Dear Advisory Forum Members,

I am pleased to inform you that tomorrow I will have the honour of introducing historic legislation. After 16 years of neglect and as many years of advocacy by people like you, this legislation will mark a turning point for people living in poverty. The legislation is a central step that commits government to a comprehensive and meaningful plan. That plan will follow early in the new year, prior to March 31, 2018.

I invite you to join me in this important moment by watching the introduction of this bill in the Legislature. Please follow this link: <https://www.leg.bc.ca/documents-data/broadcasts-and-webcasts> and tune in live on Tuesday, October 2nd, at 10:00am.

I want to thank each of you for your work toward this day. I look forward to speaking with you all soon about how this legislation will work towards making life better for the people of BC and contribute to ending the cycle of poverty.

All the best,
Shane Simpson
Minister

Hi, all –

Please find attached the stakeholder list. You will find your individual call lists on the subsequent tabs.

If you are concerned/unsure about timing for the calls, please be in touch with me. The same is true for materials. I am assuming you all have Q&A's and KM's but if you have questions or want help developing a script, please don't hesitate to let me know.

We have a call scheduled for tomorrow afternoon to debrief, but if anything is particularly surprising or concerning, please let me (and Tim) know about it right away.

Thank you,
Mira

Subject: Sander

Hi Geoff –

As discussed, a few take-aways I thought were worth sharing from my meeting with Sander (Hollyburn) yesterday. I will share with Craig as well.

The high-level points were:

- They are “spooked” by this – see it as a one-off decision, knee-jerk reaction but they also very much want to partner with us
- UDI has developed a renters committee – he is a member of it
- He is concerned that the municipal rental incentive programs need to be reviewed/changed because of this change (I’m unclear as to why)
- He said that the challenge with the increases being connected to repairs is that they are named as “unforeseen” repairs. He said none of their repairs are unforeseen because of the lack of tradespeople, they plan at least 3 years in advance for balconies, roofs, elevators etc.
- They build in Ontario so he reflected back some of the experience based on that – he said the biggest issue is land depreciation
- Lastly, he offered to share any of their data with us to the extent it can be helpful

Long and short: I suggested they bring constructive ideas to the table about what they think would support Purpose Built Rental but wait until they see all of Spencer’s recommendations. He was open to that and has already followed up with me.

Pls let me know if you have questions,
M

David,

Thank you for taking the time to meet with me yesterday! I was glad to connect and to hear your concerns and ideas. I have already passed them along to others and will follow up with you if/as needed. I really appreciated your point about the experience of working in Ontario, building rental, under similar circumstances and expect the Ministry will want to learn from that.

I'll look forward to staying in touch.

Mira,

Thank you for taking the time to meet with me this morning. I appreciate your comments and advice and will bring constructive suggestions to the table moving forward.

I truly hope Gov't and industry can find common ground to work together and improve the rental housing crisis for all British Columbians. The margin of error is too thin for us to be at loggerheads with one another. In this vein, I hope you will see me and Hollyburn as a resource, particularly given our experiences operating in both B.C. & Ontario as well as with building rental.

Best regards,
David

Mira,

It is nice to meet you via email. I would very much like to connect with you the old-fashioned way (in person) if possible. I am also willing to be an open book if it will help lead to good policy decisions. As you may know, Hollyburn is one of the largest rental housing providers in the Province as well as a developer of rental housing. Additionally, we own and operate 27 buildings in Ontario and are starting a 600 unit condo/rental project in Toronto and so are very familiar with their rental regulations.

If you are agreeable to meeting perhaps you can suggest a few times on your end that work over the next few days?

Best regards,

I had a meeting with Amanda Campbell today regarding the Women Deliver conference.

