unoccupied patient bed up a hill in front of the hospital to the attached residential care facility when it wouldn’t fit inside the elevator. With more than 15 testimonials accompanying her nomination – from the Mayor to the RCMP commander to her colleagues at the hospital – it’s clear the significant impact Heather has had on hospital care and the broader community in Vanderhoof.

Health Care Hero – Provincial Health Services Authority: Amy Pezzente – Eating Disorder Peer Support Worker

Organization: Kelty Mental Health Resource Centre, BC Children’s Hospital

Amy Pezzente has dedicated herself wholly to supporting people struggling with eating disorders, sharing her own story of recovery in order to help others. Through her tireless work, Amy has made huge contributions to increasing public awareness and education, but she has also helped many on a very personal, individual level. Amy provides mentorship and support to those struggling with eating disorders, disordered eating behaviours and body image issues. In addition, she coordinates peer support groups with the Looking Glass Foundation for Eating Disorders; she speaks in schools through Jessie’s Legacy Eating Disorders Prevention Program; she coordinates the “Love Our Bodies, Love Ourselves” movement and social media presence; she developed a resource, “From Survive to Thrive”; she regularly speaks to local media about eating disorder prevention; and if that weren’t enough, she coordinates the Provincial Eating Disorders Awareness Campaign, which raises awareness of prevention, early intervention and treatment of eating disorders.

Health Care Hero

Health Care Hero – Vancouver Coastal Health: Ian Denison – Physical Therapy Equipment Specialist

Organization: GF Strong Rehabilitation Centre

After breaking both of his legs at age 15, Ian Denison was inspired to become a physical therapist after seeing the critical role that physiotherapy played in his recovery. After completing training in the United Kingdom, Ian came to Canada and started work at GF Strong Rehabilitation Centre. With the exception of two six-month job exchanges, Ian has spent his entire career at GF Strong, becoming one of its most recognized faces. Ian also started the Rehab Equipment Expo – Western Canada's largest assistive technology showcase, and founded the Solutions Student Design Exposition – an annual assistive device and health technologies design exhibition for BC post-secondary students. Ian regularly presents at national and international conferences to share what he has learned and advance his profession. He has been recognized by the Canadian Association of Occupational Therapists, the Canadian Physiotherapy Association, and the Canadian Adaptive Seating and Mobility Association both locally and nationally for his contributions in the field of rehabilitation therapy.

Subject: BC Achievement Foundation - BC Community Achievement Awards - Planning and Contacts

Good Morning Andrew:

The BC Achievement Foundation is readying for the 2016 BC Community Achievement Awards which are held annually at Government House and is grateful for the important role Premier Clark and her office plays each year in the delivery of the program and honouring the recipients. The Chair of the Foundation has written to Premier Clark inviting her to present the 2016 awards with Her Honour, the Honourable Judith Guichon, at the presentation ceremony on May 25th and I have attached a copy of the letter for your reference. In addition, Premier Clark signs certificates and letters (which personally congratulates each individual recipient) and together with the Chair, Keith Mitchell, the Premier announces the award recipients in a press release. I am wondering if you could help direct me to those in the Premier's office with whom I should be in touch to plan for each of the three areas of the BC Community Achievement Awards mentioned: in terms of her schedule to confirm event participation; signing the letters (prepared by the Foundation) and certificates (blank certificates can be signed immediately); and the press release approval.

We anticipate having the selection of the 2016 recipients finalized by the week of April 18th which will direct timing around the press release and personalized letters as an FYI.

Thanks so much for your help and direction Andrew.

Kind regards,

Re: May 6 WestJet Inaugural flight to London England

Dear Premier Clark:

Friday May 6th will mark an important milestone in WestJet's history of investment and growth in British Columbia. Our first direct, nonstop flight to London (Gatwick) will connect British Columbians directly to the UK for the first time on WestJet. This service comes just over twenty years from our inaugural flight from Calgary to Vancouver in February 1996.

We are pleased to invite participation from your government in celebrating this new service and the tremendous opportunity it creates for your inbound tourism, economic links to the United Kingdom and job creation in the Province. Vancouver is one of six Canadian cities that will launch inaugural WestJet service that weekend to London (Gatwick) and we are planning activities in London to commemorate the occasion. WestJet President and Chief Executive Officer Gregg Saretsky will be on the Vancouver inaugural.

