Doug

As discussed please find a submission from the BC AFN Regional Chief and myself formally requested a partnership with the Champions table to scale our Intern Leaders Employment program for Ingenious graduates. We are pleased to note that we have been successful to date in placing graduates on Vancouver Island and Northern BC in banking, forestry, professional services and other sectors and will be scaling this success annually to a goal of 50 students per year with your support and partnership.

Hi Don...this is the project that I had talked to you about that's primarily in the Premier's riding. Although we had $200,000 in donations and another $200,000 from a DFO RFCPP grant, construction costs ballooned to over $500,000 for construction alone which basically killed the project for this year. Our major supporters have told us that although the DFO money is gone they want us to try and raise the $400,000 needed to complete the project next year.

To that end we have applied to the Provincial Gaming Capital Projects Fund (see application attached) for $250,000. We intend to continue to fundraise in the community seeking funds from local governments including the CRD, and applying for $105,000 from DFO and $105,000 from the provincial Habitat Conservation Trust Fund.

If you could forward this on to any who may be able to help move this project along the wild coho and cutthroat would appreciate it! I want make sure thatt the Premier as the MLA is well acquainted with this important project.

I can provide more detail, context, technical or financial information to any and all if requested.

Thank you for your time and attention....

Good morning Ali,

Thank you for your patience regarding my delayed response.

As requested:

- Names of potential candidates were gathered and reviewed with the following criteria:
 - community-based experience (First Nation fisheries, commercial fishing, sports fishing, NGOs, local government)
 - regional distribution
 - Indigenous representation
- The proposed size and composition of the WSAC was reviewed and finalized by the Office of the Premier
- Letter of invitation were sent to candidates on May 29 and if the invitation was accepted, candidates were required to complete and submit a Candidate Profile and Declaration for Governing Boards form for formal independent review of the Crown Agencies and Board Resourcing Office.

I am available to speak further if you like.

Hi again Ali,

I've received a question below as to whether we have some bullets to provide for this correspondence in regard to the selection process for the Advisory Council. I would think 2-3 high-level bullets would be appropriate – is this something you could help with? Do you have any key messaging on the selection of the Council? It looks like it would also be useful to include a bullet noting how input can be provided to the Council, or how the council will be undertaking engagement (the writer seems mostly concerned with lack of representation).

Please let me know if you can help. Thanks!

Hello Darren,

Sorry for the delay in my response.

As we briefly discussed, fisheries are a priority for this government.

To this goal, the Fish and Aquatic Habitat Branch (FAHB), formerly a portion of the Fish and Wildlife Branch has been established and is currently working on a new “program plan” and program delivery model.

The current FHAB focus is currently working on: implementing fishing regulations to minimize incidental sports fishing by-catch, water use and habitat planning such as Fisheries Sensitive and Temperature sensitive stream designations, making recommendations to changes in commercial and First Nation salmon fishing plans in an attempt to minimize by-catch and consultation to gain support for conservation with First Nations.

Regarding the Wild Salmon Advisory Council, please see the attached timeline for your information. I ask that you do not distribute it.

As you know, the Wild Salmon Advisory Council and the Wild Salmon Secretariat are currently developing materials for the public consultations that will be led by the Select Standing Committee on Agriculture, Fish and Food during the fall of 2018. Feedback and input into the strategy are welcome, please contact the WildSalmonSecretariat@gov.bc.ca or call 1-250-387-0863 for further information.

Alternatively, you are welcome to contact me.

On a closing note, I want to express my thoughts and prayers to you, your family and to the Tl'azt'en Nation during this state of emergency. I hope the rains come soon.

Kind regards,

Good afternoon Don,

It was a pleasure to meet you in Tl'azt'en Nation.

I am very excited to see what kind of work/recommendations come out of the advisory council. Hopefully, it can get DFO to start some movement on some of the habitat issues in the province.

Would you please send me some more info regarding the council, and the plans moving forward?