They key takeaways I want to make sure you are aware of include:

- They are looking at a legacy project connected to the conference. They are currently considering an announcement on women's housing, childcare or sexual violence on campus. I will continue to talk to her about this but told her we are leaning towards childcare but would be interested in their considerations on either file and particularly housing.
- There was some discussion of all Premiers attending and the possibility of everyone signing on to some kind of agreement (no comment on what that could be)
- They plan to have a huge number of their female MP's present
- They are beginning to consider engagement work across the country to make sure people are part of, contributing to this conference. I think there's a great opportunity for us to consider doing something similar. I will connect with Mitzi about it and bring back ideas

I am speaking to Women Deliver directly next week so will know much more. And in the mean time will get this conference on the calendar for all caucus members.

Please let me know if you have questions.

We just had a round-up meeting from the stakeholder calls today. They were very positive. Everyone reported that they were very happy to do the calls and found them to bring a lot of value. Environment received constructive feedback and left the calls with a to-do list. JTT reported that several of their stakeholders commented how gracious the Premier was today. And Finance and EMPR all had positive responses. MIRR has another hour of calls to go and will report in when they are done.

All in all – a very good response.

Hi everyone,

I worked this afternoon on the attached briefing document. Does it make sense for us to get on a call to align? I have availability Wednesday between 10a – 12p, Thursday 8a – 9a, or between 10 – 11a.

In terms of timing, I've proposed:

9:15 – 9:30 for arrivals

9:30 – 10:15 office tour

10:15 – 11 announcement + fireside chat

Marlene – given the focus of the event/announcement will be on the SAP expansion, my strong recommendation would be to host in the amphitheatre area on the first floor, followed by photo ops at the Lions Gate Bridge or Gastown Steam Clock art.

I've also proposed some questions for the fireside chat. Let me know your thoughts. I have built in a couple questions about youth so we can touch on some of the youth employment talking points.

I'm not sure if Minister Ralston would also be included in the fireside chat? Or perhaps he can be the emcee to help move things along?

Next Steps:

- What is the plan for media outreach? Who will take the lead on drafting the media release and sending invitations? What do you need from us?
 - o We do have a PR agency on retainer if you'd like support with media outreach- let me know.
- Indigenous Welcome – will someone from the Premier's Office or Ministry arrange for an official indigenous welcome? Or should we plan to build a territorial acknowledgement into the emcee's remarks?

Let me know your thoughts – looking forward to Tuesday!

Subject: RE: call tomorrow

Hi Sukumar,

Thanks very much for this. I appreciate that you are busy and totally respect that. If the meeting were in the afternoon would it be possible for you?

I'm going to try to schedule a meeting with them – and other officials on Friday as well.

Many thanks,
Mira

Hi Mira

Thanks so much for reaching out. I'm a bit tied up tomorrow (as I'm also our lead on the ongoing work on the draft principles for indigenous reconciliation and there's a long cross-govt ADM meeting on that.) So if it's okay with you, maybe I won't join you on the call with Malik and Samir?

Hope that is helpful?

Thanks

Thank you for your note below.

For the Thursday meeting, will it be just the three of us or will others be joining also? If the latter, we would like to try and have a couple of others join us from overseas and so are wondering if an earlier morning meeting would work? If not, then we will go with 11:30 am.

For the joint honorary degree ceremony (which is being hosted by UBC and SFU), the audience will include representation from both academic institutions, government leaders, civil society leaders, representatives from corporate BC, other key relationships each of the universities has and some senior leaders from the Ismaili community. I'm looking forward to our call tomorrow morning. In addition to introductions on both sides, I thought we could review the areas of potential collaboration. My hope is that we can complete the call with a more concrete sense of next steps on one or two policy areas to move towards agreement.

Hi Charlotte,

Staff put this list together, and said to make sure to travel the guest around in a hydrogen vehicle (we can get one from BC Hydro):

Carbon sequestration and Biodiversity/Parks/Wildlife

Great Bear Rainforest – a flight to the central coast to see the GBR, its wildlife and conservation value integral to climate adaptation and saving species at risk from climate change.

