1. Welcome & Acknowledgement of territories

D. Heron presented the following acknowledgement:

The BC Arts Council acknowledges it carries out its work on the traditional territories of indigenous nations throughout British Columbia. We pay our respects to the Elders, past and present, descendants and custodians of these lands. We honour the knowledge keepers and the continuing relationships with indigenous people in B.C. that develop through our work together. Today we thank the Squamish, Tsleil-waututh and Musqueam First Nations for allowing us to meet and do this work within their traditional unceded territories.

2. APPROVAL OF AGENDA

Information Note on Supplemental Operating Grants - 2018/19

For BCAC Program Committee

May 2018

Background:

The BCAC's operating programs run on multiyear cycles of 2-3 years, depending on discipline. In 2018/19, with the exception of Professional Arts Training (Training), Arts Periodicals, Arts Service Organizations (ASOs) and Publishing, all relatively small program intakes, all disciplines are on an extended cycle (or 'interim year').

Simultaneously, the Council has been working on its new strategic plan for 2018-2022, set to launch June 22, 2018. It addresses previously underserved areas of the arts and culture sector and includes significant transition for the Council's strategic directions over the next five years, focusing on:

- Sustainability and Creative Development
- Indigenous Arts and Culture
- Equity, Diversity and Access
- Regional Arts and Community Arts

The launch of the strategic plan was originally planned to occur in April, s.22

The first operating assistance deadline for 2018/19 was March 15, 2018; there will be another intake for fall programs in September. This means that all the spring operating programs have been running under the previous strategic plan. As any increase to operating grants is essentially 'locked-in' over the period of the extended cycle - and beyond, as the expectation of operating funding is that it is relatively stable and sustained, in order for organizations to be able to respond to the new strategic priorities while distributing the $5M lift to operating organizations for 2018/19 as approved by Council, a strategy other than simply raising base operating grants had to be found.

Findings:

In order to distribute funding to the high-performing, stable organizations that make up our operating clients, while still allowing for the future re-alignment of funds in accordance with Council's new strategic plan, staff have recommended that a significant portion of the increase to operating programs be allocated through the award of one-time supplemental grants for 2018/19, rather than a lift to organization's base operating grant amounts. Additionally, a general policy of a minimum operating grant level of $20,000 will be implemented. Accordingly, the following processes have been identified and are being implemented for 2018/19:

Intake years Spring: Professional Arts Training, Arts Periodicals Fall: Arts Service Organizations

- Small increase to base program budgets (Training 13%; Arts Periodicals --%; ASOs tbc)
- Organizations currently receiving <$20K will have their base operating grant reset to $20K
 - Training:
 - Arts Periodicals:
- Any new applicants to operating assistance brought in, as recommended by the Advisory, at a minimum base operating grant of $20K. Training and Arts Periodicals both have one new applicant for 2018/19.
- One-time supplementary grants operating grants to be awarded to all returning clients except those whom, by being brought up to the new base minimum of $20K, already saw a percentage increase of more than that allocated to their program discipline. Supplementary grant amounts will be proposed by staff, based on the overall funding picture within each discipline, based on the basic formula of 20-25% of 17/18 funding levels. Advisory committees will review the proposed amounts and make recommendations for approval by Council.

Non-intake years Spring: Music, Dance, Theatre – 2nd year of a 2-year cycle Fall: Festivals, Media Arts, Museums – 2nd year of 2-year cycle; Visual Arts – 2nd year of 3-year cycle

- No increase to base program budgets.
- All organizations on Extended Cycle will have their grants continued at 17/18 levels. Advisories will review Concerned Status and Annual Status applications as usual.
- Organizations currently receiving <$20K will have their base operating grant reset to $20K, regardless of where they are in their funding cycle (see Appendix A).