Mira and Doug,

FYI, please find attached a copy of an FNLC media release distributed today regarding impacts of the wildfires on BC First Nations and the need for more supports.

I understand there has been some questions as to why the release does not reference the recent report by Chief Maureen Chapman and George Abbott in follow-up to the 2017 wildfire season.

Please note that this omission does not have any bearing on the FNLC's support for Chief Chapman and Mr. Abbott's report. The lack of reference was simply an oversight in the haste to get a release out today given the meetings taking place between FNLC members and representatives of BC and Canada.

Please feel free to let me know if you have any questions.

Colin

Good morning Geoff,

For your information, I spoke with MGH this past Tuesday and he asked if I was aware of any work on the definition of consent and/or processes concerning free, informed and prior consent. I replied ADM Wood may be working on FPIC as part of her mandate of reconciliation and offered to reach out to see what work is underway.

This morning I passed on to MGH's MA Caelie the following reponses.

ADM Wood informs me that yes the ADM Working Group and the SDM Working Group have been tasked to review draft Principle 6 FPIC as they work to the October 2018 deadline of how ministries will implement the Draft Principles.

MA George Smith offered the following list [note the language].

ILR lawyers are working on or are aware and given the short time frame it cannot be considered comprehensive:

- Environmental Assessment Revitalization (i.e. development of new EA legislation) reflects a process aimed at building deeper collaboration and consensus is what is being discussed currently. One key aspect of this initiative is the collaborative/consensus-seeking between EAO and Indigenous Nations, which includes engaging Indigenous Nations earlier in the process, more deeply throughout (e.g. collaborative drafting of the assessment report, collaborative development of conditions) and formal and informal alternative dispute resolution mechanisms to resolve disagreements. This builds on some of the more recent EAs that applied collaborative mechanisms, including the example of Kemess Underground Mine Project, where consensus was achieved between the Indigenous Nations and EAO.
- A discussion of EA Revitalization is found here: <https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/environment/natural-resource-stewardship/environmental-assessments/environmental-assessment-revitalization>
- The Discussion Paper describing a number of key components, including discussion of ADR, is linked here: https://www2.gov.bc.ca/assets/gov/environment/natural-resource-stewardship/environmental-assessments/environmental-assessment-revitalization/documents/ea_revitalization_discussion_paper_final.pdf
- MIRR has negotiated several agreements that refer to BC engaging directly with a particular nation or group of nations on processes aimed at securing consent: these include;
 - Nlaka'pamux Nation Tribal Council – BC Political Accord see s. 6 (c) and (d) https://www2.gov.bc.ca/assets/gov/environment/natural-resource-stewardship/consulting-with-first-nations/agreements/nntc_final_27nov2017_accord_bc.pdf

 - MEMPR and FLNRO have engaged in several collaborative decision making processes with the Carrier Sekani First Nations which include seeking consensus in relation to major projects or significant forestry decisions that may adversely affect their interests. The following collaborative processes have been based on negotiated collaboration plans:
 - Prince George Timber Supply Review and now the Apportionment and Proportional Reduction decisions have included a deeply collaborative process with the Nadleh Whut'en, Nak'azdli Whut'en, Saikuz First Nation, Takla Lake First Nation, Tl'az'ten Nation, Ts'il Kaz Koh (Burns Lake Band)
 - Kemess Underground Mine EA and permitting process with Tse Kay Dene, Takla Lake First Nation and Kwadacha
 - Blackwater Gold – Environmental Assessment with Nadleh Whut'en, Saik'uz and Stellat'en First Nations
 - Groundhog/Atrum Coal Notice of Work/Bulk Sample permitting process with Takla Lake First Nation
 - Mt Milligan EA Amendment and permitting process with McLeod Lake First Nation, Takla Lake First Nation and Nakazdli
 - On June 27, 2018, the Province entered into a Letter of Understanding (LOU) for a government-to-government consent-based process for recommendations for tenure replacements for finfish aquaculture operations in the Broughton Archipelago area with the Kwikwasutinuxw Haxwa'mis, 'Namgis, and the Mamalilikulla First Nations (the First Nations). section 4 of the LOU, the Parties agreed, using the standard of free, prior and informed consent, to make consensus recommendations to their respective decision makers in relation to 17 provincial tenures held by aquaculture operations in the Broughton Archipelago area. The LOU established a collaborative structure to allow the Parties to reach consensus recommendations including formation of a Steering Committee, comprised of an equal number of representatives from the First Nations and Province
 - In addition to the above, there are other (older) strategic engagement agreements that include consensus seeking processes that result in recommendations to decision makers, including the Gitanyow Recognition and Reconciliation Agreement, and the Taku River Tlingit Shared Decision Making Agreement. Even the 2009 agreement with the Haida Nation Kunst'aa Guu – Kunst'aayah Reconciliation Protocol (2009) and Implementation Plan reflect a number of mechanisms which further this goal.

