ADVICE TO MINISTER: DRAFT

Lines and possible statement on Fair Wage Commission/ $15 Min Wage.

-We are still committed to a $15/ hour minimum wage

-The story that came out yesterday wasn't a surprise, it's been known for some time.

-This is a minority government and working with other parties means compromising sometimes while holding true to your values. I think that's what people expect of their leaders.

-We're committed a to $15/ hour minimum wage, and the Fair Wage Commission is going to get us there.

"We are still committed to a $15/ hour minimum wage to make life better for people in BC. However, we are a minority government and working with other parties means compromising sometimes while holding true to your values. I think that's what people expect of their leaders. We're committed to a $15/ hour minimum wage, and the Fair Wage Commission is going to get us there."

 note: Charlie Cho at CBC would likely be fine taking a statement from the minister.

Hi Tara,

Apologies on the slow response. I believe this is fine. Is the premier's office usually notified about what is going out with the signature on it before it goes out?

Our correspondence department can send you a copy of the auto-pen signature, unless you need the original version, which we could arrange.

Cheers,

Hi Sage,
Hope the morning is going well for you.

In the past we (GCPE Graphic Communications) have kept a vector version of the premiers signature (along with the ministers signatures) to use for official graphic materials (that require a signature) that we design. From time to time they require a vector illustration of the Premier's signature. (Materials such as official certificates, premiers awards certificates, strategic plans, MOUs or documents that contains a message from the premier that need to include the premier's signature.)

Once we get a picture (or a piece of paper) with the premier's signature, we then scan and turn it into a vector eps file so it prints crystal clear at any size.

We keep the vector eps version of the signatures on a locked down secure server so no one has access to it except our small team here.

We only include a signature if it has been requested and approved by GCPE executive.

There are multiple materials through the year that require the premier's signature and if we are going to print we include the vector eps version of his signature so it looks like he actually signed it and it gets printed professionally.

The first product this year (that requires the premiers signature) is the numerous regional and provincial certificates for the upcoming Premier's Awards. These certificates will need to go to print within the next few weeks.

Call me if you have any questions.

Hi Tara,

Thanks for your patience on this. We're leery of letting the Premier's signature out of this office. So far we've kept it here and in Correspondence.

What is the quantity and the deadline of the product? Are you framing them before hand? We might be able to use the auto pen, which is more crisp.

Thanks,

Sage

Hi Sage,

If you were able to send me a piece of blank paper with Johns signature on it, I can scan it and make it into an electronic vector file.

Or, he could sign a piece of blank paper and then you could take a closeup photo of it with your iPhone (do not zoom in) - and then email me the photo. They will most likely work too.

If you have any questions, call me.

Hi there,
Another (hopefully) little thing I'm hoping you can help with...
We need the Premier's e-signature for the Premier's Awards certificates that are currently being worked on by your colleague (not sure if you're even in the same building).
Would you be able to get access to that e-signature for this purpose?
Thanks,
Zac

Hi Zac, the draft certificates have gone to our graphic designer at GCPE. I just received an email from her letting me know that they do not have an electronic signature on file, and that we will need to source that for them.

Are you able to help with that?

Thanks,

Hi Corinna and Sean.

Please see details below from Postmedia on the Raise a Reader campaign ads, and sample ads from the past couple years attached for reference.

They are hoping for one ad for MRF (to run in the Van Sun Sept 19) and one ad for PJH (to run Sept 21 – Raise a Reader Day)

Please let me know if there is anything more you need in order to put this forward. Once the decision is made to proceed, we need to schedule times for a photographer to meet them at the VPO. Alternately we can take photos and provide them.

She is hoping for a decision back by Friday on what route we'd like to take.

Thanks for the quick chat Emily.

RAR Profile Ad:

The Profile Ad is to promote the BC Government's association and support of the literacy community through the Vancouver Sun Raise-a-Reader campaign. Others who are featured in their own profile ad: Vancouver Mayor Robertson, Canucks and our own Editorial team (Harold Munro and Val Casselton).

Print Ad Run Dates:

Tues. Sept 19

Thurs. Sept 21

Photoshoot:

Must be done by Sept 12 (very latest) with prompt approval on the ad. Final approval must be done by Sept 15.

RAR usually provides a photographer to take the Premier and Minister's photos at the Canada Place gov't office. Kids were also provided by the office staff or I can bring a couple – so we can do that again (option #1). OR you can provide me the photo to use (using similar style as what the ad required)

Also as mentioned, we'd like to get exclusivity back on the BC Gov't Donation (if that's the case this year). Last year in my absence, it sounds like this was missed. Vancouver Sun should be releasing the gov't donation FIRST via print article or social media channels for Sept 21, which is Raise-a-Reader Day. I'll also let you know what other opportunities there are to make the announcement.

I'm s.22 . And unfortunately the only person managing this program so you'll have to advise me your plan by Friday.

Thanks.

Hey Jen – usu budget is on a Tues, which usu is a morning QP, so the Minister rises early. This time it is afternoon QP, hence the late rise.

Hi David,

I have a quick question about the timing around the budget lockup: Is there a reason the minister is not rising in the house until 3pm? I seem to remember it being earlier in the past (though it's been a few years, so I may be wrong).

Tweets for this morning for FNLG. I'll send along more tweets as more photos materialize.

For FB, I'll send you some similar copy along with the clip from PJH's opening remarks when we have it, hopefully very early this afternoon.

TWEET 1 – Goes with any of the photos 1-4, selected because they reflect “gathering”. The one where he's receiving a feather, I don't entirely know the story with, but I wouldn't just assume it was a welcome specifically to the territory, so I wouldn't tweet this one on its own, only together with other “gathering” photos. Tweet this one first.

We gather for #FNLG2017 on the traditional territories of the Musqueam, Tsleil-Waututh and Squamish First Nations.

TWEET 2 – Pair with Photo 5 or 6, these were from this morning.

The B.C. Cabinet and First Nations Leaders' Gathering begins. I look forward to the meetings we will have over these two days. #FNLG2017

It is all on background. I was hoping to speak to John in the next few weeks, I am worried that if we wait until in September he will get too busy. It can be in whatever setting he wants. I will send you the formal blurb we have been sending people. I need about an hour with Geoff. Premier will be hopefully a few hour or two hour sessions if he can afford the time.

My colleague Rob Shaw and I are writing a book about the last few years in B.C. politics, and we were hoping to schedule some time to chat with you.

The book will cover the HST, Christy Clark's leadership, the recent election, and the confidence vote that led to the new NDP government. So far, Clark, John Horgan, Andrew Weaver and numerous other politicians, staff and political officials have agreed to participate in interviews.

Your interview would be on background, which means we would not be quoting what you say by name. We are interested in speaking to you about the time period between xxxxx.

The book won't come out until March, but the manuscript needs to be completed by October

That means we need to get the substantive interviews done in August and early September.

Hopefully, you could schedule aside some time for us in the coming days over the phone. We'd likely need 30-60 minutes, with the possibility of additional questions/clarifications in the future.

Hi Robyn,

I wonder if MCJ has some time for a few phone interviews with media, in her role as deputy premier, ahead of the throne and budget. So far, I have two requests: Rob Shaw and Dirk Meissner. They'd like 5-10 mins each today or tomorrow to talk about what's expected in the next week. I have some general messaging I can pass on to you in advance. Please let me know if there are some times that could work.

Deadline Tuesday, Sept. 5 at noon

Request

Manitoba's NDP government introduced legislation to regulate third-party overseas recruiters for international students in 2013. I have talked to international students studying in both private and public colleges in BC who feel that they have been grossly overcharged in agent fees for things like VISA applications, and a few who feel they have been outright defrauded by some agents. Many such agents are often contracted by public colleges in B.C. if they recruit an international student to their campus. Is the new government examining or planning any regulation of the use of third-party recruiting agents by public or private post-secondary institutions in B.C.?

