Please find below instructions on how to access photos from yesterday's swearing in ceremony. We selected photos of key moments and of each Minister (if the photographer got a photo of them signing or with John on stage, we have posted it) on the BC NDP Caucus Flickr account.

Go to:

Click on a photo you'd like to download. It will enlarge like this:

Click the downward pointing arrow in the lower right hand corner to download the photo. The large or original size will preserve photo quality and still be small enough for social media.

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Hi. We are looking to hold our weekly caucus exec meetings on Tuesdays from 4 – 5 (rarely will they take that long). We will do them in person where possible, but as calls otherwise. We worked through the House schedule, and this should not interfere with cabinet committees or other regularly scheduled events. Can we confirm that this item will work as a weekly in Geoff's calendar? Thx.

Hello.

Following up on some internal discussions about issues related to attendance at Taiwan National Day community events, all MLAs should be aware of the advice that we have received from Chief of Staff Geoff Meggs in a note sent to some caucus members on October 4 (below) and more detailed advice contained in a note from the Government of BC's Intergovernmental Relations Secretariat (attached.) Please review the advice carefully. Thank you. Roseanne Moran.

Subject: Attendance at community events - Taiwan, Republic of China, National Day

Dear friends,

Questions have arisen about the appropriate approach to participation in celebrations of Taiwan's National Day by members of the government, particularly ministers. (This concern can arise in many other contexts, which I hope to deal with in a subsequent note.) These concerns are generally not an issue for MLAs not in cabinet or in opposition parties.

After some consultation with the Intergovernmental Relations Secretariat I'm writing to suggest the following approach.

First of all, some context:

- Our government embraces newcomer and immigrant communities, celebrates their contributions to the life of the province and looks forward to strengthening ties between them and our government;
- We are proud that members of diverse communities are winning election to the Legislature and moving into leadership positions, including in cabinet;
- Our government generally does not take positions on matters that may be the source of controversy or division within those communities. (In many cases, these are the result of conflicts, sometimes violent ones, in home countries); and
- Our government respects the role of the federal government in the direction of our foreign policy and the protocol obligations that arise from that.

In the case of the People's Republic of China and the Republic of China (Taiwan), Ottawa has had a policy for many years of not sending elected officials of ministerial rank on any official duties in Taiwan. Taiwan has economic missions to Canada, but not diplomatic relations.

To strike the right balance, I think it's appropriate:

- To participate as usual in key events in the community, particularly those with which we have long personal and historical ties;
- Be careful not to trigger concerns, either by words or action, that this participation is any more than normal engagement with the community; i.e. not a cause for any concern that our government is now seeking to intervene in a matter that is properly handled at the federal level.

Thanks for your co-operation. Please don't hesitate to call if you have any concerns or suggestions.

Geoff

Hi Leonard. I have not used it, but it was used in the campaign and I believe that the Liberals may have used it to do a lot of their “offline” work. Here is a quick wiki description:

Slack is a cloud-based set of team collaboration tools and services, founded by Stewart Butterfield.^[1] Slack began as an internal tool used by their company, Tiny Speck, in the development of Glitch, a now defunct online game.^{[14][15]} The name is an acronym for "Searchable Log of All Conversation and Knowledge".

Slack teams allow communities, groups, or teams to join through a specific URL or invitation sent by a team admin or owner. Although Slack was meant for organizational communication, it has been slowly turning into a community platform, a function for which users had previously used message boards or social media such as Facebook or LinkedIn groups.^[25] Many of these communities are categorized by topics which a group of people may be interested in discussing.

Public channels allow team members to communicate without the use of email or group SMS (texting). They are open to everyone in the chat provided they have first been invited to join the client. Private channels allow for private conversation between smaller sects of the overall group. These can be used to break up large teams into their own respective projects. Direct messages allow users to send private messages to a specific user rather than a group of people.^[26] Direct messages can include up to nine people (the originator plus eight people). Once started this direct message group can be converted to a private channel.

No doubt more than you wanted to know!! Roseanne.

Bruce Anderson, Chairman of Abacus Data, will give a briefing on where Canadians opinions are at regarding energy and climate issues, and how quickly their opinions have shifted in the last 18 months. This presentation will include a special look at how these insights apply to British Columbia, informed by fresh survey results. Bruce is also confirmed to present to members of the Legislature that morning. Bruce's biography is below.