- Any specific advice from the 2017/18 Advisories vis-à-vis a potential funding increase will be implemented, if possible.
- One-time supplementary grants operating grants to be awarded to all returning clients except those whom, by being brought up to the new base minimum of $20K, already saw a percentage increase of more than that allocated to their program discipline. Supplementary grant amounts will be proposed by staff, based on the overall funding picture within each discipline, based on the basic formula of 20-25% of 17/18 funding levels. Advisory committees will review the proposed amounts and make recommendations for approval by Council.

Community Arts Organizations – 2nd year of 2-year cycle

- The approach specific to Community Arts Organizations, who have a deadline in the fall, is still being developed. Community Arts Organizations' funding include a formula related to census data and have typically received grants much smaller than those in professional arts. The approach developed by staff will uphold the same principles as those being applied to professional operating assistance programs, but will respond to the specific needs of this program.

Next Steps:

The BC Arts Council staff has begun implementing this approach with the Spring operating intake. Music and Training Advisory Committees have already met and Arts Periodicals, Dance and Theatre will all meet in the next month before the June Council meeting, with the Advisory Committees' recommendations to be ratified at that time.

Issue: Respectful Workplace Policy and Approach

Brief Program Description:

Following on the momentum behind #metoo, #timesup, and other movements this past year, the BC Arts Council, like other arts funding agencies and cultural organizations across the country and around the world, is looking at its role in promoting safe and respectful workplaces within the organizations and projects it funds. We will be consulting with select Advisories and Juries this Spring to provide us with input as to what shape our policies and programs might take to play a real and appropriate role in this conversation.

- 1) Policies and processes will also be adapted to bring language and approach up to date. These steps include, but are not limited to:
 - Declaration by applicant organizations to include provisions to provide safe workplace and adhere to all relevant legal obligations
 - Conditions for Payment of Awards to include:
 - Failure to comply with legal obligations.
 - Significant risk of insolvency or bankruptcy.
 - Failure to respect the commitment to provide a workplace free from harassment, discrimination and sexual misconduct
 - Requirement to report major changes, including:
 - major changes to proposed activities;
 - changes in legal status, ownership, corporate structure, name, or mandate; danger of insolvency, bankruptcy, or credit protection;
 - legal proceedings that pose a financial or reputational risk.
 - Proposed policy changes for Fair Notice and new policy for Reviewing and Reversing Grant Decisions that include:
 - failure to comply with legal obligations
 - failure to respect an organization's commitment to provide a workplace free from discrimination, harassment and sexual misconduct.
 - Explicit exclusion of illegal activities
 - Adapt written statement from Board chair to include specific questions on governance and workplace safety.
 - Adapt assessment criteria to include:
 - The quality of working conditions for those involved in your organization and/or activities, including measures to create and maintain a safe work environment that is free of harassment and discrimination, promote cultural safety and provide culturally appropriate support.

BC ARTS COUNCIL
Briefing Note for Program Committee

- Requirement to provide HR policies outlining how the organization fosters workplace safety and eliminates harassment
 - Changes to Charge to the Jury to equip Program Officers
 - Grant letters to include additional language referencing workplace safety
- 2) Alongside the work being done within our own programs and processes, staff are also currently working with colleagues within the Ministry (Creative Sector) and associated agencies (Creative BC, Knowledge Network) to
- 3)
- 4) Canadian Heritage and Canada Arts Council recently funded the Cultural Human Resources Council ($552k) to develop training and tools to help arts organizations build and maintain respectful workplaces. Includes a wider consultation process. There will be a roundtable coming to Vancouver with the potential to ensure BC Arts Council and Creative BC are invited. Gillian and Allison meeting with CHRC on May 29.

Program Relevance to BC Arts Council:

The Respectful Workplaces discussion is being situated within the direction of the new strategic plan, specifically within the direction of Equity, Diversity and Access, but also Sustainability and Creative Development. It is being situated within an overarching question of:

What does a sustainable and healthy arts organization look like today?

Current Practice:

There is existing language in our programs and policies that speaks to this need, but it will be improved and made more explicit.