And, on a related note, as I understand, domestic tuition fees are restricted to rises of 2% per year. There is no such restriction on international student tuition fees. Is AVED examining or planning any regulation of international student tuition fees in B.C.?

Recommendation

Hi Stuart; I can confirm that annual tuition increases for domestic students at public post-secondary institutions in British Columbia have been capped at 2% since September 2005. International tuition free increases are at the discretion of individual colleges, institutes and universities.

Regarding any future policy, in general, below is a statement that you can attribute to Melanie Mark, Minister of Advanced Education, Skills and Training:

“A strategic and managed two-way flow of students, educators and ideas between our province and other countries contributes to diversity, innovation and global awareness. The rapid increase in the number of international students over the past few years under the previous government has created a complex situation. In the coming weeks and months, I’m going to be looking at all of the pressure points in the post-secondary education system, examining other jurisdictions and speaking with students, institutions and educators so we can move forward and ensure all students in B.C. are getting the best education and training possible.”

Hello -

Government (all Ministries) has received an FOI request for the following records.

A copy of the browser Internet history for political staff in the Minister's/Premier's office (Date range: July 18, 2017 – July 31, 2017)

In the attached document, you will find instructions for how to create and retain the requested records in Internet Explorer, Google Chrome and Firefox. If you use any other browsers, please create and retain the requested records in that browser as well.

We recognize that there could be personal privacy concerns related to the disclosure of this information and the processing of this access request. Given those privacy concerns, we have decided that it would be appropriate for each employee to retain the requested records relating to themselves in their own office for a period of time rather than following the typical process of forwarding the responsive records to Information Access Operations for processing. As such, you are not required at this time to send the requested records to Information Access Operations. However, you must create and retain the requested records that relate to you in a secure location and await further instruction from our office.

We will only ask you to forward the requested records to our office if and when it is required to comply with the requirements of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act. It may not be necessary for us to make such a request. Nevertheless, there is a legal requirement for the Ministry to create the requested records at this time and to retain them for the purposes of processing the access request, including dealing with a potential request that the Information and Privacy Commissioner review the Ministry's ultimate response to the request. In addition, those records must be retained in order to comply with the requirements of the Information Management Act.

I have been designated as the single point of contact for these requests so feel free to reach out with any questions you may have.

Please send your completed call for records responses direct to my inbox at my contact information below.

Hi Sheena & Jen,

I wanted to put in this request for interview with the Premier re: the BC Court of Appeal judgement that came down last week.

When Premier Horgan was Opposition Leader he made a series of comments re: the BC Supreme Court ruling, a ruling that has now been rebuked by the higher court in some very strong terms.

When speaking about social workers and MCFD, Horgan then said:

"The government chose to investigate the mother and disregard her concerns. That's outrageous."

"If they don't listen to the courts, that certainly means they are not listening to the people as well. They weren't listening to the mother on this case and a young child had her life ruined forever."

We wanted to know what he thinks now.

Does he think he was too quick to cast judgement on this case?

In particular, one MCFD employee had his name dragged through the mud.

Thanks,

Charmaine

Hi Rick, as discussed, one draft layout suggests PJH is there and the other not.

The Community in public consultations requested at the Apology at legislature that it be unanimous and delivered by a Premier.

The Community preference would be the highest ranking Provincial representative for the monument, Premier first and Minister James (MLA and better yet, a Deputy Premier) a very close second. I know Thomas wanted Minister Popham and Minister Fleming to attend too. I also know MLA Weaver liked this initiative and advised the public service that Thomas Chan be picked for the LIAC (Legacy Initiative Advisory Council).

In all past 5 monuments (Cumberland, Kelowna, Ashcroft, Kamloops, Barkerville) the local MLA/Minister has been key and there was always a Mayor and/or council folks.

We always asked for a FN blessing and FN's were notified as per MARR requirements. Chief Thomas of Esquimalt said he will arrange a presentation blessing for Victoria. Howard Grant and Don Bain (FNS and Union of BC Chiefs) are LIAC members and support this. Don Bain was recommended by then MLA Judy Kwan. They (Howard and Don) won't attend but Chief Thomas likely will or his representative elder.

Just wanted to follow up with you in regards to the request for a premier's message for the B.C. Oil and Gas Report magazine. We head to layout tomorrow, so please let me know if Premier Horgan is interested in submitting a message for this issue. I can give you until next week, but I would need a confirmation from your offices to let layout know to hold the page.

Can you rewrite the following sentence & resend?

In B.C., we are fortunate to have many premier natural gas plays and a growing interest in liquids and oil exploration.

Plays repeats from the previous paragraph and premier sounds weird when the statement comes from the Premier.

I think we can get away with an FYI.

As well, any word on whether there will be an event coordinator there to provide support, as well as a photographer/videographer?

This being the first Labour Day for the new Labour Minister and anticipated to be a very large, friendly audience, it would be really beneficial to have these support mechanisms in place.

It's Labour Day and we have the first NDP Labour Minister alongside the Premier. The big Vancouver labour rally was cancelled and all the members are attending this one. Federal MPs and Cdn Labour Minister also attending.

The host organizer is not putting out a MA, but amenable to media attending.

Hi David,

As (briefly) discussed this morning, here's some more information about the message from the Premier we need your help with. It's for oil and gas report magazine.

Attached are examples from prior years – which are helpful for length, but we will need to update the message for the new government. The publisher has provided very general guidance below.

Deadline for submission is end of this week (Friday, Sep 1). The Premier's office (via Jen Holmwood) will have final approval of copy and submit it to the publisher.

Happy to take a look at a draft if that is helpful.

Thanks,
Cara

I have attached some examples of past messages from former premier Christy Clark so you can get a better example of what we've published in the past. Basically they are just outlooks on what the government is doing in terms of oil and gas development. Since Premier Horgan is new, we think this would be a wonderful opportunity.

The deadline is on August 25 as we head to layout on the 29th. Let me know if you have any other questions, as well as if the premier is interested in this opportunity.

Hi Susan – I wanted to provide you with an update on the issue we spoke about yesterday.

Staff at EMBC continue to work with the City to determine eligible costs under Disaster Financial Assistance (DFA), however DFA cannot be used for enhancements or mitigative works. There are no other viable options from our program areas.

I spoke with Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing (MAH) infrastructure staff as well as the UBCM's General Manager about the Strategic Priorities Fund to which the City applied for a grant for this work (the program is jointly administered by MAH and UBCM). Staff confirmed they are in receipt of an application from the City but will not be in a position to make decisions/announcements related to this program until the Spring 2018.

Attached please find a response that we propose sending to the City referring the City to MAH that has responsibility for community infrastructure. Please let me know if you're comfortable with us sending this response.

Honourable Mr. John Horgan,

The City of Greenwood had declared a State of Emergency in the spring due to flooding. The highway section was partially fixed under the Emergency program. The program only covered the provincial highway not the city street. The City street is still in an Emergency Situation. We cannot afford our portion of the recovery program. We are desperate for assistance. We did apply for the Strategic Priority Fund but they will not look at the grants until late 2017 or early 2018. Our concern at this time is that if we do not fix the street and replace the culvert before spring, we will have another disaster and it will take out the highway and flood streets, homes and businesses. Leaving this until spring will only increase costs to the City of Greenwood, residents, businesses and the Province. Dealing with constant sandbagging on this street only adds to the cost.

This winter we will have residents trapped in their homes because we will not be able to snow plow in this area. Please see attached the attached letter and photographs. This is the second letter have sent out asking for assistance. We have not received any response.

An Engineering letter will also be forwarded to you regarding the Emergency in the City of Greenwood.

This is URGENT. Can you please have someone phone me at 250-444-2403

I checked back in with the Minister but he's in meetings all morning. They may have a statement for you, though I know that's not the best radio!

Sorry it didn't work out this time.

Hi Lisa,

Minister Robinson will be doing a media availability at 12:15 today at the Vancouver Cabinet Office at Canada place on the CBC story that came out on the Port Mann Bridge overspending.

