The branch has informed me that they are already drafting a response under 555749 letter from this inmate. Their understanding is that the Minister/DM do not respond to inmates. Perhaps the branch can reference this new letter in the response?

"I'd like to thank the Sikh Gurdwaras and Hindu Mandir for sharing their views with me. The proposed transition to a different policing model in Surrey is a statutory process that deals with many complex issues and details. Our government needs to make sure the proposed plan meets the requirements of the Police Act to provide adequate and effective policing and keeps people who live in Surrey safe. I've been advised that while the plan provides a sound concept for a policing model, there are several elements that require more detail prior to evaluation. That's why we are continuing to work with the City of Surrey on this. Our goal is to be timely, while continuing to be guided by our top priority, the safety of Surrey's residents."

This will give the RCMP an opportunity to free up RCM Police members to carry out their regular duties and responsibilities, and as well prevent the need to recruit members from [for example] lower mainland detachments for fire support duties. This becomes very expensive, and as well leaves many communities adversely affected by members being posted to the fires, subsequently reducing the detachments' ability to fulfill the policing needs.

The LGRM applicants are mostly former and retired law enforcement officers that would normally qualify for an exemption from acquiring the Basic Security Training [BST] in order to qualify for the Security Guard License; [Reference: Security Services Regulations Subsection 3(10)(b)(ii).

As well, it is predicted that the forest fires could be worse than we experienced in 2018. Furthermore, we have another hurdle to get through once our personal receive the security guard license; as per our agreement with the RCMP, those approved by your Ministry for a security guard work license are then required to engage in, and clear an 'enhanced level security' process by the RCMP before they can be deployed.

Nimmi, as discussed we will use the statement below and send to reporters. Noting from Colin, that Tanya from Global is going to see if Richard/Keith or Keily can find MMF in the halls and clip on this.

Statement from Mike Farnworth, Minister of Public Safety and Solicitor General:

"I'd like to thank the Sikh Gurdwaras and Hindu Mandir for sharing their views with me. The proposed transition to a different policing model in Surrey is a statutory process that deals with many complex issues and details. Our government needs to make sure the proposed plan meets the requirements of the Police Act to provide adequate and effective policing and keeps people who live in Surrey safe. I've been advised that while the plan provides a sound concept for a policing model, there are several elements that require more detail prior to evaluation. That's why we are continuing to work with the City of Surrey on this. Our goal is to be timely, while continuing to be guided by our top priority, the safety of Surrey's residents."

What elements of the plan require more detail? What are MMF's concerns? What does the Minister mean by IT?

Background

This is a follow-up to a media request from July 2, 2019.

REQUEST:

Reporter's are looking to interview MMF about south asian letter to minister regarding speed of decision of Surrey RCMP.

RESPONSE:

Provided Statement
Statement from Mike Farnworth, Minister of Public Safety and Solicitor General:

"I'd like to thank the Sikh Gurdwaras and Hindu Mandir for sharing their views with me. The proposed transition to a different policing model in Surrey is a statutory process that deals with many complex issues and details. Our government needs to make sure the proposed plan meets the That's why we are continuing to work with the City of Surrey on this. Our goal is to be timely, while continuing to be guided by our top priority, the safety of Surrey's residents."

Recommendation

- This is the City of Surrey's proposal, and the ministry is working with city staff about what is required of them.
- They are aware that we need more information from them in a number of areas. For example, training capacity in relation to their hiring plan and IT infrastructure plans.
- The priority of the Solicitor General is to have adequate, safe, effective policing right across the province and Surrey needs to ensure their plan to transition to an independent municipal police agency meets this requirement .

Deadline ASAP

Request

Is someone available to comment on how this new legislation is working?

Has anyone been fined yet?

Background

This is a follow-up to a media request from June 27, 2019.

REQUEST:

Reporter is hoping to speak to someone about what specific steps are being taken to make sure that the prices advertised are what it is actually worth? Such as, will they lose their license, etc. They spoke to a critic who said that what the government is doing won't change anything.

