Dear s.22 ::

Your January 30, 2013 e-mail addressed to the Ministry of Justice regarding your concerns with a dating website "Plenty of Fish" has been forwarded to the Policing and Security Branch for reply.

The provincial government provides overall direction respecting police services in the province and ensures there are adequate and effective levels of policing. Police agencies conduct individual investigations at arm's length from government, and we cannot interfere with or direct police in particular investigations.

In any instance of alleged criminal activity, it is the responsibility of the police to determine whether a criminal investigation is warranted. We have taken the liberty of forwarding your concerns to Superintendent Chris Kennedy, Detachment Commander of the North Vancouver RCMP, for his review. Should you wish to write further with your concerns, please address them to Superintendent Kennedy as follows:

Superintendent Chris Kennedy
North Vancouver RCMP
147 E 14th Street
North Vancouver BC V7L 2N4
Telephone: 604 985-1311

More information on combating fraud, including telemarketing and e-mail fraud, can be found on the RCMP website as follows: <http://www.rcmp-grc.gc.ca/scams-fraudes/index-eng.htm>.

Thank you for writing.

message: Dear Sir/Madam

I reside in s.22 , my email address is s.22

I have a problem with a company registered in North Vancouver - "Plenty of Fish". It is a dating website.

s.22

I have requested for the Company to disclose relevant information (i.e. computer records, Account information, location of account holder) to enable me to find out who is doing this. They say I cannot get that information without a court order. Hence the reason why I am contacting you.

Can you guide me in the right direction? When you reply I can disclose further information.

This is a serious matter and I need your help so I can find the appropriate court and information on how to go about getting a court order.

I look forward to your speedy response.

Yours sincerely