She is briefed and ready to go. Since it is extremely short notice, I'm hoping you can call media in Vancouver to inform them of the availability asap. It is a bit last minute so no advisory has gone out. Marielle Tounsi will be there staffing.

Draft lines/ info for the minister and for your info are attached.

That is fantastic!! Thank you. Are you fine if I use the attached release you sent? I can put it in past tense as this will be printed in LacrosseTalk in the next week and circulated shortly after to the lacrosse community. I can send the copy back to you for approval if you wish.

This will show just how much of a lacrosse fan Mr. Horgan is. Please offer the photographer's name for photo credit.

When do you expect you can forward the photo today.

Hi Jen,
Absolutely! I would hope to get an hour of the Premier's time and we would like to do the segment with him outside on the street with the people.
Our new correspondent is from out west, and wants to take this opportunity to introduce Premier Horgan to the rest of Canada. Questions would be along the lines of: What do you want people to know about you? How does it feel being Premier of BC etc.
Some jokes for sure, but as always, respectful in nature.
It would be great to have Trent arrive at the Premier's office and meet up with him there, then move out to a populated street.
Could you recommend a location that would best serve this?
Thank you!

Hey – are you able to check in with Lele to see how much Chinese media coverage we got on the throne/budget? Trying to determine if it's worthwhile for a Chinese media roundtable with the premier this week.

Hi Kate and Sage,

Just wondering if we should try to do some kind of media thing in Vancouver while the Premier is there for 2/3 of the day Friday. I know that he will be here a lot so perhaps we could try to do something. If you want I can try to come up with a few suggestions.

Thanks

Hi,

I can confirm that the participants with the Premier at the event yesterday were community member and veteran Victor Wong and Thomas Chan, President of the Dart Coon Club.

Are you able to call The House back on this? I'm in lockup all day.

Suggest something like:

-The Premier found out with the other premiers two weeks ago...

And then similar to our Washington trip message:

-We want to talk about things that matter to British Columbians: softwood, opioid crisis, housing, etc

Hi,

This weekend on The House we interviewed Natan Obed, President of the ITK, who told us that he knew nothing about the meeting until the press release came out. He also told us that there are more things to discuss than just environmentally friendly economic development.

I am wondering if Premier Horgan was made aware of the meeting in advance of the press release?
And also if there are other matters like housing, suicide prevention, etc, that he would like discussed?

Thanks, Paul

Good Morning Sheena & Jen,

Happy Throne Speech Day!! (Is that a greeting? If it's not, let's make it one!)

I know it's a busy day for everyone, but we needed a comment re: a recent fundraiser with the Premier and Minister Sims.

Also included in convicted gun wielder Maninder Gill.

We are certain Minister Sims knows who Maninder Gill is. Does Premier Horgan?

Also, what are the details of this fundraiser? I understand it was held at Kulwant Dhesi's home. Is this the same Kulwant Dhesi of Dhesi Enterprises (long-time NDP donor)?

Thanks,

Charmaine

Timing issue: We can't send this to any of the outlets until after the Throne Speech is underway... so that means it can't go out before 2:15 pm or whenever we hit send on the News Release.

The article only talks about the three priorities -- not the government reforms. We can add this in if we want to, but I think it stands OK on its own. Leave it to the two of you to add if we want to include -- I'll be running around delivering speech copies in the morning, so won't be able to do any line edits.

Hi Sheena and Jen,

We know today is really difficult for a TV interview. Would you like to give us a phone interview or written statement from the Premier?

Now that you may have seen our story, we are interested in knowing if the overspending and acceleration money spent to open the bridge before the 2013 election is going to be investigated in any way. Other critics have suggested the timing is suspicious and we would like your thoughts.

Hi Ryan,

I just spoke with Derrick about this. The Premier isn't available to do this tomorrow and I've told the producer you'll follow up about a response from the minister for tomorrow. Robb Gibbs in GCPE will be sending over some updated message notes on this as well.

Let me know if you have any questions,

Hi Sheena,

Hope all is well. I'm following up on Natalie's request for an interview with the Premier tomorrow once our Port Mann story is finally published.

We have Andrew Weaver coming in here (Vancouver) at 10:30.

I understand from Richard that Mr. Horgan will be in Vancouver too. Is that correct and could you please scrape together some time for us? We could go wherever he is. His thoughts would be very pertinent.

Merci,

Budget Update 2017 includes more than half a billion dollars in new spending related to addressing the wildfires – while investing in making life affordable, improving services for people, and creating good jobs – all while still maintaining a balance.

The Minister's presentation during the Technical Briefing noted the following highlights:

Wildfire response

- $506 million in direct wildfire fighting costs.
- $100 million provided to the Canadian Red Cross to support people and communities impacted by wildfires.
- $15 million in new capital funding invested in wildfire infrastructure across the province.
- $140 million invested for wildfire prevention and habitat restoration.

Notes:

- FLNR's budget for Fire Management was increased from $63M to $506M
- New capital funding will include buildings, trailers and air tanker bases at up to 10 wildfire bases

There is also an information box on Wildfire Management on page 55 of the budget that gives some details of the response.

Hi Jen,
I am so sorry, we have had to do a last minute change in plans and won't be coming to Victoria for Tuesday. I hate it when that happens. Would it be possible to reschedule in a few weeks time?
Please express my apologies to Premier Horgan.
Thank you!

Can you confirm John Horgan is meeting tomorrow with Namgis to discuss their concerns over fish farms?

The reason I ask is that a press release went out by indigenous anti fish farm activists who say the meeting is happening tomorrow but in the meantime today they either are or are planning to occupy NDP constituency offices, including David Eby's.

Here's the release:

Cleansing Our Waters Solidarity Occupation

Hi Jen,
Absolutely! I would hope to get an hour of the Premier's time and we would like to do the segment with him outside on the street with the people.
Our new correspondent is from out west, and wants to take this opportunity to introduce Premier Horgan to the rest of Canada. Questions would be along the lines of: What do you want people to know about you? How does it feel being Premier of BC etc.
Some jokes for sure, but as always, respectful in nature.
It would be great to have Trent arrive at the Premier's office and meet up with him there, then move out to a populated street.
Could you recommend a location that would best serve this?
Thank you!

Jessica

Here is the quote, from Minister of State for Childcare Katrina Chen:

“We’re committed to affordable childcare and we’re determined to get it done. The Greens have different ideas about how to get there, but we share the same goals. What’s most important is that parents are in crisis and we’re going to fix the problem. We’re already consulting on our implementation plan, getting ready for the February budget. We’re know we’re not going to agree on everything with the Greens, but we have a solid working relationship and our end goal is the same: making life better for people. Our agreement is working well and producing results.”

Hi Jen. Comments on this are welcome.

The Confidence and Supply Agreement developed by our two parties lays out consultation processes, and this Consultation Committee is a key part of that process.

The Committee has three representatives from each of the Green Caucus and the Government, and meets regularly to consult on policy initiatives in the Confidence and Supply Agreement.

The Committee is a forum for both parties to uphold the Agreement's principle of "good faith and no surprises".

Budget update aims to make life more affordable

- By B.C. Finance Minister Carole James

On Monday, I tabled my first budget update as the province's finance minister. It's a budget update that carves a path toward economic growth by investing in our greatest resource: people.

Since I was elected in 2005, I've seen the effects of government choices that didn't focus on making people's lives better. I've heard from families struggling, individuals denied supports and services when they need them, and businesses unable find enough staff because people don't have the necessary training or can't afford to live in their own communities.

With our budget update, government is making the choice to put people first. A budget should benefit all people, not just a few at the top. That means we're taking the first steps to make life more affordable for people, provide them with services they need, and ensure our sustainable economy works for everyone.

Housing affordability is an issue across our province. That's why we've invested in the construction of more than 1,700 new units of affordable rental housing across B.C. and another 2,000 modular housing units and supports for people who are homeless. This helps address some urgent housing needs while we partner with all levels of government to develop a comprehensive housing strategy. We're also taking first steps to assist those on income assistance and disability assistance by increasing assistance by $100 per month and increasing earnings exemptions by $200 per month.