Fort St John/Chetwynd area: Caribou helicopter tour on caribou territory. Carbon sequestration/reforestation/biodiversity/habitat restoration projects.

Places to go see:

Wood waste to natural gas – G4 Insight “drop in methane” production platform – UBC
Renewable diesel – Parklands “drop in diesel” and “drop in gasoline” production – Burnaby – making some of the first renewable jet fuel!
Fusion technology - General Fusion, Burnaby
Renewable gasoline and diesel from CO2 removed from the air – Carbon Engineering, Squamish
Making stuff out of waste CO2 - Carbon capture and conversion institute – Mitchell Island
FP Innovations – new uses for forest fibre – UBC
Water technology – Saltworks and Axine – outside of Canada these are important long term water supply technologies – in Canada they are mainly industrial applications

LNG ferries – BC Ferries tsawassen terminal
LNG trucking – Vedder transport fueling station - chilliwack
Worlds cleanest LNG – FortisBC Tilbury facility

LNG and CNG engines for heavy duty vehicles – Westport Innovations

Lowest carbon cement plant in North America – LaFarge Richmond facility under construction

Delta School District – geothermal heating projects at all schools

Carbon sequestration, low carbon building materials – Brock Commons tall wood building (18 story) – UBC

Passive house standard buildings – many to choose from, including social housing – lower east side

Urban green roof – Vancouver convention centre

Hydrogen transportation infrastructure:

Hydrogen and Fuel Cell research centre – UBC hydrogen fueling station

Powertech Labs – hydrogen refueling facility

Ballard Power in the Lower Mainland

If they like electricity generation, 3 locations:

Powerex – largest electricity trading floor in NA – largest supplier of electricity to California

BC Hydro generation control room – operates all hydro facilities instantly from one room – Vancouver

Stave falls generating facility – ultra-modern hydro power generation

Marine electric propulsion battery technology – Corvus Energy – Richmond and there is one electric tug boat in Vancouver. Richmond is also redoing their downtown and dyke system. It's pretty inspiring.

Standard stuff:

separated bike lanes, EV and HOV lanes, LED streetlighting technology

mayor of Vancouver and city staff – sustainable cities showcase landfill gas capture and energy supply to greenhouses – Delta

biomethane from dairy manure – Delta/Surrey

EV charging infrastructure

Climate education in the classroom:

there is a science module now in the curriculum on climate change – little kids, good photo op

We are excited by all that you are doing in BC and beyond for the conference and I'm particularly glad to hear that BC has been a great host. This is a very engaged city/province and I know people will be eager to participate.

I will follow up on the funding partner benefits, both internally and then with your team. Thank you as well for the introduction to Louise. I will definitely be in touch. The same is true with respect to your visit in January and hopefully getting a meeting set up with the Premier and myself.

Hi Mira,

It was lovely to connect with you today, briefly. As a follow up, I've attached the document that outlines the funding partner benefits that we sent to Parliamentary Secretary, Mitzi Dean's team a few weeks ago. It lists the benefits that include side events, concurrent sessions etc. I am happy to jump on a call at any point to provide ideas, insight. I have copied in Louise Dunn a Senior Advisor with ideas and lots of experience working with partners to provide details, past successes and can answer any questions.

As mentioned, Katja Iversen, Women Deliver's President and CEO, and a small delegation that will include myself and Kelli Farr, Senior Manager for the conference (copied here) will be in Vancouver for the week of January 14th. Meeting with you and Premier Horgan would be most welcome in Vancouver, or Victoria.

We have taken note of the Premier's interest in speaking. As mentioned the concurrent sessions and plenaries are complex and always managed with the utmost sensitivity, while keeping the importance of having the voices of those at the forefront of global issues on stage at the forefront. I have copied in my colleague Kathleen Sherwin who is overseeing the plenaries as she will take note of the interest. We look forward to hearing from you on your plans (e.g. showcasing the childcare efforts through a side event) for the conference and for the Premier. Any dates that you can confirm are most appreciated.