Bruce Anderson, Chairman of Abacus Data, is one of Canada's most respected pollsters and communications counselors.

Bruce has served as a pollster and/or strategic advisor to political leaders in the Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties. He has worked extensively with many major corporations and organizations including Shaw Communications, TELUS, BCE, Enbridge, Imperial Oil, BP, Cenovus, RBC, CIBC, Teck, BC Hydro, the Canadian Association of Petroleum Producers, the Canadian Energy Pipeline Association, the Mining Association of Canada, CropLife, the Forest Products Association of Canada, and the Canadian Bankers Association.

It's unclear whether Gord will actually run a story, but Leanne is wondering if she should contact him for background. I wanted to get your perspective before saying yea or nay to that.

Hi Tamara. This will need to be a conversation as the weekly schedule is too complicated to try to do an email back and forth. FYI at 10 on Tuesdays, we have QP so we could not have anything booked. Layne, maybe you, Tamara and I can chat? Thx.

Hi. We are looking to hold our weekly caucus exec meetings on Tuesdays from 4 – 5 (rarely will they take that long). We will do them in person where possible, but as calls otherwise. We worked through the House schedule, and this should not interfere with cabinet committees or other regularly scheduled events. Can we confirm that this item will work as a weekly in Geoff's calendar? Thx.

Media rollout doc attached. Some of this may have changed since last night... has not been updated to today

In terms of materials:

- I have redrafted housing minister's speech
- I worked with PSSG on their materials for marijuana event (which are all in the can now)
- Don Zadravic has worked with ministry staff to fix up speaking notes for MMM for her mining and energy breakfasts.
- Don is also following up with forestry to get them moving on materials and will be looking at those.
- I have all the enviro minister's speaking materials and will be looking at them this morning and then I will hand them over to Don to work with the ministry to fix any issues.
- I also went over minister chen's speaking notes on childcare and they are in good shape.
- Cara has the premier's speech in hand.
- I need to draft a release for the premier's speech still, that's on the list for today.
- Danielle has the opioid release following from premier's speech in edits now and will be nailing that down this morning.
- Housing is working on a modular housing release, that may come a bit later as they have a lot on their plate for the moment.
- Sarah Zaharia is working with JTT on wildfire service materials

Overall things are coming along, and most of our materials are in final stages right now.

Hi Everyone,

I have created a list for MAs to readily access people they may need. I have included all of you (and your teams) in this list. Can you please advise if you would like to be included, or if you think people are missing. Also, if you have any information that you would like included so that MA's can easily reference who they need to call, I would be happy to include it.

Thanks,

Layne

Subject: FW: Kinder Morgan update
Date: Friday, September 29, 2017 5:16:59 PM

Hello. This was sent out to caucus a short time ago.

As discussed in caucus, the BC Government is filing today in the B.C. Supreme Court, responding to a petition by the Squamish Nation challenging the province's decision to grant the Kinder Morgan pipeline an environmental certificate and alleging the province failed in its constitutional duty to consult with the First Nation.

Minister Heyman is our spokesperson on this issue. Caucus members should direct requests for interviews or more in-depth comment to the Minister's office and to stay within the messages outlined below for any brief comments you may need to make on this issue. The Minister's Assistant is Caelie Frampton who can be reached at 778-678-2028.

Key messages:

- Our government remains committed to defending B.C.'s interests in the face of the construction of Trans Mountain's new pipeline and a dangerous seven-fold increase in tanker traffic on our coast.
- We will continue to use every tool to defend BC's interests.
- In the case of the BC Supreme Court, B.C. government lawyers will be arguing that the Crown lived up to its duty to consult, as it was defined at the time. This is based on independent legal opinions confirming that this is the best course of action for our provincial government at this time. (MLAs are strongly discouraged from saying more on the subject of the BC Supreme Court case)
- We are looking towards the Province's intervention in the Federal Court of Appeal, which starts next week.
- The Federal Court of Appeal has the authority to set aside the National Energy Board's approval of the new Trans Mountain pipeline.
- Fighting for intervenor status in the Federal Court of Appeal case gives the Government of BC the best opportunity to protect the health and safety of the BC coastline, BC's economy and our overall interests.
- We only recently won intervenor status and it's a really significant win for the Province to be at the table arguing the case, with Thomas Berger representing the BC Government

As we discussed, a large group of key Kinder Morgan stakeholders are being called to inform them about what the BC Government is doing related to the legal actions at the provincial and federal levels.