We're moving forward with new investments to increase spending on early childhood development and child care to $330 million this year and support more than 4,000 new child care spaces. We're also working towards fully eliminating the Medical Services Plan premiums within four years, starting with a 50 per cent reduction Jan. 1, 2018 to save individuals up to $450 per year and families up to $900 per year.

While we find ways to make life affordable for people, we're going to rebuild and strengthen the services people count on. This budget invests in classrooms with $681 million over three years for smaller classes, increased resources, and more supports for children, including hiring approximately 3,500 teachers. We're also providing $50 million in capital funding to address space requirements for kids going back to school. This investment will go directly to fund the future of our province by providing our school system with the resources it needs to help kids succeed.

To provide immediate help for the pressures in our health system, we're investing an additional $603 million over three years in the Ministry of Health. That includes $265 million to address the fentanyl emergency and $25 million to establish a new Ministry of Mental Health and Addictions to develop a seamless, coordinated mental health and addictions system.

When you invest in people, you're investing in a good economy. For example, we've restored free English Language Learning and Adult Basic Education courses. All adults can now enrol in approved post-secondary and K-12 courses without having to pay tuition. The benefits are obvious, because when people can grow their skills, they can further contribute to our economy.

While investing in people, we're also looking for ways to help B.C.'s economy continue to grow. We're starting with an Innovation Commissioner who will be both advocate and ambassador for B.C.'s technology sector. We're also establishing an Emerging Economy Task Force to develop "made-in-B.C. solutions" to encourage innovative and sustainable industries to drive our economic growth in the 21st century.

This budget update supports much-needed economic growth in small and rural communities, including restoring the tax benefit for credit unions and making it permanent. To help small businesses thrive, we're lowering the small business corporate income tax rate from 2.5 per cent to 2 per cent. We're also phasing out PST on electricity for businesses to give them the dollars to invest in new technologies and create more jobs while supporting industry to transition to less carbon-intensive energy sources.

With this Budget Update 2017, government has begun to lay the foundation for a better B.C. We're putting people first by improving the services they need and making their lives more affordable while supporting a strong, sustainable economy that provides good jobs across our province.

Subject: CONFIDENTIAL - ADVICE TO MINISTERS

Hi all,
Here are some lines in case your ministers are asked by media today.

Key Messages – Banning Big Money

- It's time to get big money out of BC politics and end the wild west of campaign finance in our province.
- For sixteen years the BC Liberals worked hard for their rich donors and people at the top.
- We're fixing campaign finance rules to ensure government's decisions benefit British Columbians and not just those with deep politics.
- We are:
 - Taking $65 million in big money out of BC politics by ending corporate and union donations and capping individual donors at $1,200.
 - Banning out-of-province donations
 - Ramping up transparency in fundraising
 - Reducing spending limits to make democracy more accessible
- We're determined to end the wild west of political cash and give British Columbians their government back. That's why we're bringing in the toughest political fundraising restrictions in the country.

Why did you change your position on public financing?

- We're absolutely determined to end the wild west of political cash and give British Columbians their government back.
- Fixing a system as broken as BC's isn't easy but people were clear they wanted it done.
- We're taking $65 million in big money out of BC's political system over an election cycle – that's a massive amount and British Columbians will be better off because of it.
- The temporary transitional allowance will help our political system adjust to this radical change and keep big money out of politics.
- We're ending the influence of big money once and for all. We're proud of the historic changes we've put forward.

Jen: I'm just wondering if the agendas for the premier and ministers are available as part of open access, or is this something that one needs to file an FOI request on?

The reason I ask is that Andy Calitz, Shell's CEO for LNG Canada, is speaking to Greater Vancouver Board of Trade tomorrow.

The first question that came to my mind was: Will he also be meeting with John Horgan or any other ministers while he's here?

So, basically, I'm wondering if you can tell me if John Horgan or any maybe Michelle Mungall will be meeting with Calitz while he's here.

Is this something you can answer, or is that info already available in some publicly accessible database on minister's daily agendas.

Hi,

I'm afraid I don't have very good news. Meetings with local governments are booked solid from 8 am to 5 pm on Tuesday and 8 am to 2:40 on Wednesday. The only option within those parameters is the one hour lunch break, but I don't think that's realistic, as a lot of the Ministers will be in back to back meetings the whole day.

The alternative is to have them do it before 8 am or after 5 on Tuesday. If that's the case, I'll have to do some juggling to find 4 rooms, but I think it's doable outside of the 8-5. Worst case scenario we could put them in Suite 667 in the same building as the VCO, though I'm concerned some of the rooms might be a bit too small.

Thanks,

Marlene

Can you suggest the best time for this? It will require an hour. And further do you have an idea of 4 spots where they could have these rehearsals, or a space where 4 rehearsals could take place without bothering each other?

Thanks

Premier Horgan's Statement on Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur

VICTORIA - Premier John Horgan released the following statement celebrating Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur:

"As Jewish communities around British Columbia look forward to the beginning of the Jewish High Holidays Wednesday night, I want to extend my warmest wishes to all those celebrating the New Year.

"Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur are a time of celebration and reflection for Jewish communities around the world. Rosh Hashanah, which occurs on the first and second days of the Jewish month of Tishrei, marks the beginning of the Days of Awe.

"The High Holidays represent a chance to take stock of the past year and look forward to the coming year with renewed purpose. In that spirit, on behalf of the government of British Columbia I wish you and your families a sweet year full of health, happiness, and peace.

Hi Sage,

I am just following up on Linda's earlier email – do you have any further thoughts?

If you wish to have this posted as it is with photo and signature, the newsroom can help with that –
GCPENEWSRM@Victoria1.gov.bc.ca

Our internal system that will send to media is plain text only – which I am happy to do for you but just wanted to give you all options.

Please call me at 250 896-1143 with any questions at all.

Thank you,
Dana

Hi, Sage –

Unfortunately we cannot send this in its current form.

It could be turned into a statement and sent to media. The photo and signature, however, would not transmit in plain text email.

If the photo and signature are important components for you, may we suggest having it posted to the GCPE Newsroom?

Does any of this help you?

I will be leaving in a few minutes – but Dana and Shannon will be able to take this over.

Sincerely,
Linda S.

I gussied it up a little – but am unsure about how much space we have? This one's longer, but can be cut.

Premier John Horgan is the MLA for the new riding of Langford-Juan de Fuca. He was first elected to the Legislature in 2005 as MLA for Juan de Fuca, and has been re-elected three times. In 2014, he became the leader of the BC New Democratic Party, and on July 18, 2017, he became Premier of British Columbia. John is the first to tell you that much of his success in life comes from the faith others had in him — a generous gift he's committed to giving back to the people of BC.

A husband and father, John and his wife Ellie have two grown sons. John and his siblings were raised in Saanich by his mother, after his father passed away when he was very young. John grew up playing sports and was a natural leader at school, on the basketball court and in the lacrosse box.

As a young man, John worked several jobs to save up the funds to go to university: delivering newspapers, waiting tables and driving delivery trucks. But the job that made the most impact on him was working at a pulp mill in Ocean Falls – a tiny remote village on B.C.'s rugged central coast.

John went on to earn his Bachelor's and Master's degrees at Trent University in Ontario and Sydney University in Australia. A meeting with Tommy Douglas sparked his interest in social democracy and he went on to work for Members of Parliament in Ottawa.

In 2001, John started a management and research consulting company helping both private and public sector organizations.

One day in 2004, one of John's son's friends heard John hollering at the TV about something the BC Liberals did. He put John on the spot and asked him, "What are you going to do about it?" John took up the challenge for his sons and their friends - and asked them to help out.

A cancer survivor, John fought hard as an MLA and Official Opposition Leader in the legislature on the issues that matter to people: improving our health care system, fixing the housing crisis, standing up against school cuts and closures, and advocating for better seniors' care.