We would be pleased to welcome Ministers, MLA's and/or departmental officials on the inaugural service and look forward to working with your government to ensure appropriate participation.

Vancouver is one of six Canadian cities that WestJet has selected to receive this new service and we are expecting to host government officials and dignitaries from Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario, Newfoundland and United Kingdom along with domestic and international media. We have allocated the Province of British Columbia four (4) spaces for the inaugural flight and events in London.

For the purposes of any applicable provincial government ethics rules and your requisite review procedures, I have included a list of the costs related to the inaugural and events. In addition, I have also included the weekend's itinerary and a media kit regarding WestJet and our newest route to London, UK.

Thank you very much for your consideration. For more information and to coordinate participation, please contact our Director of Government Relations, Andy Gibbons. Andy can be reached at agibbons@westjet.com or 613-697-1740.

Could you please inform us by April 15th whether you will be utilizing this allocation and joining us for this occasion.

Sincerely,

Mike McNaney

About WestJet

Founded in 1996, WestJet started with three aircraft, five destinations and 220 WestJetters. Our original five destinations were Vancouver, Kelowna, Calgary, Edmonton and Winnipeg.

Almost 20 years later, WestJet now operates 141 aircraft to 102 destinations in North America, Central America, the Caribbean and Europe, with more than 11,000 WestJetters at the helm.

WestJet introduces service over the pond

WestJet began service to its first European destination, Dublin, Ireland, in June 2014 and it quickly became the most successful new destination in company history.

The second European destination, Glasgow, Scotland, began service in May 2015, and also had near-record bookings for an inaugural destination.

In June of 2015, WestJet announced that it would connect Canada and London (Gatwick), United Kingdom, as its third European destination. This May, WestJet will launch this inaugural service from six Canadian cities to London (Gatwick).

Service dates for WestJet's non-stop flights to London are:

- Vancouver – (seasonal) May 6-October 21, 2016
- Calgary – year-round from May 6, 2016
- Edmonton – (seasonal) May 7-October 22, 2016
- Winnipeg – (seasonal) May 7-October 1, 2016
- Toronto – year-round from May 6, 2016
- St. John's – (seasonal) May 7-October 22, 2016

London will be WestJet's first transatlantic destination with the newly-acquired wide-body 767 aircraft, and it is also the next step in the airline's international evolution.

Our wide-body aircraft

Flights to London (Gatwick) from five of the six Canadian cities will be operated by WestJet's fleet of Boeing 767-300 ER (extended range) aircraft. The 767-300 aircraft feature a new teal and blue maple leaf-themed logo (that will eventually appear on all WestJet aircraft), seat 262 guests and have a mission range of approximately 11 hours.

The aircraft include a Plus cabin with 24 premium seats in a two-by-two-by-two configuration, hot meals and all of the other amenities associated with Plus. The main cabin has 238 seats, with two seats on either side of the aircraft and three in the middle. All four 767s are equipped with WestJet Connect, the airline's new inflight entertainment and wireless connectivity system, as well as 110-volt and/or USB power at every seat.

WestJet's non-stop service between St. John's and London (Gatwick) will be operated by one of the airline's Boeing Next-Generation 737-700 series aircraft, equipped with a 12-seat Plus cabin and the same WestJet Connect inflight entertainment and wireless connectivity system (with power outlets).

- Canadian investment in the UK (in 2014) was C$68 billion; UK investment in Canada last year was C$48 billion. Source.
- In 2014, Canada was the seventh most-valuable source of market for international tourism (UNWTO).
- In 2014, there were 649,000 visits from Canada to Britain, worth a total of £473 million. (Average spend of £729 per visit.)
- Primary purposes for travel in 2014: 41 per cent of visits were VFR (visits to friends and relatives), 38 per cent for holiday, 11 per cent for business and one per cent for study.

Subject: WestJet London Inaugural May

Hi Michele, Jay, Jordan, Brian,

Attached is a letter to Premier Clark inviting government participation in our inaugural flight and events to London on Friday May 6. We have invited other levels of government and want to ensure your allocation is utilized.

