Hi Jon,

Attached is our latest list of public engagements. Hopefully it suits your purposes.

A couple of things that are worth understanding for context:

- GCPE's Government Digital Experience Division, through its citizen engagement team, supports consultations across government
- We endeavour to service all consultations as best we can through a set of common, good practice tools and methods that enhance the quality of engagement for government as a whole. Our work encompasses online and face to face engagement.
- Because cabinet and ministers make decisions about what consultations they want and when, we are mainly in a position to manage these engagements, rather than determine overall priority. GCPE can and does influence the timing of launches should there be conflicts with other launches etc..
- This is an historically exceptionally high level of work for our unit of 7 FTEs plus contractors.

I have this document available as a spreadsheet as well if that's the format you prefer. Also copying in my Director for Citizen Engagement, Tanya Twynstra, who is overseeing these projects.

David

Hi Jon – could you forward this to Caelie Frampton in Minister Heyman's office? I cannot find her direct email.

Many thanks, and have a great weekend!

Andrea

Hello Caelie,

Just left you a voicemail - I was given your number from Jon Robinson in the Premier's office.

My name is Andrea Barnett and I am contacting you on behalf of Ducks Unlimited Canada. My colleague Les Bogdan has been corresponding with Kirsten Neilson on a few matters, which I expand on in my email today.

We are scheduled to meet with Minister Heyman on May 28th, which we are grateful for and looking forward to.

Additionally, as you are likely aware, we are having a 80th/50th (National/ BC) anniversary of our conservation work in Victoria on May the 27th. This is a celebration and will not be a fundraising event. This will be a gathering of DUC volunteers, government, non-government, first nation and industry conservation partners as well as elected officials from all parties. Additionally, we are honoured to have the Honourable Janet Austin attending and providing an address.

We have Minister Heyman confirmed to attend, with the caveat that travel considerations may find him arriving late.

I have attached a copy of the draft program for the evening. You will note that we are providing a representative from each party with the chance to speak. As a celebratory event and given everyone's mutual interest in wetland conservation, we are hoping that remarks are supportive of conservation partnerships and show commitment to moving forward with more conservation measures to help conserve wetlands in the future.

We want to set this up to be a positive event and provide the Minister and government with an opportunity to show leadership related to wetlands. You will note that, as per protocol, the government representative speaks first.

Mr. Wilkinson and Mr. Weaver are both attending and will speak.

We will provide each speaker with the following suggested range of topics:

- The values that wetlands provide for all British Columbians like protecting water quality, moderating the effects of flood and drought, providing critical habitat for species, cultural, educational and recreational values and climate change mitigation and adaptation benefits.
- The value of non-government and volunteer-led conservation initiatives and organizations, such as Ducks Unlimited Canada and our many ENGO and community partners.
- The legacy of conservation partnerships in BC – including indigenous, government, non-government and industry partners – and the need to continue and expand on this important work.
- The fact that, unfortunately, wetlands continue to be lost in a variety of contexts in BC, and that more actions are needed to conserve this critical resource for future generations.
- Support for enhanced planning, inventory, monitoring and policy measures, such as the development and implementation of a wetland policy for BC, that would help ensure that wetland values are retained in the context of development. (Development of a wetland policy is something that, as you know, we have been working with government on for several years with much support, and that we are hopeful can be a priority in the near future)

Would like to speak with you or someone from your office to:

1. Confirm that the Minister will attend the dinner event on May 27th.
2. Determine whether he will be in time for the speaking engagement, or whether we need to find an alternative speaker from his ministry or from elsewhere in government.
3. Discuss whether there is any information required to help prepare the short remarks.
4. Discuss any questions or concerns you have related to the event or the program.

My cell number is s.22

I look forward to hearing from you.

Andrea Barnett

Subject: RE: Executive Director Housing Committee - Outcomes and Indicators Framework Working Group

Good afternoon,

It was nice to meet all (most) of you this morning. Attached is the presentation I gave this morning

As discussed, I'm looking for members to join a working group that would develop an Outcomes and Indicators Framework (item 3 of the EDHC mandate). Our objective is to draft a framework that would report back on a set of outcomes and indicators measuring the health of the housing market. The group would consist of either yourselves or a delegate, I'm thinking only one meeting would be required but there could be two, depending on how the first goes. The first meeting would be anywhere from two to three hours and there will be materials to review prior to the meeting.

Could each of you let me know whether or not your branch/office/agency would like to be participate, and if so, the name(s) of people who would be attending? If you could provide this information by Thursday afternoon at 4 PM, that will give us enough time to start organizing the first workshop.

Please let me know if you require further information or have any questions.

Thank-you for your support.

Best regards,

Jackie

Hi Jon - attached is the spreadsheet I referred to on our call. I'd welcome suggestions of specific things we can/should be tracking that fit our mandate and will act as future proof points, as well as create opportunities for roll-up announcements and such.

I'm going to get Education going on tracking school infrastructure announcements for sure.

Thinking AEST could be tracking spaces created in various topics and regions as well.

And Health - but I'm not asking them until after they launch their big initiatives later this month and into June.

Cheers.

Mike

Hi Layne,

So you can see what the tracking looks like to this point, I've attached for you.

The housing tab is fairly complete up to last Friday. The childcare tab has data that breaks out all the individual projects for spaces that were funded last fall – next step is to go back to the ministry and see what other sorts of announcements they have made that could be tracked in this way.

More tabs/data will be added going forward.

Hi Brenda,

These look good to me.

One question: will the white paper include draft legislation, or legislative options? Also, it is unclear to me why this white paper doesn't need to go through HWG or cabinet first. Suzanne and I have been having difficulty seeing a draft as well.

- Learned FIN will launch white paper in May that contains policy and legislative options with the feedback period ending in July

It all looks good to me. One minor comment: the Step 2 facilitated session is on June 6, not June 16th.

Thanks Don.

I am meeting with Suzanne at 11:30, so perhaps I'll be able to pop in quickly first if you're not busy. Otherwise, Keira has booked 15 mins for us on Thursday at 10am.

I just wanted to touch base on climate change, quickly discuss the piece I did for Geoff, and make sure I am assisting your thinking on this moving forward.

Thanks,
Jon

Jon,

You wanted to talk to me on Friday about climate change.

I probably have some time around 11:30 today, if that would work for you.

If that doesn't work, perhaps we could catch up on Thursday.

Thanks Jon.