As premier, he's working to deliver on the NDP government's priorities: making life more affordable, improving the services people count on, and creating good jobs for people throughout B.C.

Hello Sheena,

Well my deadline is long term so we can make an interview work on the Premiers availability. Ive been in contact with the Forest Ministry office. I was informed the fish farm issue falls under the jurisdictions of a couple Ministries.

I do have direct questions about the industry itself but of course with all that happening this is an important indigenous reconciliation story as well. Im hoping that instead of booking multiple interviews with various Ministers the Premier would be able to field all questions

Also, can you confirm the Premier will be attending the sites to speak with the First Nation leadership presently occupying the two sites?

any help you can provide would be greatly appreciated

APTN will be shooting the Anti Fish Farm Rally at the convention center Thursday September 7th. This will be a part of a longer story on the industry in light of the recent events happening on the fish farms. Including the occupations of two farms by local First Nation members and the release of video showing what appears to be disturbing conditions of the fish and its habitat.

Would it be possible to fit in a direct-to-camera like that if you approve of this idea that day?

Hey guys!

PJH will be participating in the BC Professional Fire Fighters Fire Ops program on Monday at 12:30. This is the course where they put all the equipment on and go into a simulated burning building. I think this will be a great media visual, especially showing just how hard it is to be a firefighter in light of their service to the province during the wildfires.

We could let the media know, and this may be a great opportunity for one of our photographers to come along. Minister Farnworth and Minister Fleming will also be doing this course.

Will the gov be sending a response after it comes out tonight or would that be tomorrow? Also would that be via email?

Ya, they told us that this morning. It's REALLY not conducive to good public communication to handle it like this. I don't know if you are able to explain that to them – they would be better off to hold it until morning and give it to everyone so that we can digest it. I wasn't able to get through to them.

Hey Jen,

Appreciate you trying to help us make this work.

We will happily book the show with Carole instead and have John on in November.
I will reach out to Carole's office to see if she would be available on the week of October 12 (which would give me an extra week to gather some more specific content).

As I have not booked any shows in November (yet), I will give you first pick on the dates — providing you can get back to me with confirmation for one of them before the end of next week:

- November 2
- November 9
- November 16
- November 23
- November 30

If we could get the video tribute to Norman Ruff by the end of the week, that would be super! Next week will be busy with UBCM.

Here are the shooting specs:

COMMENTS need to be shot with the guest looking slightly off-camera with LOTS of looking room. We generally frame it as close to the shoulder as possible.
Make sure whoever/whatever they are looking at is close to the lens so we don't end up with an unflattering profile shot.
Here is a sample of the framing we are looking for with COMMENTS:

OTHER THINGS that we are hoping you can monitor are:

- If in doubt, please shoot looser, as I can always shrink in post but can't make it bigger
- Loud noises in the background that may interfere with the audio
- Please do not let the guest read the questions/comments
- Lots of stumbles by the guest which would require them to redo a comment/ question
- Make sure that the mic audio is being monitored (shooter is wearing headphones) that would determine if there is any unwanted hiss, mic issues or room noise
- Check that the lighting is suitable, the subject should be the brightest thing in the shot

Once shot we can either arrange to pick it up on a memory stick or download it from your ftp site.

If you have ANY questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Hi Megan, I would love some additional background. I have the minister's quotes for the story but still curious about the amount of work that went into this, how it came to be added to the bill (compared the original version that the opposition tabled.)

Cheers

Hey Kristina,

I appreciate the work that's gone into this already, but we're going to have to put it off for a future date. He's just coming back from a trip that day and is too jammed with meetings. I've checked in and Carole is able to move up her time to this slot on the 5th.

Apologies again and let's touch base to coordinate a date in the coming months.

Hey Keith,
Geoff asked me to send these your way. Attached is:

- 1) An excel sheet summary of the more than $65 million in big money that our bill will take out of BC politics
- 2) A chart of individual donation limits by province

I've also included highlights of political financing in Canadian jurisdictions. Notably:

- All provinces with the exception of Alberta have some form of reimbursements for parties and/or candidates. It is the norm.
- The federal system and Saskatchewan reimburse more than the proposed BC bill (50% of expenses for parties and 60% for candidates). Manitoba and Quebec reimburse the same (50% of expenses for both party and candidate).
- Four other provinces (Quebec, Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia) have a permanent allowance based on share of popular vote. (BC's proposed allowance is transitional).
- Corporate and union donations are banned at the Federal level as well as Nova Scotia, Quebec, Manitoba, and Alberta.

Source: Elections Canada: Compendium of Election Administration in Canada: A Comparative Overview

Note: the Elections Canada Compendium is from August 30, 2016 so doesn't reflect recent reforms to Ontario's political financing system which banned corporate and union donations and introduced a permanent per vote amount paid to parties.

This NR is joint PO-AG. Do we want a PO media contact on the release? I seem to remember the Attorney is going to be the spokesperson going forward... so this may be a disinclination to include.

Hi Tiffany,

Linda and I have tag-teamed on this one. Going provincewide as a hair-trigger once you give us the signal this afternoon. Also going to gallery, business and all ethnic media.

Ccing Cara as there is a PJC quote. As this is a PO-led release, do we want a PO contact for a media contact? Backgrounder coming in next email.

NEWS RELEASE

New government ends era of 'big money' in politics

VICTORIA - The Government of British Columbia has introduced legislation to put an end to big money in politics and put people back at the heart of government decision-making.

"Our government's first piece of legislation will make sure that people's votes, not big money, decide the outcome of B.C. elections," said Premier John Horgan. "We're reforming campaign finance rules to make sure government's actions and decisions benefit everyone, not just those with deep pockets."

"This legislation will make sure 2017 was the last big-money election in our province," said Attorney General David Eby. "The days of limitless donations, a lack of transparency and foreign and corporate influence over our elections are history."

The Election Amendment Act, 2017, will:

- * End corporate and union donations
- * Limit individual contributions to $1,200 a year, the second-lowest limit in Canada
- * Ban out-of-province donations
- * Cap contributions to third-party election advertisers
- * Require ongoing public reporting of all fundraisers attended by major party leaders, cabinet ministers and parliamentary secretaries, including those held in private residences
- * Reduce campaign spending limits for candidates and political parties by about 25%
- * Set new fines and penalties for contraventions of election financing and advertising laws

"These unprecedented changes will not only end the 'wild west' of campaign fundraising, they are an important step in modernizing our democracy," Eby said.

The bill contains several transitional provisions, including restrictions on the use of contributions received before the legislation comes into force. Political contributions previously collected that are not allowed under the new rules - including prior donations from unions and corporations or funds collected from a person in excess of $1,200 - cannot be used in future elections.

The Election Amendment Act, 2017, also introduces a transitional annual allowance for political parties over a set term of five years. The allowance diminishes in value over time and is intended to help political parties transition to the new campaign finance rules. A special committee of the legislature will review the allowance to determine if it should be continued. If no action is taken, the allowance will expire in 2022.

Hi all,

Here are a few possible Q and As for the practice tonight (outside of the ones the MAs will be asking). Feel free to add your own, or share suggestion with this group.

Mike Lowe may also sit in on the practices. (5pm, Room 17)

DRAFT: ADVICE TO MINISTERS

Scenarios:

1) You're asked a specific question you don't know the answer to.

Answer:

- Thanks for your question.
- I don't have specifics on that right now, but a staff person is on their way to come find you and take down your information, so that I can follow up.

2) An attendee asks why you wouldn't schedule a meeting with them.

Answer:

- While I tried to schedule as many meetings as possible with people here, I couldn't get to everyone.
- This is not going to be the only time we meet with you.
- We want to build partnerships with municipalities across BC and we're just getting started.
- A staff person will find you and take down your information so that we can schedule a meeting for the future.

3) An attendee asks why you/ the premier haven't visited their community.

