- RCMP are aware of these claims and are actively investigating.
- Their priority remains the safety and security of people living and working in proximity to the pipeline. They continue to be in close contact with CGL to ensure every appropriate step is being taken in this regard.
- A number of steps are taken by the company to ensure the ongoing safety and security of sites, equipment and personnel during all construction phases. Where appropriate, any issues are reported to the RCMP for follow up.
- For months, the RCMP have remained in an enhanced posture in the area to ensure public safety and to deter and respond to illegal activities.
- Anyone who has any information with respect to this active investigation should contact the RCMP.

Recent Updates

RCMP continue to maintain an enhanced policing presence in CGL work areas, as well access and egress points along the Morice River West FSR. Police are also monitoring the activities of protest occupiers on the Lamprey Creek Recreation site, where permanent structures have been built to accommodate this group. .There is a history of direct action against the CGL project by several project opponents, which some of these matters are before the courts as criminal proceedings.

Save Old Growth (SOG) - Teal Jones Cedar Products

Recent Updates	RCMP Response	Source
Elders for Ancient Trees held a small peaceful protest march to the BC Legislature on February 25, 2023.	POJ monitored this situation with no reports of direct action.	RCMP
Background in Relation to Recent Updates
SOG protesters under various banners (mainly the Rainforest Flying Squad) have taken direct action against TJCP operations which triggered police enforcement and has resulted hundreds of accused now before the SCBC on contempt of court and other charges. .

Trans Mountain Expansion Project (TMEP)

Recent Updates	RCMP Response	Source
RCMP advise that TMEP protest activity has slowed and no direct action has occurred for several weeks.	RCMP monitoring work activities along the TMEP sites in keeping with the related court injunction order.	RCMP
Background in Relation to Recent Updates
The TMEP has been the site of protest activity and subject to direct action by project opponents in the Blue River and Lower Mainland areas. In the recent past, TMEP was highly opposed in the Blue River area by the Tiny House Warrior (THW) occupation which is located beside a major TMEP employee work camp. RCMP advise that several accused charged in relation to obstructing work on the TMEP project will be in Court in January and February of 2023.

4. At the end of November, we drilled and filled holes in the pipe string before it would be lowered into section 6 of the pipeline between Kilometers 486 and 489.
5. In early December, we chipped and busted the welds on a section of pipe that had not yet been lowered into the trench between Kilometers 606 and 609.
6. We damaged the protective coating on a section of pipe by chipping and grinding, and chipped a welded seam on several sections of pipe before they were backfilled between Kilometer 377 and 380 of section 5 of the pipeline. This work was performed in early January.
7. Near Kilometer 27 of North Hirsch forestry road we damaged welds and coating on a pipe section in the middle of January.
8. We poured hydrochloric acid on the concrete pipes we knew were meant for the tunnel under Wedzin Kwa and used a concrete drill inside the pipe to weaken them even further. The concrete pipes are designed to protect the pipe itself from the pressure of the surrounding soil. Given the heightened security and surveillance of concrete pipe storage, we can't say when this happened.
9. In early December, we grinded and chipped the coating on the welded seams of the pipe sections between Kilometers 598 to 601.
10. In mid February, we scraped and chipped large portions of the pipe coating of the string between Kilometers 626 and 629.
