I think the report Rick Williams was speaking about during our meeting gets released sometime this week, so I am sure he or Devlin will forward it when it can be distributed. His e-mail is Williams@praxisresearch.ns.ca if you wanted to follow up.

He had also sent me the following documents after we met with them last week. One of the attachments is the same as the one you sent this morning. I haven't been through all of these yet.

Thanks very much.

Tim and Christine – here is a revised deck (Slides 8 & 9 only revised), based on discussion/direction from DW yesterday. There was a lot of points to cover off describing Option 2a, so we've put the Considerations points into the Notes section at the bottom. These revisions have been reviewed and revised by MAG (3 senior legal advisors). We have not run any revisions by the other ministries since the PO has been engaged. Let us know if this hits the mark or if it needs some further revisions.

Thanks everyone for your work on and input to the s.12 deck.

The updated deck with Don's additions is attached. This will be on-screen in Chambers this afternoon, and we will have a few printed copies for anyone that wants them.

Don will present but will rely on all of you for specific questions within your areas. As you know, his intent is to focus this meeting on selecting the approach government wants to take. The administrative process for carrying out that approach (ELUC order or otherwise) would be handled subsequently.

I notice a couple of items requiring clarification:

- Meals should be billed as per the per diem rates for group III (Attached). Therefore, receipts are not required when out of town (Meaning outside Victoria)
- Receipts for actuals are required when meals are incurred in Victoria
- In general, for the items it is important to include as much details as possible for auditing purposes. s.22
- Additional information on hours worked – ie. what was the work on each day – eg. announcement and initiation meeting and total hours that day. Reading, report writing XXhrs.
- Receipts acceptable as submitted.

Please revise Dec and Jan invoices accordingly. Please let me know if you require a copy of the contract – these details are included in there. Please contact me if you have any questions.

Hi Jenn

I have reviewed Chapman Invoice 6 and Circle Square Invoices 1070 and 1071 and all are now ready for your QR and for EA.

Minor corrections have been made to each invoice as follows:

Chapman #6 – I removed $²² from the $¹⁵ bill, I corrected a lunch/dinner per diem, and also added in a per diem that had been missed.

Abbott inv 1071 – an edit was made to remove the $²² portion of a dinner meeting at the University Club

For your reference, I also attached a spreadsheet called "Tracking of Invoices". I will keep this sheet updated for tracking purposes.

Please QR the 3 attached invoices and forward to Christine Kennedy.

(Note that I still need to go back and review the Chapman invoices to-date to ensure they were properly processed/paid.)

Thanks

Subject: Reading - 2017 Annual Report of Alaska Salmon Enhancement Program

Alaska has been doing salmon enhancement (ranching) since the 1970s. They have a pretty extensive program and produce a detailed annual report (linked above). As you may not have time to read the whole thing, I copied and pasted the executive summary below. If you would like to read it, I have a printed copy that you are welcome to use.

Alaska's modern hatchery program was developed in response to historically low salmon abundance in the early 1970s (Figure 1). In 1971, the Alaska Legislature established the Division of Fisheries Rehabilitation Enhancement and Development (FRED) within the Alaska Department of Fish and Game (ADF&G) for hatchery development. In 1972, Alaska voters approved an amendment to the state Constitution (Article 8, section 15), providing for an exemption to the "no exclusive right of fishery" clause, enabling limited entry to Alaska's state fisheries and allowing harvest of salmon for broodstock and cost recovery for hatcheries. In 1974, the Alaska Legislature expanded the hatchery program, authorizing private nonprofit (PNP) corporations to operate salmon hatcheries (Table 33). Alaska's salmon hatchery program developed under this authority and was designed to supplement—not replace—sustainable natural production.

Alaska's salmon fishery harvests were just 22 million fish in 1973 and 1974 (Figure 1). Since then, Alaska's post-statehood hatchery program has produced significant contributions to the fisheries alongside sustainable, healthy, well-managed wild production. The five largest wild stock harvests in Alaska history occurred, in order of descending rank, in 1995, 2013, 2017, 2015 and 1993. The top five hatchery harvests have occurred since 2005, with the largest hatchery harvests in 2013 and 2015.

The success of the hatchery program is attributable to Alaska standards requiring hatcheries to be located away from important natural salmon stocks, to use local broodstock sources, and to mark hatchery fish as necessary so that fisheries managers can determine the strength of wild stocks in the catch and manage wild stocks conservatively. In addition, Alaska hatcheries do not selectively breed for size or any other trait and use large numbers of broodstock to maintain genetic diversity per the state's Genetic Policy.

Hatcheries function to improve egg-to-juvenile survival. Depending on species, egg-to-fry survival averages about 10% or less in nature due to flooding, freezing, drought, predation, etc. In hatcheries, egg-to-fry survival is usually 90% or higher. Once hatchery-raised juveniles are released to the ocean, they are subject to the same elements for survival as their naturally-spawned counterparts.

Currently, there are 29 hatcheries operating in Southeast Alaska, Prince William Sound, Cook Inlet, and Kodiak regions (Figure 2, Table 31 and Table 32). Most facilities (25 hatcheries) are operated by PNPs. ADF&G operates two sport fish hatcheries in Anchorage and Fairbanks. The National Marine Fisheries Service operates a research hatchery at Little Port Walter. The Metlakatla Indian Community operates Tamgas Creek Hatchery.

Hello Christine. It was great to finally meet you in person yesterday.

Regarding your call re: possible briefing on fire/flood review – Green Caucus Chief of Staff has declined, but was happy to know work is proceeding. She indicated potential interest in a meeting prior to public release of findings, if that could be possible. I'm happy to say in touch with you about this.

For email records:

- Go to Sent Items folder and scroll down to date range

- Option3: Drag all responsive emails onto a USB stick and provide the stick to me

For text message records:

- Take screenshots of all conversations containing responsive records. Please see attached instructions for this

If you have any issues with compiling these records, please let me know and I will be happy to help!

Records of any and all emails (excluding attachments), text messages, BBMs, slack messages, and WhatsApp messages sent from Christine Kennedy.

Alex, let me know if this meets your needs. It has been reviewed by Don Wright and Geoff Meggs and includes comments from the Ministries.

We are expecting that the Premier will announce this initiative, but I don't know when that is planned for yet.

Good summary Christine. I will now turn over to Alex/Christian who have the responsibility for AGRI and they will work with their budget shop, with the objective of getting the TB Chair to sign a funding decision letter sometime next week.

It is likely that this funding would involve an announcement / news release by the Premier, but that remains to be determined.

Wes, please feel free to add anything. s.12

Hello Gord,

I had left a voice mail the other day, but as it is such a busy time I thought I would follow up with an e-mail as well.

You had contacted by colleague Suzanne Christiansen about an allocation of funds for s.12 s.12 . I am the one working on that project for our office. Let me know when you might have a few minutes to chat.

Thanks very much.