Answer:

- We want to build partnerships with municipalities across BC and we're just getting started.
- There are going to be many opportunities in the coming weeks and months to visit communities throughout BC, and I'm excited to see how we can work together

4) You get a question on a contentious issue.

- Refer to issues sheet/ message

Hello MAs,
Following on our call this morning, here is what you will need to have ready for you ministers for the UBCM town halls.

- 1) Opening remarks – 2 minutes
 - Who they are
 - What their mandate is and how it connects to the partnerships they hope to build with municipalities
- 2) Top level issues sheet
 - messages on what you think they will likely be asked/ top issues
- 3) Issues binder
 - Could be helpful to have on hand to review beforehand
- 4) 3-4 questions for your minister (for practice)
 - prepare a few questions you think your minister could be asked for the practice session.

The town hall practices will take place on Tuesday at 5:15pm, locations TBD. There will be 4 concurrent sessions, in the same groupings as the Wednesday town halls:

- Health and Safety: Ministers: Eby, Farnworth, Dix, Darcy, Sims, in that order,
- Investing in People: Ministers: Fleming, Mark, Fraser, Simpson, Conroy
- Infrastructure and Economic Development: Ministers: James, Trevena, Robinson, Bains and Beare
- Jobs, Resources and Green Communities: Ministers: Popham, Mungall, Donaldson, Heyman, Ralston, Chow

Facilitators will give advice on answering difficult questions, then we will run through a practice with the questions you have prepared.

Please let me know if your minister is unable to attend the practice session or if you have any other questions.

Thanks,

But that statement is god awful.

My story is shaping up to be a mix of both the website, with a larger look at how many partisan staffers are hired to positions in GCPE, MA, etc etc. Including the failed 2013 candidate, and Horgan's comments in 2013 on the issue of governments using taxpayer money to pay for failed candidates.

This is the only usable line I could see in it

- It is both normal and necessary to hire staff who share the government's vision and can implement its commitments. Our government has been fully transparent about its staff appointments, including salaries.

Do we know who produced the video on the BetterBC website? Because the gov hired the NDP party videographer guy, Stephen Hargreaves, as a video producer in GCPE, my assumption is that he did it.

Hi again,
Everyone is occupied at UBCM, but I can give you this in response to your questions:

Background:

- No money has been spent promoting the video or site. They are intended to highlight the major changes in policy and funding in the Budget Update.
- Our government remains committed to strengthening advertising standards to ensure confidence that public funds are being used responsibly.
- It is both normal and necessary to hire staff who share the government's vision and can implement its commitments. Our government has been fully transparent about its staff appointments, including salaries.

And a statement from me as spokesperson if needed:

"The BC NDP made a commitment to build a better BC and make government work for people again. Our Budget Update took first steps to follow through on this commitment, and this website highlights progress on our commitments to make life more affordable, improve services, and build a strong, sustainable economy. We have hired a diverse and skilled team of staff that will work every day to move forward on the promises we made to British Columbians. We are extremely proud of the strong staff team we have assembled to support our elected officials as they work to make life better for people."

Hey Jen,

I'd like to talk to someone about the BetterBC website, the quasi-campaign ad masquerading as a government video, and also about the hiring practices of the government.

I've been analyzing the OICs, and maybe one of the reasons the Gov ads look like NDP party ads is because the NDPgov hired the party's campaign videographer to GCPE, along with a bunch of other party hacks (digital folks, campaigners, party employees, financial agents, a failed candidate, some Vision people, and a whole whack of constituency assistants to NDP MLAs).

Who would you recommend?

The steps involved to buy 3 tickets for the Jack Webster Awards are as follows

1. Fill out a Business Expense Approval Form (BEA) (attached) for all 3 tickets (Elizabeth can you assist)
2. Provide a rationale for 3 of you to attend
3. Elizabeth can use her purchase card to buy the tickets (after I have approved the BEA)

The Minister's purchase their own tickets through their office. The Premier's Office will not be purchasing a table.

Elizabeth can phone the organizers and provide the names of all the attendees and ask to be seated, if possible, at the same table.

Elizabeth this will be coded as STOB 6531.

Let me know if you need any further assistance.

Background:

- No money has been spent promoting the video or site.
- The video and microsite were both produced in house. As with the social media posts, they are intended to highlight the major changes in policy and funding in the Budget Update.
- Regarding the wording used in the video, our government was elected on a series of commitments. Our government remains committed to that vision
- As indicated yesterday, our government remains committed to strengthening advertising standards to ensure confidence that public funds are being used responsibly.

Statement from spokesperson Jen Holmwood:

“The BC NDP made a commitment to build a better BC and make government work for people again. Our Budget Update took first steps to follow through on this commitment, and this website highlights progress on our commitments to make life more affordable, improve services, and build a strong, sustainable economy. British Columbians expect government resources to be used responsibly while still communicating important information about government initiatives. Hi Charmaine,

I heard you had questions around some of the government's social media today. Here's a bit more info and a quote, if you need it.

Background:

- No money has been spent promoting the Facebook posts identified by CKNW. They are intended to highlight major changes in funding and policy in Budget Update 2017.
- This is consistent with government policy that posts be factual, provide information on government programs, services and policies, and engage the public.
- Policies have not been changed, but the new government remains committed to strengthening standards to ensure confidence that public funds are being used responsibly.

Statement from spokesperson Jen Holmwood:

"After the previous government wasted millions on political ads, British Columbians expect public dollars to be spent responsibly while still communicating important information about government initiatives. We are committed to working with interested stakeholders, including the Auditor-General and British Columbians, to establish strict standards for advertising to ensure British Columbians can have confidence that public money is being spent appropriately."

Hi Jen,

A follow up from yesterday's emails, I had questions about the use of NDP campaign slogans in government material.

Specifically, the Better BC website and video that was produced.

Were both the website and the video created in house? Or was a contract given to create that video? (If so, how much was it?)

We also would like to know if you think it is appropriate for the government to use political slogans?

Thanks,

Charmaine

Hi team,

If we have the people power, is it possible for someone to attend, or report back on, how the discussions go at UBCM in the sessions listed below, taking place this afternoon?

Being able to touch on what has been discussed in these sessions would be helpful in Friday morning's remarks.

Also, there was a session yesterday about housing affordability – please let me know if you have any insights to share.

Tuesday 1:45 pm, Flooding and fires in 2017 (Plenary Session, Ballroom A/B, VCC)

Representatives from communities affected by this year's natural disasters will participate in a panel and multimedia presentation to share their experiences related to emergency response, evacuations, emergency operation centres and emergency social services, as well as their reflections on how local governments were effective in responding to floods and fire, and how we can better prepare our communities for future emergencies.

Tuesday 3:15 pm New approaches to the Overdose crisis (Room 1, VCC)

With alarming overdose figures being released all the time, a policy session on Tuesday discussing how communities are being asked to come up with novel approaches to reduce overdoses and deaths is timely. The session will review the current trends in overdoses and introduce basic strategies that are urgently needed throughout the province including emergency response, supportive housing, harm reduction and treatment.

Hey,

I'm looking at sending this reporter a statement from MCJ on this to the effect of:

"The Confidence and Supply Agreement developed by our two parties lays out consultation processes. The Consultation Committee is a key part of that process.

"The Committee has three representatives from each of the Green Caucus and the Government, and meets regularly to consult on policy initiatives in the Confidence and Supply Agreement.

"The Committee is a forum for both parties to uphold the Agreement's principle of "good faith and no surprises.""

It's pretty general at this point, so, happy to add anything the minister wants.

Hello MAs,
Following on our call this morning, here is what you will need to have ready for you ministers for the UBCM town halls.

- 1) Opening remarks – 2 minutes
-Who they are

-What their mandate is and how it connects to the partnerships they hope to build with municipalities

- 2) Top level issues sheet
 - messages on what you think they will likely be asked/ top issues
- 3) Issues binder
 - Could be helpful to have on hand to review beforehand
- 4) 3-4 questions for your minister (for practice)
 - prepare a few questions you think your minister could be asked for the practice session.