It is a pleasure to work in BC and we continue to be so well supported by the Conference Centre team. The province is proving to be outstanding hosts. It will be hard to beat! I'll be sending you a list of BC organizations who have committed to supporting the conference in the days ahead. Under separate cover I will introduce you to Julie Savard Shaw who is leading the mobilization effort across Canada. We look forward to hearing more, soon, about your plans. As mentioned the side event space is being reserved more quickly than we have seen before! Eager to get an indication of your plans so we can secure space, if needed.

We'll be in touch again soon and look forward to seeing you in January.

Warmly
Evelyne

Dear Mira – lovely to speak with you today! I promised to make an introduction to Julie Savard-Shaw who is leading WeDeliver 2019, the mobilization effort that is bringing together hundreds of initiatives from across Canada in the lead up to the Vancouver Women Deliver Conference. It is run by a ‘collective’ of great Canadian based agencies (not Women Deliver). We are the wind in their sails, and they are the big wind in ours. Of note, Julie has been working closely with several BC organizations and I’m sure you’ll get all the details you need from her.

Thank you Angela for the introduction.

Hello Mira, a pleasure to connect with you.

We're eager to meet with Premier Horgan and discuss the work being done by the Black community in the region and to talk about how people of African descent in here in BC can be supported through provincial initiatives. A November meeting works for us.

Looking forward,

Good morning Mira,

It was great speaking with you earlier about community-based initiatives currently underway that are promoting the well-being of Black people in British Columbia. Please allow me to introduce you to June Francis and Stephanie Allen with Hogan's Alley Society. Stephanie and June are prominent leaders in our community. Their vision is inspired. Please see in their letter (attached) that outlines their work and a request for a meeting with Premier John Horgan.

Thank you Mira for being willing to bring this request to the Premier and as you mentioned, if a meeting was to happen it could potentially occur in November 2018.

I trust you will take it from here and I am looking forward to all that's next.

Yours sincerely,
Angela

Two weeks ago we met with Chief Ed John for 3 hours to discuss UNDRIP and environmental assessment. Since then our technical teams have been working closely to edit pieces of the legislation.

However, we're still at an impasse on required consent and ministerial decision making on projects.

We've been told that this will be the number one issue with PJH meets with leadership on Oct 26th. The legislation is currently scheduled for Oct 29.

I wanted to flag this with you to talk about how we can help to support PJH for this meeting and check in to see if you want MGH there as well.

Hi Mira, Veronica and Cara,

In advance of Monday's meeting, I wanted to share the information I've found relating to what the previous administration did around the 16 days of activism, and what other jurisdictions are doing relating to violence against women. Please note this is in draft form.

In summary, very little happened last year. The most substantive thing they did seems to be contracting out the delivery of protection orders (previously, people at risk or experiencing violence had to organize this delivery themselves). Aside from that, they did a few statements and responded to reports.

Lastly, you'll see I've summarized what Alberta and Ontario are up to. I'm planning to review what some other provinces are doing, but will do that work Monday morning.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Mira and Don,

I checked this morning – hopefully Prince Ali and team are on their way to Klemtu now. Should be a fabulous trip we have planned for the day for them with Kitasoo FN.

I am on the Board of Nikkei Place Foundation and we host a gala Community Awards Dinner in March each year. I wonder if we could get Premier Horgan as our keynote speaker this coming March? A gathering of about 200-225 community leaders in the Japanese-Canadian community. Folk like Santa Ono, Dan Nomura, etc would attend with spouses. It's to honour our community leaders. Last year we honoured Joy Kogawa – we award the Thomas K Shoyama Awards (Thomas was part of the famous Sask Mafia of JCs who worked with Tommy Douglas as public servants). Its great fun. It is a fund raiser for us too.

