The Bachelor - BC politics edition

VISUALS: Chris Harrison snippets from youtube

SCRIPT (depends on what he says):

Welcome to after the final rose. This was the most dramatic season yet. Lots of drama and twists and turns that no one saw coming. Let's take a look at the dramatic events that got us here tonight.

VISUALS: We could use snippets from BC election from youtube and do a voiceover with this? We'd need to end with him staring out a window with a rose in his hand.

SCRIPT:

After several group dates, some one on ones, bachelor nation (the electorate) was left confused. Pick the woman who offered stability, liked to limit her spending, and who had a track record or go with the guy who promised to have pockets bulging with new savings? That's the choice facing Andrew Weaver. A former rugby player, a climate scientist who understands not only evidence-based decision making but also that the heart wants what it wants.

VISUALS: Need to tape this as an interview. Andrew Weaver, Most powerful man in BC

Producer: Andrew it's decision day. Where are you at with this decision?

Andrew: Christy and I have history that includes working together on legislation. Is there anything more magical than that? But I think my Green family likes John. They think he's a better fit. But he can come on really strong. Sometimes I think, he maybe just needs to calm down a bit. It's tough though. Do I go with my heart or my mind?

VISUALS: Need to tape as an interview. John Horgan, 57, Ready to get out of Opposition

Producer: Are you ready for tonight?

Horgan: As much as I can be. Andrew and I had an amazing time at a soccer match this weekend. I really think that's the foundation for a political bromance that can last.

Producer: Do you think Andrew is going to pop the question tonight?

Horgan: I don't know. We had a rocky start to our relationship. I thought he was really into the Liberals. And his team seems a bit emotional. A week of emotional and personal attacks during the election apparently had them crying. But I don't know what I'll do if he rejects me. I can picture my life with him. With me as premier. And him as the green dog wagging the NDP tail.

VISUALS: Need to tape an interview. Christy Clark, 51? Frontrunner

Clark: I'm pretty confident about tonight. Andrew and I have history. We've been through things together. And now we have a bond. I'm not sure if his entire Green family likes me but I think we can work through it.

Producer: What if he picks Horgan?

Clark: Horgan? As premier? (uncontrollable laughter). Come on. We both know he's not ready for that type of commitment. He's not in it for the right reasons. He got^{s.22} and fancy new suits – but we know he's still the same John Horgan who....

VISUALS: Andrew enters the Rose Garden? Sound available from Chris Harrison?

And now the moment of truth. Who will Andrew Weaver pick? Let's catch up with him live.

I had a question about this story in BIV that quotes Minister Mungall as saying:

<https://biv.com/article/2018/05/petronas-taking-stake-lng-canada-energy-minister>

"And to fully emphasize that point, Petronas is now investing in LNG Canada's project," she added.

Would you be able to confirm if that comment was:

- from an interview with BIV? There are analyst notes circulating saying it was said at a press conference
- if so, is there a recording or transcript of the press conference available somewhere?
- is that quote accurate?

Thanks and Best,

Would Premier Horgan be available for an interview this week to talk about Trans Mountain and the record high gas prices?

We can do the interview late Thursday afternoon or any time on Friday.

We can also send a camera to the legislature if that makes things easier for him.

The interview would be about 7 minutes long, one-on-one with our host Evan Solomon.

Please let me know whether we can make something work this week.

Also reached out to Vaughn and he would be interested in participating as well.
Not sure what that would look like... Maybe at the end Horgan could say something or question it being the "final show from the Shaw studio" and Palmer could barge in and ask "what are you talking about Premier? The last show from here? What about Voice of BC? Are you telling me that it has been cancelled too?!?"

We will need some cameras to shoot it with and some mics (as I no longer have access to the mobile)... a hard hat and safety vest would be fun for the taking down of the panels in the background if you can round those up?

Hope this helps get you started... let me know if there is anything else you need from me (besides access to the studio, ha ha).

V/O (Kristina): If I could direct your attention to the screen and have you confirm our graphics for accuracy and spelling...

PREMIER: So Kristina, I am I to understand that this is the last show that is going to be taped here at the Shaw studio?

V/O (Kristina): No... Shaw hasn't said they were cancelling the show... but I only have 5 days left...

PREMIER: Let me guess... Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday?

V/O (Kristina): Sounds about right!

PREMIER: We'll be sorry to see you go, but glad that the show will carry on. Not sure how they will do that without you, but glad it's not going anywhere!

V/O (Kristina): Quiet on the set, mics are hot. Coming through to camera 1 in 5... 4... 3... 2... 1... and through to 1.

HOST: Welcome to Constituency Report on Shaw TV. Today we have a very special guest with us in the studio. He is the MLA for Langford - Juan de Fuca and Premier of British Columbia, John Horgan. Welcome to the show Premier.

PREMIER: Thanks for having me. I always enjoy appearing on this show. It gives me a chance to let the folks in my constituency know what I've been up to and what's coming up.

HOST: And that's a great place to start! What has been going on since you were last on the show?

PREMIER: Ad libs...

CREW MEMBER walks past the table and removes the flowers and mugs from the table. Host and guest look confused, but continue on with the interview.