See below re Ronna-Rae's delayed office opening, and CTV.

I did this list recently... (see below)

It seems to me I should call Gord, informally, and let him know many new offices aren't set up, including multiple BC Liberals, and it would be a bit unfair to single one out, as if it were a unique situation to them.

Adam Olsen Monday to Friday 10-4

Andrew Weaver Monday to Thursday 10-4

Sonia Furstenau Tuesday to Friday 10-4

Doug Clovechok "Kimberly Office Coming Soon" "Revelstoke Office Coming Soon" (TBD on leg site)

Dan Davies cant find hours for his Fort St John office

Joan Isaacs cant find hours for her coquitlam office

Jas Johal cant find record of an office (TBD on leg site)

Michael Lee cant find record of an office (TBD on leg site)

Peter Milobar cant find hours for his Kamloops office

Ian Paton cant find hours for his Delta office

Tracy Redies cant find record of an office (TBD on leg site)

Ellis Ross cant find record of an office (TBD on leg site)

Tom Shypitka cant find hours for his Cranbrook office (opened Sept 22)

On Sept 26 said "We're still waiting for some telephone and other internet stuff getting put in there, but for the most part, the cabinetry and the walls and partitions are in place, so we're happy about our work space."

Hi Ed,

I just spoke with Leanne at RRL's constituency office. They've had some major delays in getting the office up and running, and apparently someone contacted Gord Kurbis with CTV-VI about it. He contacted Travena's office who relayed it to Leanne.

It's unclear whether Gord will actually run a story, but Leanne is wondering if she should contact him for background. I wanted to get your perspective before saying yea or nay to that.

Hello. Writing to alert all offices that an occupation of David Eby's office has happened and other NDP MLA offices may be targeted. While as you can see from the release below, the commitment is to a peaceful process, these events can be unpredictable and can become unsafe. CAs should make immediate contact with your MLA to consult on next steps. You may want to secure your office in the meantime. We will speak with Legislative Security to make sure they are aware. If anything happens in your office, please alert Ed May immediately at 250-208-2554.

Should protesters come to your office and enter, please remain friendly and calm and let us know immediately. Legislative security should also be informed and their emergency number is 250-387-5555.

Subject: Key messages for tomorrow
Date: Tuesday, August 29, 2017 8:49:57 PM

Some key messages for tomorrow:

- We've now had five weeks serving the people of BC – they like what they see
- Three people I think of (be more specific if you can):
 - First responders on the wildfires
 - Health care providers on the front line
 - People receiving free adult basic education
 - Not to mention Surrey commuters no longer paying the tolls, the people on income assistance who finally got a raise
 - People in my community and yours . . .
- We're making life more affordable, improving services, working for jobs – as I did when I travelled to Washington to put BC's interests front and centre

Now we're moving from transition to the Legislature

- This will be a testing time – we need to keep focussed, not be distracted
- Vital agreement with the Greens: we all need to make sure it works
 - Not be distracted by criticism, focus on the voters who like the co-operation, expect us to make it work
- We need to remind everyone about the 16 lost years – the contrast, the bad choices
- We must be ready to meet the voters – and we'll meet some in the Kelowna West byelection in about six months.

This meeting will prepare for the session:

- How we'll work together
- The issues we'll be debating
- The plan for house debates
- I've been asked about speaker – my answer hasn't changed . . .

So let's get down to work.

Subject: Ministerial Assistant - Contact Information!
Date: Tuesday, September 19, 2017 11:24:20 AM
Attachments: MA Contacts.xlsx

Hi Everyone,

Thank you all for your patience in the creation of this list!

There is now an official Ministerial Assistant Distribution List (this includes Senior MAs and MAs) and an Executive Assistant Distribution List. To use these lists, please click on "To..." in a new e-mail, and search for "LP Ministerial Assistants" or "LP Executive Assistants." This will allow you to contact them all at once. I am also in the process of creating a list for only Senior MAs.

