Hi Sheena, hope you're well!
Am a producer with bbg tv.
Know the premier is in Ottawa today and Washington the rest of the week...wondering if he has time to pop by one of our cameras in either city for a quick 6 minute interview on where BC is headed, softwood lumber, etc.
Our Ottawa camera is right across the street from parliament hill, and our Washington camera is also pretty conveniently located.

Let me know if there's any window of opportunity! Thanks, Michael

Hi Sheena,

I'm the Globe and Mail's Washington correspondent, and wondering if the Premier will have time for an interview with me when he's here tomorrow.

It would be great to get a sense from him of how his meetings here go, and what he hears from the people he's speaking with.

Cheers,

Adrian

Hi Sheena, Paul Vieira from The Wall Street Journal.
First, congrats on a new job and road ahead. Very exciting times.
I will be writing a story about Pacific Northwest LNG deciding to not proceed with its project. Was wondering if the Premier had any comment on this. The previous Liberal government had wanted LNG to be a focal point of economic growth.
Does this decision mark a setback for province? Did Mr. Horgan try to get Petronas et to change their minds?
I am reachable via email, it's best way to reach me today, paul.vieira@wsj.com

Would like to arrange for an interview with Premier Horgan today please about the new federally funded Indigenous advisory and monitoring committee for the Kinder Morgan Expansion pipeline, which was announced yesterday.

Premier Horgan previously said he opposed the Kinder Morgan expansion pipeline and said he'd use every tool available to him including consultation with First Nations along the pipeline route. I'm given to understand as well that the new committee informed the previous provincial government of their initiative by CCng former BC premier Christy Clark in their initial letter to the prime minister about it.

I'd like to ask Premier Horgan some questions about this development please.

Earlier is better for me but I can be flexible.

I won't take long.

My number is s.22

Michele from Saanich Voice Online here. We are doing a story on BC's new Ag Minister and I would love to include a quote from John on why Lana. It doesn't have to be profound but I am thinking that it would be nice to include the new Premier's voice in the article.

The question simply is, "Why was Lana Popham the best choice for Minister of Agriculture."

Can you tell me who I would shoot a note to? I'm on deadline for tomorrow.

They made it clear it was not a joint availability. I put this to Sage but you should have input as well. I am looking for direction on media involvement in PG.

Like I said this will be much more flushed out tomorrow.

Thanks!

Hi all,

Below is an extremely rough overview of Monday. I just followed up with everyone working on this and it looks like most details should be coming together tonight and early tomorrow.

Flight times should be confirmed and sent to me this evening. I will circulate those as soon as I receive them.

I will send a much fuller itin tomorrow and A final one on Sunday. If you have any questions please let me know. I will be available through the weekend.

Thanks Everyone,

Jarrett

We also should put out our own advisory today highlighting that John and the cabinet ministers will be going to Prince George after.

I think John should do this on Tuesday. It would be a great follow up in a safe environment with Zussman.

I'm hosting on the coast this week in Vancouver. Would be great to have the Premier on tomorrow or Tuesday to talk about fires, help from the federal government and the first two weeks in office.

Hey,

News 1130 doesn't have a reporter in Williams Lake and because they have no gallery reporter, they've missed stuff here. Thoughts on adding them to the callbacks for tomorrow?