Our President & CEO will be taking this flight and there will be a photo-op ceremony before the flight for which we would request participation (even if you're not using the ticket allocation).

This event is a real step forward for our company and is great news for inbound tourism, choice and competition and job creation in the Province.

I look forward to working with you on this.

Thanks,

Subject: BC Achievement Foundation - BC Community Achievement Awards - Planning and Contacts

Good Morning Andrew:

The BC Achievement Foundation is readying for the 2016 BC Community Achievement Awards which are held annually at Government House and is grateful for the important role Premier Clark and her office plays each year in the delivery of the program and honouring the recipients. The Chair of the Foundation has written to Premier Clark inviting her to present the 2016 awards with Her Honour, the Honourable Judith Guichon, at the presentation ceremony on May 25th and I have attached a copy of the letter for your reference. In addition, Premier Clark signs certificates and letters (which personally congratulates each individual recipient) and together with the Chair, Keith Mitchell, the Premier announces the award recipients in a press release. I am wondering if you could help direct me to those in the Premier's office with whom I should be in touch to plan for each of the three areas of the BC Community Achievement Awards mentioned: in terms of her schedule to confirm event participation; signing the letters (prepared by the Foundation) and certificates (blank certificates can be signed immediately); and the press release approval.

We anticipate having the selection of the 2016 recipients finalized by the week of April 18th which will direct timing around the press release and personalized letters as an FYI.

Thanks so much for your help and direction Andrew.

Kind regards,

Dear Premier Clark:

Please accept this letter as our invitation to speak at the BC Economic Summit: Past, Present & Future, scheduled to be held at the Pacific Gateway Hotel in Richmond from June 12th - 14th, 2016. We are hoping you will be able to attend the BC Economic Development Awards Banquet on Tuesday, June 14th from 6:30pm to 9:30pm.

The BC Economic Development Association (BCEDA) is a strong supporter of the Government of British Columbia's effort to encourage economic activity throughout the province. The Province's support for economic development and BCEDA has been appreciated and demonstrated with the participation in the various partnerships and programs that we have collaborated on.

Thirty five years ago, BCEDA was formed with only six members. Today, BCEDA has grown to 450 members including Economic Development Staff, Mayors, Chiefs, Councillors, Senior Government Officials, and more who are working together to grow local economies. The Association is focused on increasing awareness of the importance of local economic development and supporting initiatives that strengthen and diversify local economies through the retention of existing businesses or the attraction of new industry.

The Association looks forward to the confirmation of your availability to attend and speak at this annual event.

Yours Sincerely,

Progress made on wildfires in the Cariboo

WILLIAMS LAKE – BC Wildfire Service crews are continuing their efforts to suppress a wildfire burning three kilometres south of the Nazko community. It is now 60-per-cent contained and is expected to be fully contained by tonight if the weather continues to co-operate.

The Nazko fire was mapped on April 10 at 398 hectares. Sixty-five firefighters, with the support of heavy equipment and a helicopter, are on site today. It's been determined that the Nazko fire was caused by industrial activity, with strong winds contributing to its spread.

Another wildfire in the Cariboo Fire Centre, about 15 kilometres southeast of 70 Mile House near the Bonaparte River recreation site, is also suspected to be human-caused. Thirty-four firefighters are currently working on this fire, with the support of one helicopter. The fire spread into nearby timber on Monday evening and it is now estimated to cover 26 hectares.

Since April 1, the Cariboo Fire Centre has responded to 24 wildfires. All of these fires have been human-caused and three were specifically due to illegal open burning. The BC Wildfire Service reminds the public that Category 2 and 3 open fires have been prohibited since April 4, 2016 throughout the Cariboo Fire Centre. This means that all open burning other than campfires is prohibited.

To report a wildfire, please call 1 800 663-5555 toll-free or *5555 on a cellphone.

Up-to-date information on burning restrictions and current wildfire activity can be obtained online at <http://www.bcwildfire.ca> or by calling 1 888 3-FOREST.

INFORMATION BULLETIN

For Immediate Release
[release number]
April 1, 2016

Ministry of Forests, Lands and Natural Resource Operations
BC Wildfire Service

Public urged to use caution with outdoor burning

PRINCE GEORGE – With this weekend's weather forecast calling for increased wind activity starting tonight and continuing through Saturday, the BC Wildfire Service is encouraging members of the public to exercise caution with any outdoor burning.