HOST & PREMIER continue to ad lib as CREW MEMBER removes table from set.
Next, appearing in a hard hat in safety vest, panels start coming off the walls as set is deconstructed as interview continues.
Pillow is removed from behind the Premier as he sits in chair.

With all but the chairs that they are sitting in left, host wraps up the show.

HOST: Our thanks to John Horgan for appearing on the show today. Thanks John.

PREMIER: It was a pleasure to be here.

HOST: And thanks for watching Constituency Report on Shaw TV.

V/O (Kristina): And we're clear.

PREMIER: Ok, something is going on here...[You would know best how the Premier would continue from here. And may have some better ideas for how we get Vaughn included.]

Subject: CBC radio public forum on housing Wednesday May 9th-request for participation
Greetings from CBC Vancouver,

We are holding a public forum in Richmond next Wednesday evening, focused on housing. We've partnered with Fairchild Radio and will translate in Cantontese & Mandarin. Our broadcast will be live across B.C. and stream on Facebook as well. (details below)

The townhall is part of a project which includes a podcast called Sold.

<http://www.cbc.ca/radio/podcasts/current-affairs-information/sold/>

I urge you to listen to it. Here's what we heard as we talked to people for the podcast. This issue is dividing us. It's rich against poor. Old against young. Racial tensions are there too.

So our event is about collaborating and exploring solutions.

How about it? If all three B.C. parties commit to participating we could change up our format & create an opportunity for the public to engage with their leaders in a meaningful way.

Oh. And this event is happening in a church. The pastor chose to develop the property to achieve affordable housing for his community.

It's a venue we believe will inspire an informed and heartfelt discussion. I hope you see the value of taking part. Many thanks for your consideration.

Laura

Is housing an investment or a human right?

Following the launch of SOLD!, CBC Vancouver's new original podcast, CBC Vancouver and Fairchild Radio are partnering to host a public forum on housing in Metro Vancouver.

Moderated by Stephen Quinn, host of CBC Radio One's The Early Edition, join us on Wednesday, May 9th as we delve into the question at the heart of the issue: is housing an investment or a human right?

Wednesday, May 9th, 2018
7:30-9 p.m. | Doors 7 p.m.
Brighthouse United Church
8151 Bennett Road, Richmond

FREE Registration: soldforum.eventbrite.com
Mandarin and Cantonese interpretation available.

Can't make it in person? The forum will be available on Facebook Live and as a live broadcast on CBC Radio One across B.C.

Hosted by CBC Vancouver in partnership with Fairchild Radio.

Hey Sheena!

Horgan mentioned that he wanted to do a video submission for the MLA skit night of the deconstructing of the Constituency Report set.

Thought I would try and save you some time by giving you the bare bones of what it might look like (since I have sat through thousands of them, I pretty much know how they go).

Also reached out to Vaughn and he would be interested in participating as well.
Not sure what that would look like... Maybe at the end Horgan could say something or question it being the "final show from the Shaw studio" and Palmer could barge in and ask "what are you talking about Premier? The last show from here? What about Voice of BC? Are you telling me that it has been cancelled too?!?"

We will need some cameras to shoot it with and some mics (as I no longer have access to the mobile)... a hard hat and safety vest would be fun for the taking down of the panels in the background if you can round those up?

Hope this helps get you started... let me know if there is anything else you need from me (besides access to the studio, ha ha).

Hi Sheena,

Although everything is set up for the interview that Steve Burgess has with Premier Horgan this afternoon I just wasn't able to get the photo shoot to line up at the same time (or right after).

Could we possibly set up a time either tomorrow or Thursday (or even Friday) for the photographer Nik West to do a proper portrait - he will need a bit of time to figure out the shot and do the lighting but once he's done that will only need the Premier for a few minutes to actually take the shot.

Where is the best location to do this? Nik mentioned that his offices are in Langford although the parliament buildings are a pretty spectacular background.

Sorry we couldn't do them both at one time.

We will work around Premier's schedule and location.

Thanks so much!!

Cathy

CREW MEMBER walks past the table and removes the flowers and mugs from the table. Host and guest look confused, but continue on with the interview.

HOST & PREMIER continue to ad lib as CREW MEMBER removes table from set.

Next, appearing in a hard hat in safety vest, panels start coming off the walls as set is deconstructed as interview continues.

Pillow is removed from behind the Premier as he sits in chair.

With all but the chairs that they are sitting in left, host wraps up the show.

HOST: Our thanks to John Horgan for appearing on the show today. Thanks John.

PREMIER: It was a pleasure to be here.

HOST: And thanks for watching Constituency Report on Shaw TV.

V/O (Kristina): And we're clear.

PREMIER: Ok, something is going on here...[You would know best how the Premier would continue from here. And may have some better ideas for how we get Vaughn included.]

I am currently working the order of events in next week's Corporate Calendar – it would be helpful to know for scheduling around that date/time.

The Bachelor - BC politics edition

Host: Rob Shaw

John Horgan: John Horgan

Andrew Weaver: Andrew Weaver

Mike Bernier: Mike Bernier!

Note from Bhinder - we've taken out the producer position and given it to Rob.

