Geoff and Don, Minister Bains and I have been invited to the annual meeting of Labour Ministers to be hosted September 4 and 5 in St. John's. The last meeting was in January of this year in Ottawa. It may seem soon to have another but the January meeting was delayed from September 2017. BC just hosted the Deputies of Labour in Richmond in May to plan for the September meeting. Topics will include workplace mental health (which Minister Bains co-leads with Nova Scotia), the changing world of work and employment standards, workplace impairment (mostly around cannabis), and harmonization of occupational health and safety provisions across the country (flowing from a commitment made at the Council of the Federation). Do you have any issues or concerns with us attending? As for timing, the Legislature is not sitting in early September and it is the week before UBCM.

Thanks kindly.

T.

I just came across this passage in a column:

“Ontario should revisit research support now that the revamped U.S. tax system claws back research tax incentives in Ontario claimed by U.S. companies.”

This is the first I have heard of this. What do we know about it?

Not urgent, just when you have time.