Anyone wishing to light an open fire must watch for changing weather conditions and follow all burning regulations to help reduce the number of preventable wildfires.

People planning to conduct an open burn should take the following precautions:

- Ensure that enough people, water and tools are on hand to control the fire and prevent it from escaping.
- Do not burn during windy conditions. Weather conditions can change quickly and the wind may carry embers to other combustible material and start new fires.
- Create a fireguard at least one metre around the planned fire site by clearing away twigs, grass, leaves and other combustible material.
- If you are planning a large burn, consider conducting smaller burns around the perimeter beforehand to create a fuel break and help prevent the fire from spreading beyond its intended size. Each of these fires should be kept small and must be completely extinguished before starting a new fire.
- Never leave a fire unattended.
- Make sure that your fire is completely extinguished and the ashes are cold to touch before you leave the area for any length of time.

Before lighting any fire, people should check with their local fire department, municipality and regional district to find out if any open burning restrictions or bylaws are in effect.

Anyone planning to do any large-scale industrial burning or conduct a grass burn larger than 0.2 Hectares (Category 3 fires) must obtain a burn registration number ahead of time by calling 1 888 797-1717.

If a fire escapes, the person responsible may be held liable for fire suppression costs and damages. It is the responsibility of the individual to ensure that they are burning in a safe, responsible manner that is in accordance with current restrictions.

Up-to-date information on burning restrictions and current wildfire activity can be obtained by calling 1888 3-FOREST or is available online at <http://www.bcwildfire.ca>

RE: INVITATION TO SPEAK – CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF TRANSPORTATION ENGINEERS ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Premier Clark,

As British Columbia's Premier and the MLA for Westside-Kelowna, I am pleased to inform you that the Canadian Institute of Transportation Engineers (CITE) will be hosting our Annual Meeting and Conference in Kelowna, BC from June 5th to 8th, 2016 (<http://www.cite7.org/Kelowna2016/index.php>). CITE is composed of over 2,000 professional transportation engineers, planners, technologists and students across Canada. The Canadian District is an integral part of the Institute of Transportation Engineers (ITE), which consists of transportation professionals in more than 70 countries who are responsible for the safe and efficient movement of people and goods on streets, highways and transit systems around the world.

We expect to host between 200-300 guests representing provincial and municipal governments, consultants, industry, academics, and students from across Canada and beyond. The main conference activities will be held at the Delta Grand Okanagan Hotel and we expect to include a variety of local attractions, sites, and projects in our program. The CITE Conference has been held successfully for each of the last 40 years and we are excited to bring it to the Okanagan for the first time. It will be an excellent opportunity to showcase our region and the great work of our BC based transportation professionals.

On behalf of the Local Arrangements Committee, I would like to formally invite you to address the conference delegates during our plenary session over lunch on Monday June 6th, 2016 at the Delta Grand. This offers you an opportunity to highlight initiatives, projects, and accomplishments – in particular that are related to transportation and are of relevance to our conference theme. While our program is yet to be confirmed, this plenary session will typically take place between 12:20-1:00pm that day. Often this would be followed by a short Q&A session.

The theme of our conference is "Connecting Lifestyles" and our goal is to explore how transportation contributes to connecting our communities; from the social benefit of bringing diverse people together, to the links between work and leisure, and how our region connects to the economic opportunities of the rest of the world. Some potential topics could include:

News Alert: Guns and Gangs Strategy Expansion Announced

To combat gang violence, Premier Clark has announced that additional police teams and prosecutors will be on the ground and new curbs on gang crime and illegal guns will soon be in place. These are part of a dozen new and expanded initiatives of $23 million-plus boost to B.C.'s Guns and Gangs Strategy.