The town hall practices will take place on Tuesday at 5:15pm, locations TBD. There will be 4 concurrent sessions, in the same groupings as the Wednesday town halls:

- Health and Safety: Ministers: Eby, Farnworth, Dix, Darcy, Sims, in that order,
- Investing in People: Ministers: Fleming, Mark, Fraser, Simpson, Conroy
- Infrastructure and Economic Development: Ministers: James, Trevena, Robinson, Bains and Beare
- Jobs, Resources and Green Communities: Ministers: Popham, Mungall, Donaldson, Heyman, Ralston, Chow

Facilitators will give advice on answering difficult questions, then we will run through a practice with the questions you have prepared.

Please let me know if your minister is unable to attend the practice session or if you have any other questions.

I'm not aware of any meetings this week between Mr. Calitz and the premier. The Premier's calendar, as well as all Ministers, Deputy Ministers and all Associate Deputy Ministers' calendars are proactively released each month. They do not go through the formal FOI process. The link below brings you to the "Search the Open Information Catalogue". Jen: I'm just wondering if the agendas for the premier and ministers are available as part of open access, or is this something that one needs to file an FOI request on?

The reason I ask is that Andy Calitz, Shell's CEO for LNG Canada, is speaking to Greater Vancouver Board of Trade tomorrow.

The first question that came to my mind was: Will he also be meeting with John Horgan or any other ministers while he's here?

So, basically, I'm wondering if you can tell me if John Horgan or any maybe Michelle Mungall will be meeting with Calitz while he's here.

Is this something you can answer, or is that info already available in some publicly accessible database on minister's daily agendas.

I've got some availability tomorrow but will be ^{s.22} and have an interview with Andrew Weaver at 1 p.m. If James is not available in person next week - a phone interview would be fine. 15-20 minutes should cover it.

Please let me know what the options are.

Subject: UBCM town hall practice

Hello MAs,

Following on our call this morning, here is what you will need to have ready for you ministers for the UBCM town halls.

- 1) Opening remarks – 2 minutes
 - Who they are
 - What their mandate is and how it connects to the partnerships they hope to build with municipalities
- 2) Top level issues sheet
 - messages on what you think they will likely be asked/ top issues
- 3) Issues binder
 - Could be helpful to have on hand to review beforehand
- 4) 3-4 questions for your minister (for practice)
 - prepare a few questions you think your minister could be asked for the practice session.

The town hall practices will take place on Tuesday at 5:15pm, locations TBD. There will be 4 concurrent sessions, in the same groupings as the Wednesday town halls:

- Health and Safety: Ministers: Eby, Farnworth, Dix, Darcy, Sims, in that order,
- Investing in People: Ministers: Fleming, Mark, Fraser, Simpson, Conroy
- Infrastructure and Economic Development: Ministers: James, Trevena, Robinson, Bains and Beare
- Jobs, Resources and Green Communities: Ministers: Popham, Mungall, Donaldson, Heyman, Ralston, Chow

Facilitators will give advice on answering difficult questions, then we will run through a practice with the questions you have prepared.

Please let me know if your minister is unable to attend the practice session or if you have any other questions.

Thanks,

Hi all,

Here is an outline of the Premier’s participation in the walk. Please note the Premier will not be a part of the 8:30am media availability.

9:05am – Premier arrives at VIP lounge at Queen Elizabeth Theatre.
9:30am – 9:45am - Premier is in place at the start line with other VIPs to watch opening ceremony.
9:45am – Walk begins – I believe the organizers are offering this as a photo op in their media release.
9:45am – 10:15am – Premier participates in Walk for Reconciliation.
10:15am – Premier arrives at Reconciliation Expo.
11:10am – Premier participates in Blanketing Ceremony.
11:50am – Premier delivers remarks.

We are looking into the possibility of moving the Premier’s speech back to its original slot at 11:30am, but have not gotten a response from the organizers. What time are you aiming to send out the release - just in case we are able to make a change to the schedule?

Thanks,
Elena

Hi Chris,

Yes, that would be great if your shop could do the MA.

I've copied Rick who can tell us a bit more about the Premier's participation -- he has prepared speaking notes, which I think is for later in the day, not sure what time he intends to arrive.

I've also copied Sheena and Jen from the Premier's office so they are aware IRR will do a media avail including PJH.

Thank you,

Hi Cara – the event organizers are still determining who will be on their MA so my recommendation is that we do our own. We can do this in our shop if that works for you. We can highlight that PJH and MSF are speaking at the event and there is a media avail at 8:30 am. Is PJH attending the media avail?

Hi Cara – we weren't planning on doing a media advisory because it's not a government event, but that's not to say that we couldn't do one.

Would you like us to check in with the organizers and see what they are planning as far as a media advisory? If they are doing one, we could ask them to include PJH and MSF in it. I presume they are doing one because they have many high profile speakers as you know.

If they aren't, we could do our own highlighting PJH and MSF are speaking.

Let us know. Happy to facilitate what is needed.

Hi Sharon,

Just touching base on Sunday's reconciliation walk. I understand that both the Premier and the Minister are speaking. I am writing to confirm that the Premier would be included in the Media Advisory that IRR is likely preparing in advance of this event. If that's the case, I can make sure PO knows they don't need to do one of their own.

Let me know, thanks.

Cara

Subject: Re: Accessing premier's and minister's schedules

Jen: I'm just wondering if the agendas for the premier and ministers are available as part of open access, or is this something that one needs to file an FOI request on?

The reason I ask is that Andy Calitz, Shell's CEO for LNG Canada, is speaking to Greater Vancouver Board of Trade tomorrow.

The first question that came to my mind was: Will he also be meeting with John Horgan or any other ministers while he's here?

So, basically, I'm wondering if you can tell me if John Horgan or any maybe Michelle Mungall will be meeting with Calitz while he's here.

Is this something you can answer, or is that info already available in some publicly accessible database on minister's daily agendas.

Hi,

We are going to be running some practice session for ministers ahead of the UBCM town halls. As we're aiming to do 4 concurrently, I'm hoping the two of you might be able to help facilitate and go over some pointers.

We're looking at Tuesday at 5:15pm for about an hour.

Let me know if you can help out!

Thanks,
Jen

Hello MAs,

Following on our call this morning, here is what you will need to have ready for you ministers for the UBCM town halls.

- 1) Opening remarks – 2 minutes
 - Who they are
 - What their mandate is and how it connects to the partnerships they hope to build with municipalities
- 2) Top level issues sheet
 - messages on what you think they will likely be asked/ top issues
- 3) Issues binder
 - Could be helpful to have on hand to review beforehand
- 4) 3-4 questions for your minister (for practice)
 - prepare a few questions you think your minister could be asked for the practice session.

The town hall practices will take place on Tuesday at 5:15pm, locations TBD. There will be 4 concurrent sessions, in the same groupings as the Wednesday town halls:

- Health and Safety: Ministers: Eby, Farnworth, Dix, Darcy, Sims, in that order,
- Investing in People: Ministers: Fleming, Mark, Fraser, Simpson, Conroy
- Infrastructure and Economic Development: Ministers: James, Trevena, Robinson, Bains and Beare
- Jobs, Resources and Green Communities: Ministers: Popham, Mungall, Donaldson, Heyman, Ralston, Chow

Facilitators will give advice on answering difficult questions, then we will run through a practice with the questions you have prepared.

Please let me know if your minister is unable to attend the practice session or if you have any other questions.

Thanks,

Katie DeRosa from the Times Colonist here, hope you're doing well. I'm following up on the release about the BC government supporting Metro Vancouver in its bid to host the new Amazon HQ. I'm wondering if someone can elaborate on the line about the government considering supporting other bids such as Langford's. Has Langford asked the government for any financial support and if not, what do other communities have to do in order to gain the government's support? Is there a dollar figure it will be offering to smaller B.C. communities?