Hi Gang;

Here are two heads up re our shop:

Moose LEH – Chilcotin

- To be released today
- Draft press release attached
- Q and Q attached

Regarding OLTC;

- The OLTC (Occupant Licence to Cut) for the New Prosperity property has been approved by the SDM. No word on the release date. Possibly next week or earlier.
- There is a cross-ministry ADMs steering committee that oversees/coordinates implementation of the draft 10 Principles, which includes UNDRIP. ADM's Committee on Natural Resources also oversees elements of UNDRIP implementation through policy development in the NR ministries.
- When it comes to statutory decisions (like cutting permits) the decision maker would act within the bounds of his or her legal authority.

Hi Don...this is the project that I had talked to you about that's primarily in the Premier's riding. Although we had $200,000 in donations and another $200,000 from a DFO RFCPP grant, construction costs ballooned to over $500,000 for construction alone which basically killed the project for this year. Our major supporters have told us that although the DFO money is gone they want us to try and raise the $400,000 needed to complete the project next year.

To that end we have applied to the Provincial Gaming Capital Projects Fund (see application attached) for $250,000. We intend to continue to fundraise in the community seeking funds from local governments including the CRD, and applying for $105,000 from DFO and $105,000 from the provincial Habitat Conserveation Trust Fund.

If you could forward this on to any who may be able to help move this project along the wild coho and cutthroat would appreciate it! I want make sure that the Premier as the MLA is well acquainted with this important project.

I can provide more detail, context, technical or financial information to any and all if requested.

Thank you for your time and attention....

Ian

Regarding the Wild Salmon Advisory Council, potential candidates were gathered and reviewed under the following criteria: community based experience (First Nations fisheries, commercial fisheries, sport fishing, NGO's, and local governments), regional distribution, and indigenous representation. The proposed size and composition of the Wild Salmon Advisory Council was reviewed and finalized by the Office of the Premier.

The Wild Salmon Advisory Council and the Wild Salmon Secretariat are currently developing materials for the public consultations that will be led by the Select Standing Committee on Agriculture, Fish and Food during the fall of 2018. Feedback and input into the strategy are welcome, please contact the WildSalmonSecretariat@gov.bc.ca or call 1-250-387-0863 for further information.

Wild Salmon Advisory Council members' biographies

The Wild Salmon Advisory Council will consist of 14 members, drawn from a diverse set of backgrounds, covering a broad range of knowledge about the importance of wild salmon to the province's environment, First Nations' traditional uses, and the economy of many B.C. coastal communities.

The council is expected to provide advice on a broad range of policy issues affecting wild salmon that will help inform both the work of the Wild Salmon Secretariat and provide guidance and advice to the Province.

Wild Salmon Secretariat

The Wild Salmon Secretariat is made up of staff from the Office of the Premier and contracted support from B.C. Coastal First Nations, who will provide logistical support for the Wild Salmon Advisory Council, and who are tasked with the hands-on work of developing and writing an options paper on a made-in-B.C. wild salmon strategy.