RESPONSE:

Provided Background

Consistent with other consumer protection legislation in BC, the Ticket Sales Act is focused on price transparency for consumers. The Ticket Sales Act does this by introducing new disclosure requirements for all ticket sellers that ensure consumers get important information before spending money on tickets, including:

- Both a ticket's face value, and its total price
- A detailed breakdown of all fees, charges and taxes
- Seat or standing area location

- Any terms and conditions on the ticket

Ticket sellers that violate these requirements will be subject to significant enforcement actions. These include compliance orders, property freezing orders, administrative penalties as high as $50,000 for corporations, and fines up to $100,00 for corporations. There is also a right to take action in civil court for losses suffered as a result of someone's violation of the legislation.

Recommendation

Bill 27, the Ticket Sales Act is not yet in force and regulations are being developed prior to the new legislation being implemented. Consumer Protection BC will administer and enforce the legislation.

Subject: BMO Travel card program updates

To: BMO Travel cardholders

On the weekend of July 12, 2019, BMO will be upgrading their card processing platform and rolling out new features and changes to the card program.

BMO Spend Dynamics online will be unavailable between Saturday July 13th, 2019 @ 9pm and Monday July 15th @ 9pm.

Please review the attached documents which outline the updates:

- 1) Guidebook with all of the changes to the Travel card program. Please note there are changes noted in this guidebook that apply to the BMO purchase card and BTA, please disregard.
- 2) Corporate Travel Entertainment Program Insurance Certificate – This is a new Certificate of Insurance for all Travel cardholders.

There were a few questions that BMO has answered:

Q: Will new and existing BMO Travel cardholders have this new insurance?

A: Yes, effective July 12/19, the current travel insurance changes to the "Corporate Travel & Entertainment Program" Insurance

Q: Will cardholders be using Mobile Wallets?

A: This is in the works at BMO and they are exploring what the implications are for the Province of BC.

Q: For the new PIN reset feature by phone, what questions will BMO ask the cardholder to confirm identity?

A:

- Cardholders full name,
- Name of Corporation and Activation code (this is the information you would have used to activate your card)
- Your address on file with BMO (where you receive your monthly statements)

Q: How does a cardholder go about making a claim with the new Insurance?

A: Cardholders will phone the Insurance provider – phone number on the back of the card. They will assist with processing the claim and if the claim is valid, they would apply the credit back to your card/account.

Let me know if you have any further questions.

Thank You.

Note that all general FOI request records that are released to an applicant should be published on the Open Information website unless the exemption criteria apply. The exemption criteria can be found on page 11 of the Open Information and Open Data Policy. Consultations from outside provincial public bodies are not published on the Open Information website.

Exercise of Discretion:

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIPPA) contains both mandatory and discretionary exceptions to disclosure. Sections 13 to 20 are the discretionary exceptions. Where Information Access Operations (IAO) has advised the head that a discretionary exception may apply, it is important that the head consider the possibility of releasing the information despite the fact that an exception may apply.

Factors relevant to the exercise of discretion include:

- the general purposes of the legislation: public bodies should make information available to the public; individuals should have access to personal information about themselves;
- the wording of the discretionary exception and the interests which the section attempts to balance;
- whether the individual's request could be satisfied by severing the record and by providing the applicant with as much information as is reasonably practicable;
- the historical practice of the public body with respect to the release of similar types of documents;
- the nature of the record and the extent to which the document is significant and/or sensitive to the public body;
- whether the disclosure of the information will increase public confidence in the operation of the public body;
- the age of the record;
- whether there is a sympathetic or compelling need to release materials;
- whether previous orders of the Commissioner have ruled that similar types of records or information should or should not be subject to disclosure; and

- when the policy advice exception is claimed, whether the decision to which the advice or recommendations relates has already been made.

look for a statement from BC Corrections.

Background

VANCOUVER - A former jail guard has won his discrimination complaint against the British Columbia government for being forced to work in what the human rights tribunal concluded was a "poisoned work environment."

Levan Francis, who is black, filed a complaint to the B.C. Human Rights Tribunal in 2012, alleging colleagues and supervisors at the North Fraser Pre-trial Centre in Port Coquitlam used racial slurs and stereotyped him.