*Another note from Bhinder - right now, I'd estimate this is 5 minutes worth of tape. I'd suggest we don't go longer than that.

TAPED INTRODUCTION

Visuals: from Baby Bachelor video

Host: First, there was the Bachelor. Then the Bachelorette. And now....

Visuals: of all three participants, slo mo if we can.

BC Bachelor! After years of featuring young, attractive people looking for love – we decided to do something different this year. All of our contestants are 50 plus and married.

THIS CAN BE TAPED OR LIVE

(If live - welcome to our live studio audience for what was -- the most dramatic season of the Bachelor, ever.)

Host: After an election campaign fraught with tension as three big personalities collided, there was an unclear election result. Recounts. And now it's all down to this. Who will Andrew Weaver choose to get into a political relationship with?

Tonight, you'll see the most emotional episode in Bachelor history. Never in the history of television have we seen drama like this. It's raw and uncut and you're not going to want to miss it.

Let's take a look.

ANDREW

VISUALS: Need to tape this as an interview. Andrew Weaver, Most powerful man in BC

Host: Andrew where are you at with this decision?

Andrew: the Liberals and I have history that includes working together on legislation. Is there anything more magical than that? But I think my Green family likes John. They think he's a better fit. But he can come on really strong. Sometimes I think, he maybe just needs to calm down a bit. It's tough though. Do I go with my heart or my mind?

JOHN

VISUALS: Need to tape as an interview. John Horgan, 57, Ready to get out of Opposition or Not Angry Anymore?

Host: Are you ready for tonight John?

Horgan: As much as I can be. Andrew and I had an amazing time at a rugby match this weekend. I really think that's the foundation for a political bromance that can last. I actually now can't picture life without him.

Host: Do you think Andrew is going to pop the question tonight?

Horgan: I don't know. We had a rocky start to our relationship. I thought he was really into the Liberals. And his Green family seems a bit emotional. A bunch of personal attacks during the election apparently had them crying. But at the end of the day it comes down to he and I. I think we have a connection. I can see us together, with me as premier. And him as the green tail wagging the NDP dog.

MIKE

VISUALS: Need to tape an interview. Mike Bernier, Stand in for Christy Clark

Host: So, where's Christy?

Mike Bernier: Well, I mean she's supposed to be here by now. I'm sure she just got delayed. But that was our strategy all along. She's going to come in at the last minute and just sweep Andrew off his feet.

Host: And you're confident this will work?

Mike Bernier: Absolutely. Listen, no one can close the deal like Christy. She just needs a few minutes with Andrew. They're scheduled to meet in about an hour. I think she'll tell him it makes the most sense to choose us. I mean John Horgan's not in it for the right reasons. He just wants to overthrow the Liberals. He doesn't want to partner with the Greens.

BACK TO HOST

Rob: And now the moment of truth. Who will Andrew Weaver pick? Did he have his last minute meeting with Clark? Let's catch up with him – where else – but in the Rose Garden.

ROSE GARDEN

VISUALS: Interview-style clip

Andrew: I'm so nervous. I don't know if I'm making the right decision. But I know what I have to do.

VISUALS: Cut to Rob and others in the Rose Garden;

Rob (holding rose): Andrew. Gentlemen. This is the final rose of the evening. (hands rose to Andrew)
To the other contestants, if you do not receive a rose, please take a moment and say your goodbyes. Andrew, are you ready to meet the man of your dreams? Good luck with your decision. (walk away)

VISUALS: Horgan, Bernier and Weaver see each other – but are nervous.

Horgan: Andrew, when I first met you, I didn't really like you. You were trying to steal votes from me. But then, something unexpected happened. The election was really, really close. And that's when I realized. Maybe I needed you. So here we are.

Bernier: Andrew, we are pals. I know you expected to see someone else here in my place, but that doesn't mean we don't care. There's a natural attraction here. And we have history, from before a nasty election. This bromance, has lasting power. I think the choice is clear.

Andrew: Well, this was a really tough choice. But John when I first met you, I despised you. You seemed like, really, really angry all the time. But then you got s.²² And then after that, you seemed to soften up. Since then I've gotten to know you. And I think we can work together. Also Sonia threw up when I mentioned the Liberals – so, yeah. This seems like an okay choice. Will you accept this rose?

(Horgan & Andrew embrace)

Host: We hope you enjoyed this dramatic season of the BC Bachelor...

kicker?

Hi there

Here it is:

JOHN AND ROB – SHOOT AT 11:30 AM THURSDAY

Place roses and candles around this shoot

Do two takes – can be off the shoulder, have zooms

(TWO SHOT)

ROB: Are you ready for tonight John?

(SINGLE ON JOHN)

Horgan: As much as I can be. Andrew and I had an amazing time at a rugby match this weekend. I really think that's the foundation for a political bromance that can last. I actually now can't picture life without him.

(SINGLE ON ROB)

ROB: Do you think Andrew is going to pop the question tonight?

(SINGLE ON JOHN)

Horgan: I don't know. We had a rocky start to our relationship. I thought he was really into the Liberals. And his Green family seems a bit emotional. A bunch of personal attacks during the election apparently had them crying. But at the end of the day it comes down to he and I. I think we have a connection. I can see us together, with me as premier. And him as the green tail wagging the NDP dog.