Options for Improvement or Change:

As above, we are taking a multi-faceted approach to work on BC Arts Council's own programs and policies and to collaborate with partners across the Ministry and the sector to assist organizations in addressing this important and timely issue.

Background:

The “digital revolution” continues to disrupt previous models of creation and dissemination, presenting the arts sector with both opportunities and challenges. Increased discoverability allows consumers to access a virtually unlimited amount of video, music, visual art, and text, creating both greater opportunities and challenges in reaching audiences, or being discovered, in a crowded content world. The evolving role of new intermediaries, curators and programmers is creating new relationships between artists and audiences. The incoming strategic plan responds to this issue through the direction of Sustainability and Creative Development, which includes an action to “build awareness of the opportunities and challenges relating to new technologies, and build capacity in the arts sector to meet them”.

The Canada Council for the Arts has responded to the shift to digital by launching the Digital Strategy Fund that will distribute $88.5 million from 2017-21. The digital fund is focused on encouraging digital literacy, public engagement, and organizational transformation. The CCA just announced the recipients of the first round and several BC-based projects have been funded. The next deadline for applicants is September 19, 2018.

Potential Partnership:

The Canada Council for the Arts wants to encourage arts organizations to think more strategically about digital and has offered $50,000 to assist in funding a one-day digital learning session for BC-based arts organizations. They would like the BC Arts Council to take the lead on determining the shape of this event, in terms of participants, speakers, facilitators, and venue. The only requirement is that, as part of the event, the Canada Council for the Arts staff will attend and give a 30 minute update on the Digital Strategy Fund.

This partnership represents a prime opportunity for the BC Arts Council to act as a convener between the arts sector and experts in digital interactivity. The objective would be to raise awareness throughout the arts sector of how digital innovation could be enacted, how collaborations could drive digital transformation, and how to access funds for such projects. Creative BC has also expressed interest in taking part and could inform participants on the Interactive Fund, which is funded by BCAC and administered by Creative BC.

Next Steps:

The BCAC staff recommends that BCAC continue to liaise with the Canada Council about confirming the date of a potential digital learning session and formalize the partnership, as well as bringing on a consultant/event planner to organize the session (funded by the Canada Council partnership).

COUNCIL MOTION: THAT Council follow the approach approved at the June 2018 Board meeting to allocate the increase to the Operating Assistance Program grants budget for 2018/19 as follows for the Fall 2018 intake (Arts Service Organizations, Book Publishers, Media Arts Organizations, Professional Arts Festivals, Public Museums, Visual Arts Organizations, Community Arts Organizations):

- Advisories will review Concerned Status and Annual Status applications as usual.
- All organizations on Extended Cycle within the Professional Program Stream will have their base operating grant continued at 2017/18 levels, except organizations currently receiving <$20K in operating assistance, who will have their base operating grant reset to $20K, regardless of where they are at in their funding cycle.
- Any specific advice from the 2017/18 Advisories vis-à-vis potential funding increases will be implemented, if possible.
- One-time supplementary grants of an average of approximately 18-22% of 2017/18 operating grant to be awarded to all returning operating clients within the Professional Stream, except those which, by being brought up to the new base minimum of $20K, already saw a percentage increase of more than that allocated to their program discipline. Supplementary grant amounts will be proposed by staff, based on the overall funding picture within each discipline. Advisory Committees will review the proposed amounts and make recommendations for approval by Council.

N. Armour, J. Brindley - PASSED

COUNCIL MOTION: THAT Council accepts the recommendation of the 2017/18 Professional Arts Festivals (Studio Arts) Advisory Committee to bring Capture Photography Festival Society into the Operating Assistance program for $20,000 (Professional Arts Festivals – Studio Arts), based on the availability of new funds for the program for 2018/19.