During a 12-day hearing the government claimed that Francis used accusations of racism as a shield when his performance was criticized and fabricated allegations for his human rights complaint. But adjudicator Diana Juricevic ruled Francis was subjected to racism that only got worse after he made the rights complaint when he was called a "rat" who had a "target on his back."

No settlement or award was issued, but the chair said she would retain jurisdiction of the dispute to complete that process.

Francis left his job nine months after making the human rights complaint, and Juricevic says in her ruling there seemed to be no other option for him but to leave.

[pssg]

Recommendation

Statement from BC Corrections Spokesperson Cindy Rose:

“The Human Rights Tribunal’s findings are deeply troubling, and BC Corrections’ legal counsel is currently reviewing them. Because this matter remains before the tribunal pending the remedy phase, it would be inappropriate to comment further on the decision at this time.

“What I can confirm is that, when these allegations came to light years ago, BC Corrections contracted outside experts to provide mandatory anti-bullying and harassment training to all staff at North Fraser Pretrial Centre.

“BC Corrections staff are expected to model high standards of behaviour, including civility, courtesy and professionalism in their interactions.”

"Maple Ridge Coun. Gordy Robson brought a motion to the community's June 18 council meeting to try and start the discussion again on establishing a provincial police force to replace the RCMP. The municipality will be bringing it forward as a resolution to the next UBCM convention.

I'd like to ask, what does the province think of this idea? How often is it brought up with the ministry? Is this something the province would entertain, in light of Surrey's initiative to establish its own municipal police force? Is the province doing any work to evaluate the viability of having its own provincial police? Those kinds of questions."

Recommendation

- It is the responsibility of the Minister of Public Safety and Solicitor General, under the Police Act, to ensure adequate and effective policing for all of British Columbia.
- The current integrated policing structure we have in B.C. is a key part of our strategy to meet current and future policing challenges and B.C.'s high level of integration helps communities stretch their policing budgets by giving their police access to sophisticated equipment and expertise.
- The Police Act provides three options for policing; establishing a municipal police department; enter into an agreement with the Province for RCMP municipal services; or, with provincial support, enter into an agreement with another municipal police department to provide policing.

- While the RCMP Municipal Police Unit Agreement (MPUA) has a 20-year term, it also has a two-year opt out clause, and five-year reviews are conducted.
- The RCMP is a national force, and internal management is under the control of the Commissioner but the Minister sets the objectives, priorities and goals for the RCMP provincially and the Mayor, on behalf of Council, sets the priorities for their local RCMP that are consistent with provincial priorities.
- The province will continue the work we've been doing with municipalities to ensure sustainable policing that meets the needs of British Columbians.

Follow-up info...

- The CityTV reporter has a camera that can be deployed around the lower mainland for MMF. So Poco and Vancouver are both options. They can also extend the interview time to as late as 3pm-ish (3:30 absolute latest but they may not make deadline).
- Radio Canada is going to clip the Tanya Fletcher request so that one is done.

Is MMF available for more interviews today? They're starting to roll in.

Deadline Friday, July 5, 2019 2:30 PM (We can let him know to just clip the CBC National Interview)

Request

Marc Antoine would like someone on camera in Vancouver to speak about the earthquakes today. I said that he'd have to speak to NRCan about the earthquake itself, but that we can speak to general earthquake preparedness, etc.

He says he would like to speak to someone about how we're getting communities prepared for an earthquake. He would prefer someone in French, but if no one is available then English is fine.

Would like someone on-camera in Vancouver to give earthquake preparedness tips: how to prepare, what should be in an emergency kit, what to do if injured, etc.

If no one available for on-camera in Vancouver, wonders if we can accomodate Skype.
As a last resort, would take a voice clip over the phone (likely with photo of interviewee)

I leave it up to folks to edit but this captures more what happened today.

The Report of Speaker Darryl Plecas released on January 21, 2019 outlined concerns about workplace culture at the Legislative Assembly. As such, over the past few months, the all-party Legislative Assembly Management Committee (LAMC) took of steps to properly address those concerns – including the McLachlin investigation - and now has taken steps to establish an independent workplace review.