JOHN'S INTERVIEW – SHOOT AT 11:45 AM THURSDAY

(SINGLE ON JOHN – SPEAKS TO CAMERA)

This is more casual – could be playing with rugby stuff – wearing Trek shirt etc

Hi, I'm John from Langford. I'm 58 years old. I love old things, and I'm an amateur stripper...of furniture. People say I'm a geek because I really like Star Wars but I have a diverse variety of passions - like Star Trek. I'm looking for a First Officer and I think Andrew's it.

MIKE'S INTRVIEW – SHOOT AT 1PM THURSDAY

(SINGLE ON MIKE – SPEAKS TO CAMERA)

We need to get Mike's car in the shot – location is TBD but his car is in back parking lot

Hi, I'm Mike from Dawson Creek. I'm 50 years old...and I love playing in my band! (sound up). When I'm not doing politics or spending time with my family you can find me in my 85 Fiero. Chicks dig it. I think Andrew will too.

MIKE AND ROB – SHOOT AT 1:15 THURSDAY – MEET AT BACK STEPS

(ROB IS OFF CAMERA – SINGLE ON BERNIER)

I think we should shoot this outside also – perhaps library steps? There's cover in case it rains)

ROB: So, where's Christy?

Mike Bernier: Well, I mean she's supposed to be here by now. I'm sure she just got delayed. But that was our strategy all along. She's going to come in at the last minute and just sweep Andrew off his feet.

(SINGLE OF ROB)

ROB: And you're confident this will work?

(TWO SHOT)

Mike Bernier: Absolutely. Listen, no one can close the deal like Christy. She just needs a few minutes with Andrew. They're scheduled to meet in about an hour. I think she'll tell him it makes the most sense to choose us. I mean John Horgan's not in it for the right reasons. He just wants to overthrow the Liberals. He doesn't want to partner with the Greens.

ALL CHARACTERS – FINAL SCENE – THURSDAY 1:30 IN ROSE GARDEN

ANDREW SPEAKS TO SOMEONE OFF CAMERA – CAMERA IS OFF THE SHOULDER

Andrew: I'm so nervous. I don't know if I'm making the right decision. But I know what I have to do.

LONG SHOT -- Andrew walks towards the three others gathered in the Rose Garden.

(FOUR SHOT – ZOOM INTO ROB)

Rob (holding rose): Andrew. Gentlemen. This is the final rose of the evening. (hands rose to Andrew) To the other contestants, if you do not receive a rose, please take a moment and say your goodbyes. Andrew, are you ready to meet the man of your dreams? Good luck with your decision. (Rob walks out of the shot)

ROB TO RECORD VOICE OVER (NOT ON CAMERA) – RECORDING TBD

ROB: First, there was the Bachelor. Then the Bachelorette. And now....

BC Bachelor! After years of featuring young, attractive people looking for love – we decided to do something different this year. All of our contestants are 50 plus and married.

ANDREW AND ROB – SHOOT ON FRIDAY TBD

(TWO SHOT)

Candles and roses in background

ROB: Andrew where are you at with this decision?

(ZOOM INTO ANDREW)

Andrew: the Liberals and I have history that includes working together on legislation. Is there anything more magical than that? But I think my Green family likes John. They think he's a better fit. But he can come on really strong. Sometimes I think, he maybe just needs to calm down a bit. It's tough though. Do I go with my heart or my mind?

ANDREW INTERVIEW – SHOOT ON FRIDAY TBD

(ANDREW SPEAKS TO CAMERA)

This is the casual shoot – he can be in a Hawaiian shirt

(Andrew is playing Pokemon Go on his phone....)

Hi I'm Andrew, I'm 56 years old, I love playing Pokemon Go, I want to see World Climate Peace. But even more than that, I want to meet someone I can shoot a paintball gun with. And if you're looking to win my confidence, you got to supply me with the right reasons.

NEWS RELEASE

Province submits court reference to protect B.C.'s coast

VICTORIA - The Government of British Columbia has submitted a reference question to the B.C. Court of Appeal today to affirm its right to protect B.C. from the threat of a diluted bitumen spill.

The reference question concerns provincial autonomy, particularly the rights of British Columbia to regulate the environmental and economic impacts of heavy oils, like diluted bitumen, transported through the province. It was filed today in the B.C. Court of Appeal.

"We have asked the courts to confirm B.C.'s powers within our jurisdiction to defend B.C.'s interests, so that there is clarity for today and for the generations to come," said Premier John Horgan. "Our government will continue to stand up for the right to protect B.C.'s environment, economy and coast."

On March 12, 2018, the government announced it had retained expert legal counsel to prepare and present a reference case related to B.C.'s right to protect the province's land, coast and waters.

For its reference, the B.C. government is asking the court to review proposed amendments to the Environmental Management Act that would give the Province authority to regulate impacts of heavy oils, like diluted bitumen, which, when released into the environment, would endanger human health, the environment and communities.