Key Messages:

- Last week we announced a significant redeployment of resources to areas of the province that needed it most to combat rising gun violence and gang activities.
- Today, across the province we are strengthening our strategies and our front line capacities to get guns off the streets, put gang members in prison, and increase efforts to make young people know that gang life is a dead end.
- To bolster public safety in communities that have seen spikes in violent gang activity such as Williams Lake and Surrey, a three-pillar approach will focus on:
 1. Supporting effective enforcement and prosecution;
 2. Furthering community safety and public engagement – including a firearm amnesty program and $450,000 to support Crime Stoppers' Cash for Tip Illegal Firearms line; and
 3. Expanding laws and sanctions targeting illegal guns and gang violence, profits and property – including examining ways to restrict gang members and drug traffickers' access to vehicles and other tools of crime.
- In addition, we will seek access to long-term and sustainable funding from the federal government plus flexibility to deploy it in support of provincial and municipal policing, prevention and outreach.
- This investment will build on gains made under our Gangs and Gun Strategy and will quickly and effectively counter both the illegal gunplay and its roots.
- People should have the right to feel safe in their own communities and throughout British Columbia.
- We're sending a strong message to gang members – If you commit crimes you will be caught, will go to prison or you'll wind-up dead.

NEWS RELEASE

Public urged to help protect communities from wildfires

KAMLOOPS - Forests, Lands and Natural Resource Operations Minister Steve Thomson is urging all British Columbians to do their part this year to help prevent wildfires and reduce fire risks, including using FireSmart principles to help protect homes and communities.

Many parts of British Columbia are experiencing unseasonably warm and dry conditions this spring. BC Wildfire Service crews have responded to 59 wildfires since April 1, 2016, almost all of which were caused by people.

Fire prevention is a shared responsibility of the B.C. government, local governments, industry, stakeholders and individuals. Wildfires caused by people unnecessarily divert firefighting crews and resources from naturally occurring fires.

Homeowners are encouraged to safeguard their properties from wildfire threats by using FireSmart principles. By reducing the amount of flammable material around their homes and providing more open space where firefighters can work, private property owners can help slow the spread of an approaching wildfire.

The recently updated FireSmart Homeowner's Manual was developed to help people reduce the risk of personal property damage due to wildfires. It contains lots of fire prevention tips and is available online at:
<http://bit.ly/1RQXFzd>

The B.C. government thanks the public for its ongoing assistance in preventing and reporting wildfires. Anyone who spots a wildfire, unattended campfire or burning violation should immediately call *5555 on a cellphone or 1 800 663-5555 toll-free.

Up-to-date information about current wildfire activity and burning restrictions is available online at: <http://www.bcwildfire.ca>

Quote:

Minister of Forests, Lands and Natural Resource Operations Steve Thomson

"Individual British Columbians play a vital role in wildfire prevention and in protecting their communities from wildfire damage. I encourage everyone to do their part by using fire responsibly, following the rules and working with their neighbours to FireSmart their properties."

Quick Facts:

* Anyone found in contravention of an open fire prohibition may be issued a ticket for $1,150 or, if convicted in court, be fined up to $100,000 and sentenced to one year in jail. If the contravention causes or contributes to a wildfire, the person responsible may be subject to a penalty of up to $10,000 and be ordered to pay all firefighting and associated costs.

* Many wildfire-related fines were increased on April 1, 2016. Details are available online at:

Subject: FW: Wording of TPP motion passed

Hi Carter,

Below is the motion that was passed. It is an amalgamation from their breakout groups of the various resolutions put forward on TPP. Most notably is part E.

BE IT RESOLVED THAT the NDP demand that the Liberal government renegotiate the TPP and create a new agreement that protects end-to-end supply management and our jobs and is in the best interest of Canadians.

WHEREAS the TPP confirms sweeping new powers on transnational investors, with rights to sue governments in closed tribunals for any laws, regulations, court decisions or actions which fail to meet their "expectations" as investors; and WHEREAS the TPP will lead to massive job loss in the manufacturing sector.

A. BE IT RESOLVED THAT the NDP begin the following initiatives regarding the TPP:

B. Request the Parliamentary Budget Officer to conduct a comprehensive impact analysis of the TPP Agreement on the economy, health, environment, labour rights, intellectual property rights, culture and sovereignty.

C. Request the Parliamentary Budget Officer to hold public hearings, including consultations with First Nations and Indigenous Communities.

D. That the Parliamentary Officer's report be made public prior to debate in parliament regarding ratification of the TPP.

E. Organize Canada wide opposition to the ratification of the TPP with the CLC and other like-minded groups and organizations.