As directed by LAMC, the Legislative Assembly posted a RFP on B.C. Bid, providing for a competitive bidding opportunity for this review, including a process towards organizational reconciliation.

I trust that the all-party Committee – including Members from all three caucuses - will continue to play an active role in this process.

Request

Is the Solicitor General involved in “ongoing negotiations” with the federal government on policing costs?

Is any other part of the provincial government involved in “ongoing negotiations” with the federal government on policing costs?

Background

Prev story:

<https://vancouversun.com/news/local-news/ndp-mp-calls-on-federal-govt-to-cover-policing-costs-of-pipeline-protests> reporter’s assumption:

The cost of policing the Trans Mountain pipeline protests is now about $1.8 million. Burnaby hasn’t paid the bill for the extra policing since 2014. On Wednesday, MP Peter Julian and Coun. Sav Dhaliwal held a news conference to say Ottawa is responsible for 100 per cent of the costs as per the Municipal Police Unit Agreement sections 8.3 and 8.4 which cover an Emergency and a Major Event.

Reporter also says “MP Dhaliwal who said, no, these are the normal costs of policing in Burnaby so he believes Ottawa is 100 per cent responsible for the costs. But he liked the idea that the issue is now “on their radar.””

Recommendation

- The Police Act is clear that municipalities over 15,000 in population must pay the cost of policing within their municipalities—this includes the cost of policing matters related to civil disobedience.
- In addition, Burnaby is a signatory to a Municipal Police Unit Agreement (MPUA) which provides both a dispute mechanism and an article regarding default under the agreement.
- The dispute is under the Municipal Provincial Unit Agreement (MPUA) between Burnaby and the Province, however the federal government is aware and is working with Ministry and the City of Burnaby to resolve the matter.
- In recognition of the mutual benefit of contract policing, Burnaby, as an RCMP jurisdiction, receives a 10 per cent federal contribution to their policing costs. In addition, the Province contributes over $71 million to fight organized crime and gangs of which Burnaby, like other Lower Mainland Municipalities, is a beneficiary. Burnaby also benefits in numerous ways from provincial policing infrastructure.
- The obligations of municipalities are clear, and we encourage them to work with their local police to minimize the impact on municipal budgets while ensuring the safety of the public.
- The province is aware of Burnaby's views on paying for these policing matters, and we confirm there is an outstanding non-payment with respect to 2014 and more recent 2017/18 invoices.
- That said, we understand the significance of these events and will continue to work closely and collaboratively with the city of Burnaby to ensure public safety.
- It's important to note that regardless of any disagreement over funding, policing services will continue uninterrupted and will be unaffected by any funding disagreement.

Lisa Godenzie followed up a number of times with Tonia Enger who in turn followed up with the DM a number of times, but as she understand the Minister did not have time to consider any recommendations. The Board has now been appointed and BC never put any names forward. Hope this helps clear things up.

Hi Lori and Jordan,

Short notice but can we pull together a some bullets by end of day on reconciliation pieces we have completed in EMBC. Off the top of my head... thinking the tripartite agreement we just signed plus any other MOUs with First Nations, the CEPF funding that is now accessible for FNs, $2m in cultural sensitivity training for fire evacuations etc and anything we can think of.

Much thanks,
W

Subject: Follow-Up on s.22

Good Morning

Our constituent s.22

concerning his medical fitness to drive. s.22

received correspondence on April 23, 2019 regarding a doctor's report is essentially immobile due to heart trouble and a deteriorating

. He is not driving and won't be in the near future. The letter indicates that he must take an Enhanced Road Assessment (ERA) through ICBC by June 25, 2019.

It will be impossible for s.22 to take this test. We are wanting to provide him with instructions once he's well enough. Can you confirm that this will be a simple renewal (with a successful ERA) or will he need to re-start the process of licensing like a beginner driver. s.22 is also requesting the name of the doctor who made the report. His family doctor, s.22 has denied making such a report.

I look forward to hearing from you. If your reply is after today, please respond to Sheila.Denis@leg.bc.ca.
