Dr. Larry Goldenberg is able to meet you for lunch on Tuesday the 14th.
You are scheduled to be downtown from 1030 – 1130, meeting with VPD at 815 Hornby Street.
Would you be able to meet Dr. Goldenberg after that meeting, and if so, is there somewhere you would like to go, or would you prefer he select?
Please confirm and I'll confirm with Dr. Goldenberg.
Thx,
T.

Dear Tanya, Dominic, Amy, Lisa, Katrina, Jamie, Justin, Alessia, Ryan, Jeff and Steve,

I just wanted to send you all a quick note to express my sincere appreciation for your considerable work on the cannabis engagement project. I had the opportunity to share some of your preliminary findings and analysis with my colleagues yesterday and they are looking forward to receiving more information on your insights.

The fact that you've managed to receive, review and analyse 49,000 public responses in 6 weeks without having your eyes glaze over (figuratively speaking) is nothing short of mind-blowing (pun intended).

Seriously though; your efforts, combined with those of your colleagues in PSSG, HLTH and AG will go a long way to help government shape a solid policy framework for cannabis legalization in BC. This is a big job, and you've shouldered a big part of the burden.

Thanks again for your efforts, and enjoy your long weekend!

Regards,

Mike

Subject: EMBC Update - November 6, 2017 as of 0700 hrs

Good morning,

EMBC UPDATE – November 06, 2017 AS OF 0700 HRS – ASSESSMENT

There were no new significant incidents in the province in the last 24 hours.

PROVINCIAL WEATHER

Today, sunny skies will dominate most of the province with a high pressure system holding in place. The only area seeing active weather will be the north coast, with a new Pacific storm approaching. Moisture from this storm will spread into the north coast later this afternoon, bringing moderate to heavy precipitation and rising freezing levels tonight.

The Pacific storm will continue to hit the North West on Tuesday, spreading precipitation southwards into the central coast including Bella Bella and Bella Coola. In the interior, there is a slight chance of flurries over the Kootenay - Boundary and Southern Columbia regions. Meanwhile, the south coast will stay mainly dry with some cloudy skies. By Wednesday, it is expected that the storm will begin to bring light precipitation to the south coast before it intensifies and begins to push inland to the southern interior.

WEATHER ALERTS

A Wind warning is issued for Haida Gwaii and North Vancouver Island. Strong southeasterly winds of 80 to 100 km/h will develop over Haida Gwaii near noon and spread to the exposed coastal sections of North Vancouver Island near midnight.

A Special air quality statement is issued for the Vanderhoof area, where elevated pollution levels are expected or are occurring.