Also attached is a list of individual MAs/EAs with their relevant ministry. There are currently no phone numbers with this list, but we should have that soon.

My only request would be to check with me if you would like to send an e-mail to all MAs. Ideally we would work together to send one e-mail with all necessary information, rather than inundate them with e-mails from all of us. Obviously I understand if you need to do something quickly, but let's try to keep it as organized as possible.

I would also recommend that all of you join the MAs on Wednesday night (6PM in the Caucus Room). This is the first opportunity for everyone to get to know one another and what brings them to the wonderful world of BC politics! I will send you all the calendar invite shortly. Happy for you to invite your relevant staff team members as well.

Thanks everyone!

Hi, all –

I put together notes below on the Gathering so we are all on the same page about it. Please let me know if you have questions.

Thanks,
Mira

Tonight is the informal opening of the First Nations Leadership Gathering – an annual meeting. The reception tonight and two days of meetings following will be held at the Vancouver Convention Centre. Please see the note below to understand the structure of the gathering.

Agenda

For those of you that have not reviewed the Agenda, please see attached.

The event launches with a third-party reception this evening hosted by the BC Federation of Labour and the BC Business Council. This is the first year the BC Fed has been a co-host. If you are in town, please join.

The crux of the Gathering is 1:1 meetings between local First Nations and Ministers. In some cases, MLA's will be joining Ministers when it is geographically relevant. Concurrent to the 1:1 meetings are plenaries on a variety of topics. Anyone is welcome to attend but space is often limited in plenaries. The Premier and FNLC are holding a joint media availability on Wednesday morning. After welcoming remarks, PJH will speak. Minister Fraser will close the Gathering on Thursday afternoon.

1:1 Meetings

Ministers are hosting 1:1 meetings throughout the day. Note that MA's must be with them in the meetings. In almost all cases, DM's will be there as well. There are some meetings in which Ministers and DM's are joining the Premier. The meetings are 15 minutes long and there will be a scribe and timekeeper provided to them. Ministers have been provided with briefs and the Ministry will follow up with the notes following the Gathering.

Invitations

The FNLG has traditionally only been for Ministers and Chiefs. This year we invited the entire caucus as well as the Green caucus, the Liberal critic and Ellis Ross. My understanding is that a few additional Liberal MLA's are choosing to attend. An invitation was extended to each First Nation chief to bring a youth delegate with them. We want everyone to feel welcome.

Additional Information

There is a rally planned outside of the convention centre related to fish farms. It is expected that many from inside will attend.

If you have any additional questions, please don't hesitate to be in touch with me directly.

Mira Oreck, Director of Stakeholder Relations

What the B.C. Liberals have already said about today's NDP Throne Speech commitments

VICTORIA – Today's Speech from the Throne outlines the immediate actions Premier John Horgan and the New Democrat government are taking to make life better for British Columbians. Just two months ago, B.C. Liberal MLAs threw their support behind these New Democrat commitments in their own throne speech – the so-called "Clone Speech."

Will each B.C. Liberal MLA stand by their own words?

Here are just some of the things the B.C. Liberal MLAs have already said about the commitments in today's throne speech:

On improving services for British Columbians

"We have heard loud and clear people want to see some more changes in the social programs... more for British Columbians who need a helping hand."

Michelle Stilwell, Prince George Citizen, June 22, 2017

On proper funding to schools

"Governments must invest heavily in education if they wish to create a future that is prosperous for everyone...and the thousands of new teachers hired across the province will ensure [students'] continued success."

Greg Kylo, Hansard, June 27, 2017

On mental health

"I want to make sure that harm reduction services and systems of care and recovery are readily available to people."

Mary Polak, Hansard, June 29, 2017

"We will embrace innovative treatments to help save lives, while ensuring that access to harm reduction services and recovery systems of care are readily available."

Marvin Hunt, Hansard, June 27, 2017

"The emphasis on a single point of entry and accountability will be of universal benefit for those who are in need."

Joan Isaacs, Hansard, June 27, 2017

On increasing income assistance rates

"I want to see the $100-increase to social assistance rates."

Mary Polak, Hansard, June 29, 2017

"I've publicly said before that I support more money for welfare [sic]...because it's not about ideology; it's about affordability."