Our Foundation does great work – we support 2 entities we are co-linked with Nikkei Museum and Cultural Centre – on the site of the old Burnaby South School – a fabulous building (designed by Ray Moriyama) always filled with programs from martial arts to lang school to seniors dinners. We also support Nikkei Health Care Society which operates Nikkei Home – an assisted living home and Nikkei residences – a seniors apartment complex. All these are co-located in Burnaby.

I have been involved in our community since university days. I was involved in the Redress Campaign in the early 1980s while living in Ottawa. During the darkest days of 1942, the only party that stood with our community was the CCF-

NDP. It is because of this that the older JC community have been so loyal to the NDP. We did not have many friends. In the fall of 1988 after we had achieved a settlement with the Mulroney gov't I was please to hand a txs award to Ed Broadbent at the Ottawa Congress Centre for his help in our campaign – lots of neat history. Anyway – I think John would be very well received and would find a nice evening event.

What do you think? I think both Premier and Geoff Meggs know me well enough that I would not put John in an awk spot in any way.

Of course if it's a yes – I can assist with speech writing on community history and who to thank etc.

Txs Paul

Hi all -

I connected with leaders in the Jewish community this morning to pass along our governments concern in light of the shooting in Pittsburgh and to ask how they are doing locally. I've also sent Nimmi names of leaders for MMF to call. She has to yet to reach him - I'm really hoping he's able to call today.

The Jewish communities national security response has kicked in - which means there will be increased police presence outside all Jewish institutions. The community in BC also has trained volunteers outside all the synagogues today (which are full because it's Shabbat). There will be letters out from community leadership to the entire community tonight. Importantly, so far the threat across Canada is not showing an increase or anything particularly unusual at the moment.

The tweet from the Premier was very important and will be really appreciated.

I know PSRK is working on government launching an anti-hate as campaign - the timing of this is critical, for all communities.

I'll keep you all posted if I hear more from community leaders this afternoon.

Subject: PJH Ministerial statement in the House re Synagogue shooting

Hi Danielle,
The Premier would like to read a statement in the House today about the Pittsburgh synagogue shooting. Below is what was sent to Minister Robinson to read at the vigil on Sunday night.
The Premier wants to connect this act of violence to the shooting in the QC mosque shooting in January 2017, the horror of being made afraid in a place of worship and our need to fight bigotry everywhere.

I send my deepest sympathies to everyone gathered here today, and I share your grief.
British Columbians' hearts are broken hearing the devastating news of the shooting at the Tree of Life synagogue in Pittsburgh.
Everyone should feel safe in a place of worship.
An attack like this is deep violation of safety and security.
My caucus and I reject anti-Semitism, racism, discrimination, intolerance and bigotry.
When these forces rise up, we must stand united and denounce them in the strongest possible terms.
We will continue to stand up for the values shared by the vast majority of British Columbians: equality, inclusiveness and unity.
Our thoughts are with the families of those targeted and Jewish people around the world

Subject: PJH Ministerial statement in the House re Synagogue shooting

Hi Danielle,

The Premier would like to read a statement in the House today about the Pittsburgh synagogue shooting. Below is what was sent to Minister Robinson to read at the vigil on Sunday night. The Premier wants to connect this act of violence to the shooting in the QC mosque shooting in January 2017, the horror of being made afraid in a place of worship and our need to fight bigotry everywhere.

I send my deepest sympathies to everyone gathered here today, and I share your grief. British Columbians' hearts are broken hearing the devastating news of the shooting at the Tree of Life synagogue in Pittsburgh. Everyone should feel safe in a place of worship. An attack like this is deep violation of safety and security. My caucus and I reject anti-Semitism, racism, discrimination, intolerance and bigotry. When these forces rise up, we must stand united and denounce them in the strongest possible terms. We will continue to stand up for the values shared by the vast majority of British Columbians: equality, inclusiveness and unity. Our thoughts are with the families of those targeted and Jewish people around the world

Good afternoon, Maria.