"We have been clear from the outset that the appropriate way to resolve disagreements over jurisdiction is through the courts, not through threats or unlawful measures to target citizens of another province," said David Eby, Attorney General. "This reference question seeks to confirm the scope and extent of provincial powers to regulate environmental and economic risks related to heavy oils like diluted bitumen."

The Province has been engaged with Indigenous groups, industry, environmental organizations and local governments to improve spill response in British Columbia.

"Our government is working to protect our economy, environment and communities by making sure we have effective spills prevention, response and recovery in place," said George Heyman, Minister of Environment and Climate Change Strategy. "A single spill of diluted bitumen would put at risk tens of thousands of jobs across B.C. We have a responsibility to ensure that every measure to reduce risks is in place, and that those responsible for spills are held accountable for fixing any environmental damage they cause."

In January 2018, B.C. proposed a second phase of regulations to improve preparedness, response and recovery from potential spills. The regulations would apply to pipelines transporting any quantity of liquid petroleum products, as well as rail or truck operations transporting more than 10,000 litres of liquid petroleum products.

The proposed regulations would ensure geographically appropriate response plans, improve response times, ensure compensation for loss of public use of land and maximize the application of regulations to marine transport.

This work builds on the first phase of new spill regulations, approved in October 2017, under the Environmental Management Act, which established a standard of preparedness, response and recovery necessary to protect B.C.'s environment.

Quick Facts:

- * A legal reference is an advisory opinion on a point of law. The B.C. Court of Appeal is the highest court to which the Province can send a reference question.
- * British Columbia's reference seeks to clarify provincial jurisdiction with regard to regulating the potential impacts of heavy oils, like bitumen, that would endanger human health, the environment and communities.
- * B.C. has had two recent references: One regarding the constitutionality of polygamy, and one related to third-party advertising in elections.

BACKGROUND 1 Order-in-council and Reference Question

On the recommendation of the undersigned, the Lieutenant Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council, orders that the questions set out below be referred to the British Columbia Court of Appeal for hearing and consideration under the Constitutional Question Act:

- 1 Is it within the legislative authority of the Legislature of British Columbia to enact legislation substantially in the form set out in the attached Appendix?
- 2 If the answer to question 1 is yes, would the attached legislation be applicable to hazardous substances brought into British Columbia by means of interprovincial undertakings?
- 3 If the answers to questions 1 and 2 are yes, would existing federal legislation render all or part of the attached legislation inoperative?

APPENDIX

Environmental Management Act

1 The following Part is added to the Environmental Management Act, S.B.C. 2003, c. 53:

PART 2.1 - HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCE PERMITS

Purposes

22.1 The purposes of this Part are

- (a) to protect, from the adverse effects of releases of hazardous substances,
 - (i) British Columbia's environment, including the terrestrial, freshwater, marine and atmospheric environment,
 - (ii) human health and well-being in British Columbia, and
 - (iii) the economic, social and cultural vitality of communities in British Columbia, and
- (b) to implement the polluter pays principle.

Interpretation

22.2 The definition of "permit" in section 1 (1) does not apply to this Part.

Requirement for hazardous substance permits

22.3 (1) In the course of operating an industry, trade or business, a person must not, during a calendar year, have possession, charge or control of a substance listed in Column 1 of the Schedule, and defined in Column 2 of the Schedule, in a total amount equal to or greater than the minimum amount set out in Column 3 of the Schedule unless a director has issued a hazardous substance permit to the person to do so.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a person who has possession, charge or control of a substance on a ship.

Issuance of hazardous substance permits

22.4 (1) Subject to subsection (2), on application by a person, a director may issue to the applicant a hazardous substance permit referred to in section 22.3 (1).

(2) Before issuing the hazardous substance permit, the director may require the applicant to do one or more of the following:

- (a) provide information documenting, to the satisfaction of the director,
 - (i) the risks to human health or the environment that are posed by a release of the substance, and
 - (ii) the types of impacts that may be caused by a release of the substance and an estimate of the monetary value of those impacts;
- (b) demonstrate to the satisfaction of the director that the applicant
 - (i) has appropriate measures in place to prevent a release of the substance,
 - (ii) has appropriate measures in place to ensure that any release of the substance can be minimized in gravity and magnitude, through early detection and early response, and
 - (iii) has sufficient capacity, including dedicated equipment and personnel, to be able to respond effectively to a release of the substance in the manner and within the time specified by the director;
- (c) post security to the satisfaction of the director, or demonstrate to the satisfaction of the director that the applicant has access to financial resources including insurance, in order to ensure that the applicant has the capacity
 - (i) to respond to or mitigate any adverse environmental or health effects resulting from a release of the substance, and
 - (ii) to provide compensation that may be required by a condition attached to the permit under section 22.5 (b) (ii);
- (d) establish a fund for, or make payments to, a local government or a first nation government in order to ensure that the local government or the first nation government has the capacity to respond to a release of the substance;

(e) agree to compensate any person, the government, a local government or a First Nations government for damages resulting from a release of the substance, including damages for any costs incurred in responding to the release, any costs related to ecological recovery and restoration, any economic loss and any loss of non-use value.