About the BC Arts Council: New Foundations

The BC Arts Council is an agency of the provincial government established by the Arts Council Act, for the purposes of:

- Providing support for the arts and culture in British Columbia;
- Providing persons and organizations with the opportunity to participate in the arts and culture in British Columbia; and
- Providing an open, accountable and neutrally administered process for managing funds for British Columbia arts and culture.

In July 2018, the BC Arts Council released New Foundations: Strategic Plan for the British Columbia Arts Council 2018-2022, which articulates the following vision:

“Artists and cultural organizations in British Columbia are well-supported, thriving, and able to reach their full potential under principles of equity, diversity, accessibility, and reconciliation. Arts and culture are seen as fundamental to developing vibrant and resilient communities, where the people of British Columbia are highly engaged in the province’s unique arts and culture sector recognized for its innovation and leadership in Canada and abroad.”

Strategic Directions

The new strategic plan lays out four new strategic directions for the BC Arts Council, intended to facilitate more equitable access to arts funding and informed by the current context facing the arts and culture sector in B.C.:

- Sustainability and Creative Development
- Equity, Diversity and Access
- Indigenous Arts and Culture
- Regional Arts and Community Arts

Values

The current year is one of transition, as Council’s funding priorities and programs begin to navigate from the previous strategic plan to the full implementation of its new strategic directions. Throughout this transition, Council is highlighting and strengthening some of its previous commitments, as expressed through values such as access, recognition, engagement and consultation, while signalling the new values that will guide all of Council’s decisions and activities, from program design to the peer review process, into the future:

- Artistic Development and Achievement
- Indigenous Engagement and Cultural Vitality
- Equity, Access and Diversity
- Collaboration and Partnerships
- Engagement and Participation
- Recognition and Promotion
- Fair and Transparent Governance

Throughout all of its work, the BC Arts Council is committed to upholding the principles outlined in the Calls to Action of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (the Declaration), as adopted by the Province of British Columbia.

Considering Cultural Context

All applicants should consider the issues around cultural appropriation if using the cultural forms, aesthetics or iconography of cultural communities removed from their social, political and cultural roots. Cultural appropriation can also occur when there is insufficient credit given to the sources of artistic and cultural work. Cultural appropriation can cause harm to Indigenous and diverse communities through misrepresentation and stereotyping. It diminishes access and reduces the opportunity for artists from Indigenous and diverse cultural communities to tell their own stories.

If working with Indigenous peoples, communities, culture or intellectual property (including but not limited to stories, songs, dance, designs, art, traditional knowledge or other cultural expressions), applicants should consider the principles outlined in the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (the Declaration). The Declaration affirms that Indigenous peoples have the right to self-determination and the right to practice and revive their culture and traditions. As stated in Article 11 of the Declaration,

“This includes the right to maintain, protect and develop the past, present and future manifestations of their cultures, such as archaeological and historical sites, artefacts, designs, ceremonies, technologies and visual and performing arts and literature.”

Article 31 of the Declaration affirms the rights of Indigenous peoples to maintain, control, protect and develop their cultural heritage, traditional knowledge and cultural expressions and their manifestations and intellectual property. If you are working with traditional knowledge, you will need to explain how you have addressed cultural protocols and/or received permissions where required.

BC Arts Council

Project Brief – Respectful Workplaces

Respectful workplaces are those that display integrity and professionalism, practice fairness and understanding, demonstrate respect for individual rights and differences and encourage accountability for one's actions. Respectful workplaces are free of harassment and discrimination based on sexual orientation, gender identity, physical characteristics, mental ability, or ancestry.

The BC Arts Council acknowledges that safe, equitable and respectful work environments are a prerequisite for staff, employees, volunteers and contract workers to experience cultural safety, harness creativity, and do their best work. Respectful workplaces are key to the long term sustainability and health of arts and cultural organizations.