Thank you kindly for the invitation - Chief Manak is pleased to attend. Can you please advise if he is expected to make any remarks? From what we understand so far, he is attending as a guest but I just need to double check.

Good afternoon,

On behalf of John Horgan, Premier of British Columbia, we invite you to join a celebration of Diwali at the Legislative Assembly of BC in Victoria on November 7th, 2018. You will find attached a formal invitation.

Please note that this invitation is non-transferable beyond the intended recipient(s). If you cannot attend and wish for someone to take your place or if you would like to request that additional invites be extended, please contact me.

We ask that you please RSVP by November 1st and arrive at least 15 minutes early on November 7th in order to proceed through security at the Legislature in time for the event.

If you have any questions, feel free to reach out.

We look forward to your RSVP!

Best,

Hi Mira – pls see attached.

Pls note that I removed the reference to the member from Vancouver-Langara as, while it made sense in the House, it loses that context when presented like this. Also, I believe PJH may have slightly misspoken – see below (also highlighted in the attached):

It's certainly a reminder of what happened this past weekend in Pittsburgh, or a reminder of what happened in Quebec City, in the mosque there, or the church in Texas, just a year ago.

I think what was meant to be said is:

What happened this past weekend in Pittsburgh is a reminder of what happened in Quebec City, in the mosque there, or the church in Texas, just a year ago.

Please confirm. (FYI – here's a link to yesterday's Blues: <https://www.leg.bc.ca/documents-data/debate-transcripts/41st-parliament/3rd-session/20181029pm-House-Blues>)

As for the content of an email to go out, I was thinking something along the lines of:

Dear Rabbi,

Yesterday (or "On October 29" if we send this on another day) in the House, the Premier, the Leader of the Opposition, the Leader of the Third Party, and the MLA for Vancouver-Langara spoke about the recent tragedy that took place in Pittsburgh. All Members of the Legislative Assembly stand in solidarity with the Jewish community and our office wanted to share their unified message of love and compassion with you. For your reference, we've attached the Premier's statement. If you would like to read all of the statements that were made, please visit the following link (unfortunately, there's just the link for the Blues at this point – with the Blues still being posted from last Thursday, they likely won't be finalized until the end of this week/early next...): <https://www.leg.bc.ca/documents-data/debate-transcripts/41st-parliament/3rd-session/20181029pm-House-Blues>

Sincerely,

Office of the Premier

Hi Mira – I was wondering if there would be any interest in our prepping the Premier's Ministerial Statement to be shared via email with the synagogues that we've connected with in the past. There's one that we don't have an email address, but we have the rest.

Nico Slobinsky is wondering if we can reschedule their meeting (from Oct. 29th) to next week Nov 7th (I have highlighted their original request below for reference)

By now, you likely saw that the JCC rezoning application for the redevelopment project has been approved by CoV. I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for all the support you offered the project and our community in your previous job. Eldad Goldfarb, the JCC's Executive Director is planning a round of updates and briefings that will start very soon. He will be in Victoria with me on Monday, Oct 29th and I am wondering if we could find a time to meet with you.

Please advise if ok to schedule or advise not possible.

Dear Debbie,

Just finishing a productive day of meetings in Victoria, we are sorry that Geoff's schedule was busy. That said, we very much appreciate the support from the Premier, Geoff and Cabinet both today and during this past weekend. As you can imagine, these are difficult times.

If it helps, my colleague Eldad and I are back in Victoria for meetings the morning on Wed. Nov 7th. Would Geoff perhaps have some time then for a meeting?

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Good Morning Nico,

I'm coordinating Geoff Meggs scheduled while my colleague Debbie Wade is away. Unfortunately, Geoff is no longer able to meet on Monday October 29th.

Please accept my regrets on his behalf.

Debbie will be in touch with you when she returns to reschedule for another time.