Conditions attached to hazardous substance permits

22.5 A director may, at any time, attach one or more of the following conditions to a hazardous substance permit:

- (a) conditions respecting the protection of human health or the environment, including conditions requiring the holder of the permit
 - (i) to implement and maintain appropriate measures to prevent a release of the substance,
 - (ii) to implement and maintain appropriate measures to ensure that any release of the substance can be minimized in gravity and magnitude, through early detection and early response, and
 - (iii) to maintain sufficient capacity, including dedicated equipment and personnel, to be able to respond effectively to a release of the substance in the manner and within the time specified by the director;
- (b) conditions respecting the impacts of a release of the substance, including conditions requiring the holder of the permit
 - (i) to respond to a release of a substance in the manner and within the time specified by the director, and
 - (ii) to compensate, without proof of fault or negligence, any person, the government, a local government or a First Nations government for damages referred to in section 22.4 (2) (e).

Suspension or cancellation of hazardous substance permits

22.6 (1) Subject to this section, a director, by notice served on the holder of a hazardous substance permit, may suspend the permit for any period or cancel the permit.

(2) A notice served under subsection (1) must state the time at which the suspension or cancellation takes effect.

(3) A director may exercise the authority under subsection (1) if a holder of a hazardous substance permit fails to comply with the conditions attached to the permit.

Restraining orders

22.7 (1) If a person, by carrying on an activity or operation, contravenes section 22.3 (1), the activity or operation may be restrained in a proceeding brought by the minister in the Supreme Court.

(2) The making of an order by the court under subsection (1) in relation to a matter does not interfere with the imposition of a penalty in respect of an offence in relation to the same contravention.

Offence and penalty

22.8 A person who contravenes section 22.3 (1) commits an offence and is liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding $400 000 or imprisonment for not more than 6 months, or both.

Power to amend Schedule

22.9 The Lieutenant Governor in Council may, by regulation, add substances, their definitions and their minimum amounts to the Schedule and delete substances, their definitions and their minimum amounts from the Schedule.

2 The following Schedule is added:

SCHEDULE [section 22.3 (1)]

Substance: Heavy Oil

Definition of Substance:

- a) a crude petroleum product that has an American Petroleum Institute gravity of 22 or less, or
- (b) a crude petroleum product blend containing at least one component that constitutes 30% or more of the volume of the blend and that has either or both of the following:
 - (i) an American Petroleum Institute gravity of 10 or less,
 - (ii) a dynamic viscosity at reservoir conditions of at least 10 000 centipoise.

Minimum Amount of Substance:

The largest annual amount of the annual amounts of the substance that the person had possession, charge or control of during each of 2013 to 2017.

BACKGROUNDER 2

What is a legal reference?

A reference is a process where government can refer a legal question or questions to a court for determination. The answer of the court in a reference process is treated as a decision of that court.

The Government of British Columbia can refer any matter to the Court of Appeal or to the B.C. Supreme Court under the Constitutional Question Act. The question is approved by cabinet, and set out in an order-in-council, which will be available on the B.C. Laws website.

If a matter is referred to the B.C. Supreme Court, the decision can be appealed to the Court of Appeal. References heard by the Court of Appeal avoid the delay and expense of going through two levels of court.

After a reference is filed, notice must be given to the Attorney General of Canada.

In addition, the court may direct other interested parties be notified of the hearing. These interested parties are entitled to be heard. The court will set a date for hearing the reference question.

After the hearing date, the B.C. Court of Appeal will deliberate, then release its decision. The court will determine when it releases its decision, which is treated as a decision of that court, and can be appealed.

Proposed legislation referred to a court for its advice may not necessarily be enacted. To be validly binding, the proposed legislation would need to go through the ordinary process, including being passed by the British Columbia legislature.

What is British Columbia's reference?

British Columbia's reference to the B.C. Court of Appeal is about the relationship between the Province's authority (jurisdiction) to prevent and manage releases into the environment of substances, like diluted bitumen, that would endanger human health, the environment or communities and the federal government's authority (jurisdiction) over federal undertakings, such as interprovincial pipelines or railways.

The courts have repeatedly affirmed that provinces may make laws and regulations within their legal authority, even in areas of shared authority that overlap with areas federal responsibility. In the 2016 case of Coastal First Nations v. British Columbia, the B.C. Supreme Court affirmed the ability of provinces to regulate impacts of projects, even if they are federal undertakings, writing:

"To disallow any provincial regulation over the project because it engages a federal undertaking would significantly limit the province's ability to protect social, cultural and economic interests in its lands and waters. It would go against the current trend in the jurisprudence favouring, where possible, co-operative federalism."

For its reference, the B.C. government is asking the B.C. Court of Appeal to review proposed amendments to the Environmental Management Act. The amendments would give the Province authority to regulate impacts of heavy oils like bitumen whose release into the environment would endanger human health, the environment or communities.

Specifically, these amendments would require that a person in possession of such substances, above certain minimum levels, would need to obtain a permit from the provincial director of waste management. Under the proposed amendments, the director could impose certain conditions on the permits.

