Clark without a doubt YOU ARE THE MOST DISGUSTING EXCUSE FOR A PREMIER WE HAVE EVER HAD. And as far as a human being you lack everything that is right. I can't wait to vote your ass out. Imagine, YOU were partly responsible for that poor individual committing suicide. Do you ever think of anyone except Christy? If you had anything going for you at all in the least, you would GET THE HELL OUT AND STEP DOWN. You are a bloody disgrace.

Just another example of the pathetic leadership this province has endured for the last liberal (Gordo and Chrisy) years of power. It all points to the values and lack of concern that the liberal party has become... You do not work for the majority just your chosen few.... again PATHETIC

Subject: Deplorable behaviour of civil servants in health firing scandal

Ms. Premier,

Of course you were no where to be found yesterday to be a leader and take responsibility for this deplorable and despicable behaviour where government employees acted outside of acceptable behaviour resulting in the imputing of the reputation of Roderick MacIsaac, resulting in him taking his own life.

The buck does stop at your desk. It is your government that had to be dragged kicking and screaming to actually be transparent and get on with an investigation so that the citizens of this province could actually know what transpired.

Apparently, you have a level of rhetorical values that you trot out for interviews, but don't actually believe in and follow. How do you square your behaviour with the following quotes? Those values appear to guide you until the political need to get reelected takes priority. You should be ashamed of yourself.

From the Vancouver Sun April 27, 2013 Jonathan Fowlie

"Christy Clark, a politician first"

<http://www.vancouversun.com/news/Christy+Clark+politician+first/8303089/story.html>

"My mother was a marriage and family therapist and she was an artist and she believed in fulfilling lives for all of her children, and for herself and my father was a teacher" she said.

"They raised me to believe in being careful with money on the fiscal side but also to be fair, that you should be kind and you should look after people", she added.

"I was raised with those kind of Anglican values so we should all do what we can to try to look after everybody else. That's sort of what guides me".

Subject: Your role in the MOH Fiasco

Dear Ms. Clark:

I had for the first time doubts about voting in this provincial election. You have changed that. How? Here are a couple of quotes from Vaughn Palmer's column that summarized some of Mr. Chalk's findings into the stunning fiasco of the Health Ministry employee firings findings:

Both times the premier misled the house, overstating the nature and extent of the McNeil review.

But let's be very clear that if Christy Clark had her way back in the fall of 2014, this airing of the facts never would have happened.

This says to me, very clearly, that you are a bare faced liar. You misled the people of BC about the mandate of Ms. McNeil's investigation.

This also says very clearly that you never were interested in seeing the right thing done, just the most politically expedient - for you and your government.

There is another aspect to this that I find highly problematic: s.22

Mr. MacIsaac went on to commit suicide. You mislead the House and the people of BC about the scope and mandate of an investigation about it. s.22 carry on without apparent consequences. Still, Ms. Clark, you went about trying to dodge responsibility, and will no doubt carry on in hopes that this tragic fiasco doesn't cost you the election. You must really love power, to so shamelessly discredit yourself.

Thank you for at least motivating me to vote in this election.

Subject: Please take responsible action with provincial employees

Ms. Clarke--Please step up and take responsible action against those provincial employees involved in identifying incorrect information regarding violation of B.C. Privacy Act by researchers. This resulted in one of three researchers committing suicide. An apology was long overdue before it was even given and provincial employees have never been held accountable, I.e. Should be fired with no severance pay. Someone within the provincial government must be held accountable!

Thank you.