The BC Arts Council recently introduced its new strategic plan, New Foundations 2018-2022, which outlines four new strategic directions to guide the Council's work:

- ❖ Sustainability and Creative Development
- ❖ Equity, Diversity and Access
- ❖ Indigenous Arts and Culture
- ❖ Regional Arts and Community Arts

July 18, 2017

Honourable Lisa Beare
Minister of Tourism, Arts and Culture
Parliament Buildings
Victoria, British Columbia V8V 1X4

Dear Minister Beare:

Congratulations on your new appointment as Minister of Tourism, Arts and Culture.

It has never been more important for new leadership that works for ordinary people, not just those at the top.

It is your job to deliver that leadership in your ministry.

Our government made three key commitments to British Columbians.

Our first commitment is to make life more affordable. Too many families were left behind for too long by the previous government. They are counting on you to do your part to make their lives easier.

Our second commitment is to deliver the services that people count on. Together, we can ensure that children get access to the quality public education they need to succeed, that families can get timely medical attention, and that our senior citizens are able to live their final years with dignity.

These and other government services touch the lives of British Columbians every day. It is your job as minister to work within your budget to deliver quality services that are available and effective.

Our third key commitment is to build a strong, sustainable, innovative economy that works for everyone, not just the wealthy and the well-connected. Together, we are going to tackle poverty and inequality, create good-paying jobs in every corner of the province, and ensure people from every background have the opportunity to reach their full potential.

These three commitments along with your specific ministerial objectives should guide your work and shape your priorities from day to day. I expect you to work with the skilled professionals in the public service to deliver on this mandate.

As you are aware, we have set up a Confidence and Supply Agreement with the B.C. Green caucus. This agreement is critical to the success of our government. Accordingly, the principles of “good faith and no surprises” set out in that document should also guide your work going forward.

As minister, you are responsible for ensuring members of the B.C. Green caucus are appropriately consulted on major policy issues, budgets, legislation and other matters as outlined in our agreement. This consultation should be coordinated through the Confidence and Supply Agreement Secretariat in the Premier’s Office. The secretariat is charged with ensuring that members of the B.C. Green caucus are provided access to key documents and officials as set out in the agreement. This consultation and information sharing will occur in accordance with protocols established jointly by government and the B.C. Green caucus, and in accordance with relevant legislation.

British Columbians expect our government to work together to advance the public good. That means seeking out, fostering, and advancing good ideas regardless of which side of the house they come from.

Our government put forward a progressive vision for a Better B.C. that has won broad support with all members of the legislature. There is consensus on the need to address many pressing issues such as reducing health-care wait times, addressing overcrowded and under-supported classrooms, taking action on climate change, tackling the opioid crisis, and delivering safe, quality, affordable child care for all. As one of my ministers, I expect you to build on and expand that consensus to help us better deliver new leadership for British Columbians.

As part of our commitment to true, lasting reconciliation with First Nations in British Columbia our government will be fully adopting and implementing the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples (UNDRIP), and the Calls to Action of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission. As minister, you are responsible for moving forward on the calls to action and reviewing policies, programs, and legislation to determine how to bring the principles of the declaration into action in British Columbia.

In your role as Minister of Tourism, Arts and Culture I expect that you will make substantive progress on the following priorities:

- Champion tourism as a job creator throughout British Columbia and work to expand tourism-marketing efforts internationally.
- Work with the Minister of Jobs, Trade, and Technology to ensure that British Columbia’s tourism sector is represented on trade missions.
- Double the Province’s investment in the B.C. Arts Council over four years.
- Increase investments in Creative B.C. over four years.
- Establish an arts infrastructure fund to help provide space for B.C. artists.
- Ensure that B.C. film and TV makers get their fair share of federal investments from Telefilm, and other federal government programs.

- Work with the Minister of Finance to expand B.C.'s film labour tax credit to include B.C. writers.
- Work with the Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing to develop a community capital infrastructure fund to upgrade and build sports facilities, playgrounds, local community centres, and arts and culture spaces.

