Tomorrow morning. Yes, PM is at event. I assume finance has the credit rating decisions but JTT may have more - major tech investment in Burnaby this year, etc

Geoff in addition to a quick statement I'd think an info bulletin that does a quick roll-up and any background info would be helpful.

So - do we have any such additional info and - at night I engage JTT comms staff to prepare?

Evan
Is PMJT in place tomorrow?

Good afternoon,

I've just been contacted by Amazon with the news that they are announcing a very large number of new jobs (3,000) for Vancouver, over and above the 1,000 last year, to be housed in the Canada Post building project downtown. This is strictly embargoed until 9.45. The jobs should arrive by 2022. Apparently federal immigration changes have something to do with it, hence the arrival of the PM for the announcement (and our absence.) However, Sage, I would like you to get a statement drafted to include PJH and MBR to welcome the news, particularly the confirmation of confidence in our economy in the wake of the credit rating confirmations.