Hoping to get this info before end of day today.

Thanks so much,

Katie

The information about how much in the program goes into subsidizing things that don't create jobs hasn't been out there yet. That's the 94% of all refunds under the program subsidize just three types of activity: foreign exchange, securities trading, and factoring.

And, of course the fact that Colin Hansen is lobbying for it.

Hey David,
Tim asked me to send along this link as well as a statement from Minister Carole James (below). Quick question: are you writing for Metro or the Tyee today?

Here is the link to the FOI that was released December 2016. It is a severed version of the analysis done by Tax Policy Branch in 2009/10 regarding the effectiveness of the International Business Activity Program:
<http://www2.gov.bc.ca/enSearch/detail?id=7AFDBC16F15F42E289E9F7DDB0F80C40&recorduid=FIN-2016-61004>

- The chart on the top of page 5 (page 6 of the pdf) contains the un-severed estimate of direct employment by the program.
- The same chart also notes that factoring accounted for an average of 39% of all refunds between 2005-08

Statement from Minister Carole James

"Our government committed to building a strong, innovative economy that works for everyone – not just the wealthy and well-connected. That is why our government has ended the International Business Activity program."

"The BC Liberal government maintained and expanded this program in the face of criticism but as analysis from the Ministry of Finance has shown us, the program created very few jobs."

"The program was projected to cost $25 million in 2017-18 – money that is better invested in areas that matter to British Columbians, like education, health care and transit."

Let me know if I can help with anything else.

Cheers,
Jen

Has the cancellation been announced officially? What's the effective date for the tax benefit's end? I presume the organization can continue without it, is that correct? But just won't get the government arrangement it was established for?

It's late in the day for me, but it is my Friday today so I'd like to jump on this.

Who could I talk to about this in terms of why the decision is being made? My drop dead deadline is 5:30pm latest, but we're supposed to have everything in an hour before that if possible.

Hi David,

I seem to remember you expressing interest in the BC Liberals' AdvantageBC program in the past. This is the International Business Activity program that has been giving out millions of dollars a year to big companies without delivering on promised results, especially jobs. Our government has cancelled the program.

We heard today that the head of AdvantageBC, former BC Liberal Finance Minister Colin Hansen, is lobbying hard to try to save this shady tax benefit. He has asked companies to write to MLAs and focus on the Greens. We also heard that AdvantageBC has commissioned a report to claim the program is good. It will be released on Friday September 29th.

I wonder if you might be interested in writing on this today. I could line you up with someone to give you more background if so.

Hi James,
Our ministers are occupied in meetings at UBCM today, but I can provide some background and comment for you here:

CASA office:

Background:

- The budget figure is correct, although there is currently only one person working in the office (the Executive Director). The other positions are unfilled.
- The Confidence and Supply Agreement formed the basis of the Lieutenant-Governor's decision to ask Premier Horgan to lead a government.

Statement from Jen Holmwood:

"For years, the BC Liberals refused to work with other parties to address the challenges faced by British Columbians. Our government is committed to working across party lines and respecting the agreement we have reached with the Green MLAs. This small office is dedicated to coordinating consultations with the Green Caucus that ensure progress on a range of priorities in the agreement, including making life more affordable, fixing services, protecting our environment, and creating jobs. We are proud of the excellent work this small office is doing to move forward initiatives that make life better for British Columbians.”

Government advertising:

Background:

- No money has been spent promoting this online content.
- The content in question was produced in house. They are intended to highlight the major changes in policy and funding in the Budget Update.
- Regarding the wording used in the video, our government was elected on a series of commitments. Our government remains committed to that vision and it is unsurprising that it will use similar language when talking about the priorities we were elected on.
- Our government remains committed to strengthening advertising standards to ensure confidence that public funds are being used responsibly.

Statement from Jen Holmwood:

“The BC NDP made a commitment to build a better BC and make government work for people again. Our Budget Update took first steps to follow through on this commitment, and this website highlights progress on our commitments to make life more affordable, improve services, and build a strong, sustainable economy. British Columbians expect government resources to be used responsibly while still communicating important information about government initiatives. We are committed to working with interested stakeholders, including the Auditor-General and British Columbians, to establish strict standards for advertising to ensure British Columbians can have confidence that public money is being spent appropriately.”

Staff Appointments

Background:

- Staff salaries in Ministers’ offices are consistent with the bands used by the previous government. Ministers’ office staff salaries are capped at the same level as their predecessors.
- There is a 13% increase in total Ministry budgets (this is the overall budget, not exclusively staff salaries). This includes a new Ministry for Mental Health and Addictions, as we committed to in the election.
- Our robust hiring process included over 200 interviews, and 400 screening phone calls to applicants.

Statement from Jen Holmwood:

“As with any government, our staff share our vision for the province that British Columbians supported in the election. We have conducted a comprehensive process to hire a diverse, qualified and skilled team of staff to help deliver on the promises we made to people. We are extremely proud of the strong staff team we have assembled to support our elected officials as they work to make life better for people.”

Hi Sheena and Jen,

We're hoping to reach someone from the premier's office today to talk about the resources dedicated to the confidence and supply secretariat. We've got an FOI back with the salaries of the staff and a rough travel budget; it adds up to about $263,000 per year. We're hoping for some confirmation about whether those numbers have changed, and some response to the criticisms about using taxpayer money for this office.

While we're at it, we'd also need comment to respond to the concerns around recent NDP appointments and complaints that a government ad is too partisan.

Hi,

I can get this queued up – will pass on to the Writing and Editorial unit for set-up for 2pm today.

I've double-checked the call-in numbers Rick provided.

I assume the Exhibition Hall A in VCC East is the correct location.

Good morning, Sheena, Jen.

Would John Horgan, or anyone else from the B.C. NDP, be available today to do an interview for 12:05 p.m. responding to criticisms of partisan political appointments -- especially after John was so critical of the practice while in Opposition?

Please let me know as soon as you can what is possible.

Hmmmm... okay thanks.

But that statement is god awful.

My story is shaping up to be a mix of both the website, with a larger look at how many partisan staffers are hired to positions in GCPE, MA, etc etc. Including the failed 2013 candidate, and Horgan's comments in 2013 on the issue of governments using taxpayer money to pay for failed candidates.

This is the only usable line I could see in it

- It is both normal and necessary to hire staff who share the government's vision and can implement its commitments. Our government has been fully transparent about its staff appointments, including salaries.

Do we know who produced the video on the BetterBC website? Because the gov hired the NDP party videographer guy, Stephen Hargreaves, as a video producer in GCPE, my assumption is that he did it.

Hi again,

Everyone is occupied at UBCM, but I can give you this in response to your questions:

Background:

- No money has been spent promoting the video or site. They are intended to highlight the major changes in policy and funding in the Budget Update.
- Our government remains committed to strengthening advertising standards to ensure confidence that public funds are being used responsibly.

- It is both normal and necessary to hire staff who share the government's vision and can implement its commitments. Our government has been fully transparent about its staff appointments, including salaries.

And a statement from me as spokesperson if needed:

"The BC NDP made a commitment to build a better BC and make government work for people again. Our Budget Update took first steps to follow through on this commitment, and this website highlights progress on our commitments to make life more affordable, improve services, and build a strong, sustainable economy. We have hired a diverse and skilled team of staff that will work every day to move forward on the promises we made to British Columbians. We are extremely proud of the strong staff team we have assembled to support our elected officials as they work to make life better for people."

Hey Jen,

I'd like to talk to someone about the BetterBC website, the quasi-campaign ad masquerading as a government video, and also about the hiring practices of the government.

I've been analyzing the OICs, and maybe one of the reasons the Gov ads look like NDP party ads is because the NDPgov hired the party's campaign videographer to GCPE, along with a bunch of other party hacks (digital folks, campaigners, party employees, financial agents, a failed candidate, some Vision people, and a whole whack of constituency assistants to NDP MLAs).

Who would you recommend?

Rob