All members of Cabinet are expected to review, understand and act according to the Members Conflict of Interest Act and to conduct themselves with the highest level of integrity. Remember, as a minister of the Crown, the way you conduct yourself will reflect not only on yourself, but on your Cabinet colleagues and our government as a whole.

I look forward to working with you in the coming weeks and months ahead.

It will take dedication, hard work, and a real commitment to working for people to make it happen, but I know you're up to the challenge.

Sincerely,

Report from the BCAC Program Committee for the January, 2019 Meeting of Council

The Program Committee met on December 20, 2018 and January 16, 2019 with a focus on the four priority areas that were identified in the October report to Council:

1) Equity policy and program, including outreach/research

2) Respectful workplace policies and procedures implementation

The Committee reviewed and fully supports the guideline changes for applicant organizations regarding respectful workplaces. There is now a requirement for submission of written human resource policies as part of the application, and statements about the provision of safe and respectful workplaces are now part of the declaration on the application form, the written statement of the Board chair, the assessment criteria, the charge to the Advisory Committees, and is a condition of payment.

3) Tracking and reviewing program changes to align with BCAC Strategic Plan

BCAC Communications Committee Report

January 28, 2019

Submitted by Manjot Bains

Since our last meeting in Terrace, the Communications Committee has grown to include Pat Henman, Phillip Djwa and Yosef Wosk, as well as our Board Chair Susan Jackson and Vice Chair Jane Brindley. The committee met in January to discuss our key priorities for the coming year, as well as communications issues and opportunities for the Council. I also met with Brian Jonker and Kim Reid in December 2018 to discuss how the Communications Committee can support the work of the BCAC.

Key Priorities for 2019:

- a. Set the strategic direction for the committee
- b. Update the Terms of Reference for the Communications Committee
- c. Recommend and provide feedback on the development of a toolkit for Board communications with key audiences/clients.

Our committee looks forward to collaborating with Secretariat staff to better define our role within the Council and to develop a strategic direction for the committee that supports the work of the Council as well as implementation of the Strategic Plan. We have also reviewed the existing Terms of Reference for the committee, and intend on updating the terms to better reflect the needs and issues of the Council. My plan is to facilitate discussion with the Committee and the Secretariat on updating the Terms of Reference, with a goal to present them at our next board meeting in April 2019.

The Communications Committee recognizes and applauds the phenomenal work by the BCAC staff, and are eager to help promote the Council across the province. As such, we recommend the following to the Secretariat:

- Develop a clear communications plan that addresses the following:
 - better public promotion of BCAC programs and grant announcements;
 - improved community outreach across the province, particularly with the key priority communities/regions outlined in the strategic plan;
 - clear strategy to connect with artists and arts & culture organizations in underserved populations such as Indigenous communities, marginalized groups, and regions across the province outside of urban centres;
 - support of the implementation of the strategic plan;
 - and how the board can support the communication objectives through advice to staff, public presentations, public meetings, or other means.
- Hire a staff member to support the communication needs of the BCAC
- Create a clear process for communication between the Secretariat & board members around new appointments, issues, etc. Suggest sending public announcements, reports, press releases to BCAC board before released to the public.
- Communications Toolkit for the Board: key messages, sample presentation, best practices for giving a presentation about the BCAC in your community, what to do when approached by media, etc. It's recommended that the toolkit be developed by the Secretariat with input from the Communications Committee.

- Allocate part of the board budget to support presentations and other communications efforts in regions. For example, <https://www.ndac.ca/rasw/> in Nelson - this is a great event where a BCAC program officer or board member in the region could present on BCAC funding and support opportunities.

There is a wealth of experience within our board membership, with deep connections in the arts & culture sector across the province, including traditionally excluded or marginalized groups. I look forward to working with the Communications Committee, Board and Secretariat to develop strong messaging and to better communicate with underserved populations as well as our existing clients.

Best wishes,
Manjot