Select Standing Committee on Agriculture, Fish and Food

On May 31, 2018, the legislative assembly tasked the Select Standing Committee on Agriculture, Fish and Food with conducting consultations to examine the health, habitat and management of wild salmon, as well as the sustainability of the wild salmon industry in British Columbia.

Government intends to provide the Wild Salmon Secretariat's options paper to the Select Standing Committee and ask the committee to use the options paper as the basis for its consultations with the public.

Next Steps

Government will use the findings and recommendations of the Select Standing Committee to inform the development of a wild salmon strategy for B.C.

Minister of Agriculture's Wild Salmon Advisory Council members:

Doug Routley, MLA for Nanaimo-North Cowichan, co-chair

Doug Routley is MLA for Nanaimo-North Cowichan. Born in New Westminster, and raised in Duncan, Routley understands the island's unique challenges and opportunities of life in the region, and his experience gives him a grasp of what his constituents care about, and how their needs can be met.

Chief Marilyn Slett, Heiltsuk First Nation, co-chair

Marilyn Slett is a member of the Heiltsuk Nation and is serving her 10th year as elected Chief Councillor. Chief Slett has served two consecutive terms as an elected tribal councillor, and is a former executive director of the Heiltsuk Tribal Council. Her regional representation includes current President of the Coastal First Nations/Great Bear Initiative, British Columbia Assembly of First Nations Women's Representative on the National Assembly of First Nations Women's Council, and elected to the Board of Directors of the British Columbia Assembly of First Nations.

Adam Olsen, MLA for Saanich North and the Islands

Adam Olsen was first elected as MLA for Saanich North and the Islands in 2017. He is a former two-term Central Saanich councillor and small business owner. Olsen was born and raised on Tsartlip First Nation in Brentwood Bay, and is a member of the Tsartlip First Nation. He served as the chair of Planning and Development and Water and Wastewater, and represented the community on a number of boards and commissions, including solid and liquid waste, Greater Victoria Public Library and the Regional Housing Trust Fund.

Joy Thorkelson, United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, president

Joy Thorkelson has spent 40 years representing and working for people who rely on fishing for a living. She has worked for healthy fish stocks, policies that support active fish harvesters and policies, to retain and expand processing work in B.C. – especially in B.C.'s rural coastal communities. As a Northern Panel member of the Pacific Salmon Commission, she has given advice regarding U.S. salmon interceptions and negotiations with Alaska. Thorkelson was chair of Fisheries Renewal BC, which funded and devolved project decision-making to regional groups with representatives from local governments, First Nations, resource users, environmentalists and other salmon habitat natural resource users.

Ray Harris, First Nations Summit, co-chair

Ray Harris is a member of the Stz'uminus First Nation on Vancouver Island, and previously served for 10 years as the elected Chief of the Stz'uminus First Nation. Harris is an active commercial fisherman on the B.C. coast.

He has been instrumental in organizing the Coast Salish Gatherings and the formation of the Coast Salish Council, which focuses on environmental and resource health in the Coast Salish Sea and region. Harris is currently serving his fourth consecutive term as co-chair of the First Nations Summit (FNS).

Dawn Machin, Okanagan Nation Alliance fisheries biologist

Dawn Machin is a member of the Okanagan Indian Band, part of the Okanagan (Syilx) Nation. After receiving her bachelor of science degree from the University of British Columbia, she started as the Okanagan regional biologist for the then-Canadian Columbia River Inter-Tribal Fisheries Commission, and then moved to the Okanagan Nation Alliance where she was responsible for program management of the Fisheries Department.

Machin was a board member of the provincial Crown corporation, Fisheries Renewal BC (1997-2001). After having children, Machin returned to the Okanagan Nation Alliance, to reconnect with the people and community involved in the management of Syilx resources.