In considering these proposed amendments, the Province asks the court to answer three questions that raise specific constitutional jurisdictional doctrines of "validity", "interjurisdictional immunity", and "paramountcy":

* Is the draft legislation within provincial jurisdiction to enact? (Validity)

* Would the draft legislation be applicable to hazardous substances brought into British Columbia by means of an interprovincial undertaking? (Interjurisdictional immunity)

* Is there any federal legislation that is inconsistent with the proposed amendments that would render the proposed amendments inoperative? (Paramountcy)

BACKGROUNDER 3

Protecting British Columbia's lands, water courses and coast

The provincial government is working to ensure the best possible protections are in place to defend B.C. lands, waters and coast, and the tens of thousands of jobs that rely on B.C.'s clean environment.

B.C. has over 19,000 tourism businesses, employing 133,000 people, throughout the province. Fisheries and seafood contribute more than $660 million each year to the province's gross domestic product, employ 14,000 people and pay nearly $400 million in wages. B.C.'s film industry supports more than 60,000 direct and indirect jobs.

The provincial government has been working to improve spill response throughout British Columbia. Legislation to establish new requirements to prevent, respond to and recover from spills was passed in 2016. The first set of new regulations to enable this legislation was passed in October 2017.

These regulations, developed with input from industry, Indigenous groups and local communities, as well as other federal and provincial agencies, apply to anyone transporting liquid petroleum products by pipeline, and anyone transporting more than 10,000 litres by rail or truck. The regulations contain provisions that:

- * Require the development and implementation of spill contingency plans.
- * Define requirements for drills and exercises.
- * Mandate record-keeping for spill preparedness and response.
- * Require enhanced reporting, and set additional cost-recovery mechanisms.
- * Enable government to require plans for recovery in the event of a spill.

In February 2018, public consultations began on a second phase of proposed regulations, pursuant to the Environmental Management Act, to improve overall spill readiness. These include:

- * Response times to ensure timely responses following a spill.
- * Geographic response plans to ensure resources are available to support an immediate response, which consider the unique characteristics of a given sensitive area.
- * Compensation for loss of public use from spills, including economic, cultural and recreational impacts.
- * Maximizing application of regulations to marine spills.

The initial public engagement on proposed Phase 2 regulations will close April 30, 2018. Based on the results of this engagement, along with direct engagement with Indigenous groups, industry, environmental organizations and local governments, an intentions paper, outlining what final regulations might look like, will be posted for public comment later in 2018. Final regulations are expected to be in place in early 2019.

The Province will also create an independent scientific advisory panel to help address the scientific uncertainties around the behavior of bitumen when spilled in water, outlined in the report, The Royal Society of Canada Expert Panel: The Behaviour and Environmental Impacts of Crude Oil Released into Aqueous Environments.

British Columbia continues to work with the federal government to further enhance marine and terrestrial spill prevention, response and recovery measures.

Hi Sheena

Spoke with the Union Club again, they're waiting to hear back on timing for setup. I guess we go with 5pm.

Here's what we need:

She's giving us two wireless mics that connect directly to the house sound system.

What we need is are speakers, a laptop, and a projector. She says we need the cords to connect the laptop to the speaker so the sound will come through it. And to connect the laptop to the projector.

Let me know if that's a go – if not, I can go to plan B.

Thanks!

Hi Sheena,
I hope this email finds you well!
Could you please let me know if Premier Horgan would be available for an interview live at 5pmET today? We would like to talk about the Trans Mountain pipeline project and the federal government's commitment to indemnify investors from financial losses.
The interview would be about 6 minutes, one-on-one with Don Martin.
Please let me know.
Thanks,
Rachel

Hi All,

As an FYI, I have attached for you the email that was sent to media that has call in information, etc. We have a large list registered so it is important to note that the possibility that not all reporters will have an opportunity to ask questions is high. We will do our best to gauge time though and get through as many as we can.

I have also attached for you the list of reporters that I currently have, but please note that reporters are still emailing me so this list is not complete. 11ish is as late as I will be able to keep replying to them but if you get any requests directly, please just let me know. It may be of interest to know too that I have asked to have the conference recorded (sound) which I can, on request, share with you.

Again for those of you who don't have it, my cell number is s.22 and I am also sitting up front (in red blazer) if I haven't met you yet.

Good Morning,

You are receiving this email because have registered to either attend or dial-in to the media conference this morning that is scheduled to start at 11:30a.m. MDT. Please note that we have a short time for the conference so each reporter will only be given the opportunity to ask 1 question. The communique will be released immediately prior to the start of the press conference through our regular process and I will also email a copy to this list.

For those of you attending in person:

- Please arrive between 10:45 a.m. - 11:25 a.m.
- We are located on the 3rd floor of the Chateau Nova in the Caribou Room
- You must register at the front desk with me when you arrive
- There is a media room on site which you will be invited to wait in until we are ready to start
- Once the doors to the conference close no one will be permitted to enter so please arrive on time

For those of you calling in to the conference:

- Phone line will open at 11:25a.m. MDT
- You will be called upon by our moderator by the name you provided to ask your question
- s.16

If you have any other questions please do not hesitate to call or email me. I am also available by call or text on my cell phone at s.22 .

They believe gas companies are keeping prices artificially high here(perhaps taking advantage of confusion over the impact of Kinder Morgan). I want to ask Premier Horgan if he would like to see a federal government investigation into the gas market in Metro Vancouver, and if he also agrees with those experts that gas companies should be forced to be more transparent with drivers about how they price their gasoline here. Not one major gas retailer agreed to answer our questions about how they price their product.