Laurie Throness, Hansard, June 29, 2017

On the tuition waiver for former children in care

"This is a glorious initiative, one that speaks to me and, frankly, warms my heart."

Linda Reid, Hansard, June 27, 2017

On poverty reduction

"I fully support the introduction of a new poverty reduction strategy with a focus on children."

Tom Shypitka, Hansard, June 28, 2017

On removing bridge tolls

"We've heard the concerns of the people who rely on toll bridges and roads, and we believe all communities should be treated equally...This is going to be a wonderful announcement that will, hopefully, thin out the traffic and make traffic more accessible on all the different crossings."

Ian Paton, Hansard, June 28, 2017

On closing the fixed term lease loophole

"We're committed to it if we can get it figured out."

Rich Coleman, SHAW, March 16, 2017

"To better protect renters, the government will also prohibit landlords from skirting rent control protections when term leases expire."

Jane Thornthwaite, Hansard, June 26, 2017

On affordable housing

"Our No. 1 goal is to ensure housing is affordable for British Columbians."

Teresa Wat, Hansard, June 29, 2017

"When it comes to housing affordability, British Columbians want even more government action at every level."

Michael Lee, Hansard, June 29, 2017

On new transit projects

"We look forward to now moving expeditiously to support more transit."

Sam Sullivan, Hansard, June 26, 2017

"If we really want to make a difference and reduce greenhouse gas emissions, we must invest in transit and transportation."

Jordan Sturdy, Hansard, June 27, 2017

On supporting agriculture

"Food security also matters in British Columbia. It is an issue that is important in every community across the province. As we continue to grow, we need to protect and preserve agricultural land."

Donna Barnett, Hansard, June 29, 2017

On a new way of doing politics

"We heard loud and clear in the last election campaign BCers...expect us to work together and collaborate and reach out, from a policy perspective."

Todd Stone, CHNL, June 29, 2017

"During the most recent election, voters sent us a clear and concise message that they want us, all of us as politicians, to work together, to collaborate, to cooperate on issues that are important to British Columbians."

Dan Davies, Hansard, June 28, 2017

"I heard loud and clear from the people in my riding...what they expect from me and from those in Victoria. They want more cooperation and less bickering. They want less politics and more performance. And they reminded me that B.C. should come first, not political parties."

Michael Lee, Hansard, June 29, 2017

On getting big money out of politics

"During the election, I put forward the opinion that the issue of campaign funding reform should be resolved prior to the next election."

Norm Letnick, Hansard, June 27, 2017

On electoral reform

"We are committed to enabling a third referendum with a clear question."

Todd Stone, Hansard, June 27, 2017

"We have committed to a third referendum on electoral reform."

John Yap, Hansard, June 28, 2017

Hello Everyone,

Thank you for taking part in a briefing for political staff as we head into the next week of the legislative session. The meeting will be attended by all political staff in Minister's offices.

Many staff are arriving this Sunday to start their new role on Monday morning. Please see the note below sent to all political staff from Chief of Staff Geoff Meggs.

The agenda timing is very tight and it has already been extended to 7:45PM. Your time on the agenda may move as I understand there are other briefings going on at the same time that may pull people away.

This is the internal agenda, not for distribution:

6:30PM Weekly Message and Media – Director of Communications Sage Aaron/Deputy Director Jen Holmwood

7:30PM Caucus Coordination – Government Caucus Executive Director Roseanne Moran, Caucus Communications Director Ed May

7:45PM Wrap-up – Geoff Meggs

I will connect with you individually prior to Sunday. Please note there will be more extensive briefings and orientation in the days and weeks to come, this is only meant to prepare people for the rush of the first week.

Please call with any questions.

Thank you,

Hi Everyone,

I hope you are all doing well and I'm looking forward to seeing many of you tomorrow.

In addition to the less formal check-ins, we have decided to do a formalized weekly MA meeting.

These meetings will be held every Friday at 10AM in the Caucus Room. This is an opportunity for the Chief of Staff and others to brief you on the week ahead, provide you with any pertinent information you may need and answer questions.

While we would like as many as possible to attend in person, we will provide a teleconference line for those unable to do so.

These meetings will begin in the first week of October.

Thank you!

Layne