Thomas Alexis, Upper Fraser Fisheries Conservation Alliance, director

Thomas Alexis is a member of Tl'azt'en Nation of the Carrier Sekani Tribal Council, and belongs to the Frog Clan. He is actively involved in traditional teachings as well as fluent in the Carrier language. He was elected Chief of his community in 2002, and was re-elected for four consecutive terms. Alexis participated in the development of the First Nation Fisheries Action Plan for B.C. First Nations, and was appointed to the First Nation Fisheries Council of B.C.

Alexis is a founding board member for the Upper Fraser Fisheries Conservation Alliance that was formed in 2004. He sat on a negotiation team for Fraser Salmon Management Council, which is a mandated organization with 73 member bands from the Fraser watershed, as well as members that encompass Vancouver Island.

Ian Bruce, executive co-ordinator, Peninsula Streams Society

Ian Bruce began his career as a project advisor and salmon specialist with Canada's Department of Fisheries and Ocean's Salmonid Enhancement Program, thus beginning his 35-plus year journey with salmon, salmon habitat, fish culture, community and First Nations, as a registered professional biologist, project innovator, leader and mentor. In 1997, Bruce returned to the Saanich Peninsula to work for the B.C. Fish and Wildlife Branch before helping found Peninsula Streams Society (PSS) in 2002. PSS successfully engages with students, citizens and government to provide environmental education, stream stewardship and habitat restoration.

Martin Paish, director, Sport Fishing Institute of British Columbia

Martin Paish has been both a strong advocate for wild salmon, and a keen salmon angler for his entire adult life. As a 20-plus year member of the B.C. Sport Fishing Advisory Board and director of the Sport Fishing Institute of B.C., Martin has spent countless volunteer hours communicating the value of wild salmon, and the fisheries they support, to government, stakeholders and NGOs.

Mike Hicks, Capital Regional District's director for the Juan de Fuca Electoral Area

Mike Hicks has spent most of his adult life involved in the sport fishing industry. Hicks works with his wife Kathy, operating their bed and breakfast and representing the Juan de Fuca Electoral Area as regional director. He has been a strong advocate for increased habitat protection, habitat rehabilitation and salmon restoration.

James Lawson, commercial fisherman, Tsimshian and Heiltsuk First Nation

James Lawson is a member of the Heiltsuk First Nation from his father's side, and his mother is Tsimshian. After obtaining his bachelor of science degree, he decided to become a career fisherman to carry on his family legacy. He aims to help in the development of sustainable fisheries management in B.C. through comprehensive ecosystem stewardship.

Cailyn Siider, commercial fisherman from Sointula, B.C.

Cailyn Siider is a fifth-generation commercial fish harvester from Sointula. She and her family are actively involved in commercial prawn, halibut, rockfish, Dungeness crab, roe herring and salmon gillnet, troll, and seine fisheries. Siider believes strongly in the long-term health and sustainability of the British Columbia coast, and the communities that depend on it.

Tasha Sutcliffe, Ecotrust Canada

Tasha Sutcliffe serves as Ecotrust Canada's vice-president, and also as director for the Fisheries and Marine Program, a position she has held since 2007. She brings extensive experience in fisheries, community economic development and business systems. Prior to joining Ecotrust Canada, Sutcliffe spent nine years as the regional director for the Community

Fisheries Development Centre in Prince Rupert, where she worked to create community economic alternatives in the face of reduced commercial fishing opportunities.

Ward Bond, Island Outfitters, and Pacific Salmon Foundation board member

Ward Bond is co-owner and operator of Island Outfitters, and has been since its inception in 1994. Hunting and fishing are his passion. He served as the local chair for the Sports Fishing Advisory group from 2002 until 2007, as well as the main board, Chinook Working Group, Halibut Allocation Board and chair for the Ground Fish Working Group. He is a member on the board of directors for the Pacific Salmon Foundation.

Subject: For your review - draft KMs

Hi all,

Don – the draft key messages and QA are attached for your edits.

Once Don has made his edits, encourage others to chime in with any remaining suggestions.

Tim will be taking this over from our shop tomorrow. He will finalize the KMs with input from all of you and will send a final version back to Sarah P.

Cheers,
Sarah