Subject: RE: Late change to announcement details

Hello again – apologies this email got stuck in outlook last night.

I apologize if this is redundant, given the Premier had a briefing on the team based primary care strategy last week. I did some work on revising how PCNs's are described over the weekend, and this is reflected in the updated qs and as simply put, a primary care network creates a team comprised of family practices, NPs, health science professionals, and specialized community based services across a geographic area that too often work in isolation from one another, which creates delays in care for patients.

A team in the form of a network will provide more timely and comprehensive care for patients through improved collaboration and coordination across primary care clinics. When all these providers are connected together, coordinating care for patients will be seamless. The network, by providing a central intake function, will make it easier for people to receive referrals to all the services they need across a persons life span.

- As an example, we know not all doctors provide maternity services and families are often left on their own to find a maternity provider. In a network if a person's primary caregiver doesn't provide maternity care the patient would be referred to providers in the local network who do and the patient would not have to worry about finding this care.
- In addition they will also help provide same day/ after hours/ and weekend care to patients whose primary care provider is not available.
 - Currently, only 44% of British Columbians can get same or next day appointments with their primary care providers and nearly three quarters of patients rely on emergency departments for care on weekends, holidays or evenings.
- They will also ensure frail seniors, adults with complex medical needs, and individuals with mental health and addiction challenges gain timely access to specialized community services by serving as a patient's key point of contact with these programs in a defined area.

A team in the form of a network:

- provides a single point of contact virtually for health resources,
- makes sure primary care services are coordinated,
- helps provide same day/after hours/and weekend care to patients,
- provides frail seniors, adults with complex medical needs, and individuals with mental health and addiction challenges with faster access to specialized community services by serving as a patient's central point of contact with these programs, and

- serves a population size of 50 to 100 thousand people in metro-urban areas, and smaller populations in rural areas.

Hey Sheena

I left you a voice mail, am not sure if you are still in the air or are offline for the night

The first five communities selected for primary care networks, which is one model of team based care being established in the system, will be announced (15 PCNs to be established this fiscal)

These five communities are Burnaby, Comox, Prince George, Richmond and South Okanagan Similkameen

I can send more details describing how PCN's provide team based care, and the gaps in care they address in the next email

Hi there,

Regarding the health announcement tomorrow, the Minister has requested a slight change to some of the detail of the announcement. I've directed the ministry to incorporate the changes in the Minister's SN only, and to leave the Premier's SN as is.

However, because these changes will be reflected in the new NR, I want to be sure that the Premier is brought up to speed on these details (the inclusion of the first five locations for the community networks).

So Jas, can you please provide this detail to Sheena as soon as possible, as I don't know what exactly it is.

On the other thing any news on getting the Premier or a senior cabinet minister for the show tomorrow? We are running a special two hour afternoon show from 1-3pm with Keith, Vaughn, and Bill Good all live in studio. We also have Weaver and Wilkinson live in studio to begin and end the show. Would love to balance the table. Let me know.

Good afternoon!

I hope you had a great long weekend.

Would Premier Horgan be available for an interview on Friday to talk about the Western Premiers Conference, as well as the upcoming Kinder Morgan deadline?

If he's not available Friday we could tape Thursday after 6pmET (3pmPT) instead.

We could also send a camera to him if that makes things easier.

The interview would be about 7 minutes long, one-on-one with our host Evan Solomon.

Please let me know if we're able to make something work!

Cheers,

There are two hosts on KRPI – Dr. Romana, whose show runs from 8:00 AM-11:00 AM, same as the Harjinder Thind show. The other host is Harjit Gill, whose show runs from 11:00 AM-2:00 PM. Gill has supported us quite a bit and it would be nice to give him the Premier, but would the Premier have time to do the interview then?

Hey Bob! Hoping you can help me with this. Fairvote is doing a piece on PR and they were hoping to use a few clips from their interview with PJH in March 2017. There are four short clips, some are benign but I just wanted your thoughts on whether we should give permission to.

Thanks!

Russ said he told you he would be calling me to ask if I would write my column in the Times Colonist on this. Russ also suggest we coordinate this with your office. I am honoured to be asked and I would like to get a photo of the three of you and interview you three together for my weekly column.

Yes but I just remembered: Laura Lynch is hosting on Monday, not Stephen Quinn. I hope that's ok.

Please have the Premier call 604-669-3733 at 7:07.

Can I leave your number as a back-up?

Hi Vivian!

The Premier told me he had mentioned to Stephen that he would come back on the show to discuss the end of session, since it was overshadowed by KM the other day.

Would Monday morning work for 1 segment?

Hi Sheena,

Great to hear that the Premier is available on Tuesday. Here are the interview details:

Show: The Early Edition

Host: Stephen Quinn

Time of interview: 7:10 a.m. (please call in by 7:07)

Length of interview: 15 minutes

Call-in number: 604-669-3733

If you can pass on a back-up number in case we need to reach the Premier in the morning, that would be great.

Many thanks,

Vivian Luk
