Hi Kelly – last week at MLB’s meeting with Creative BC, she mentioned how impressed she was by the woman she met on the Amplify BC tour that was expanding her women’s only studio, using shipping containers for the physical space. Neither of us could remember her name specifically. Please see below for information about her.

Amy,

That was Jane Aurora, who is launching Capsule Studios in a shipping container at the back of Exile Guitars at Main and 22nd. The studio is still in construction.

We also funded Jane for the Producers Lounge, creating professional development opportunities for female and non-binary music producers. Over 100 people applied to participate. Jane has workshops scheduled most weekends this summer with local and international producers, including Alysha Brilla, Sylvia Massey and BC-based Rae Spoon and Elisa Pangsaeng. The program has also received a lot of press and social media attention.

And, there’s a public event on Saturday, July 6 – a conversation with Sylvia Massey and local producer Howard Redekopp.

Subject: RE: ALR issue

Recent media statement:

"My priority as Agriculture Minister is to help farmers farm. Serving food and other farm products on the farm can be an excellent way for farmers to build and sustain their businesses.

Provincially, one issue is the current rule that allows only alcohol-producing farm businesses to serve small amounts of food, without application to the ALC.

To be clear, that rule has been in place for more than a decade, and it is not a change made by our government.

Our government continues to make farming and ranching a priority in B.C. and we have undertaken a comprehensive approach to preserving the ALR to ensure it is available for farmers and ranchers now and into the future.

We are also committed to continue to enhance the supports and resources for farmers and ranchers and this could include policy changes related to value added activities on the ALR such the serving of food raised or grown on the farm to consumers.

At the same time, it is also my duty to make sure the long-term integrity of the Agricultural Land Reserve is protected.

Any policy change that we would consider would need to ensure we're still protecting the farmland and helping farmers farm, creating good jobs, and making life more affordable for British Columbians."

Subject: ALR issue

So far I've only gotten back this factsheet from AGRI – waiting to connect over the phone:
<https://news.gov.bc.ca/factsheets/agricultural-land-reserve-and-agricultural-land-commission>

Support for Agri-Tourism in the ALR:

- The previous government established rules for serving food in the ALR. Generally, restaurants have always required a decision from the ALC to operate on the ALR.
- The only change made by the current government was to level the playing field so that all alcohol producers in the ALR had the same opportunities as those that were previously provided only to wineries, including the ability to operate a food and beverage service lounge. Government is considering whether further changes are needed to the old rules to better support producers, while continuing to protect the ALR.
- The current rules on events in the ALR were introduced by the previous government in 2016. They have been in place for three years and have not changed.
- Landowners wishing to hold events that exceed the criteria in the 2016 regulation can apply to the ALC, which will make an independent decision on their applications.
- Similarly, the regulations regarding serving food on the ALR were established by the previous government over a decade ago and have not changed.
- Farm businesses that produce alcohol are able to serve food, though non-alcohol producers are not able to serve food at this time.
- Supporting farmers to hold events to celebrate and sell farm products on their properties is a key part of helping farmers farm.

Subject: Support for "Queen of the Hurricanes" Heritage Minute?

Hi Karl,

It's that time of year again! Can we connect for a quick call? We're producing a Heritage Minute about Elsie MacGill "Queen of the Hurricanes".

She's hands down one of Canada's most amazing people and a major pioneer for women in STEM and we thought the BC government would be interested in being involved. She's also an incredible Vancouverite and British Columbian - she learned to swim from Joe Forte, had drawing lessons from Emily Carr and attended UBC for 2 years.

MacGill led Canada's fighter plane production in WWII and was likely the first woman in the world to get a degree in electrical engineering and also the first to get a masters in aeronautical engineering. She was also a force in women's rights during the 1960s and 70s - both her mother and grandmother were suffragettes. Honours include: Order of Canada, Centennial Medal, Amelia Earhart Medal. She's also a member of the Aviation and the Canadian Science and Engineering Hall of Fame.

The problem is that the average Canadian hasn't heard of Elsie, which is why Historica Canada - the not-for-profit that funds and makes the Heritage Minutes - is producing this one. It's actually the second Minute we've had the honour of producing with them. The recently released Vancouver Asahi was the most watched Minute yet, and the first BC-based production of a Minute.

Historica has provided base funding to produce this Minute, but we're looking for title sponsors to each contribute up to ^{s.17} This additional funding will allow us to do Elsie's story justice. In particular, some of the important historical recreation that will really bring the story to life. Most importantly, we want to include a scene with one of the actual remaining Hurricane planes as Elsie went on each test flight. A contribution of this level will get your organization's logo in the Minute, which will be seen by millions of Canadians.

Let us know your thoughts and who, if anyone, we should connect with on your end! Much appreciated.

Cheers,
Nate

We're not always the best at promoting ourselves, so here's some of the things we've been working on recently:

We've continued to build digital organizing infrastructure and programs for organizations across Canada, including the CLC and dozens of labour councils across the country.

It was an incredible honour to write and shoot the 2019 Vancouver Asahi Heritage Minute. It has become the most viewed Minute ever, with 2.6 million views in the first 28 days and shares from key influencers like George Takei.

We developed and executed the cross platform HereForCanada.ca campaign for PSAC, which included this TV ad. It helped pressure the federal government to publicly commit to replacing the Phoenix pay system in the fall of 2018.

We designed, built and launched new websites for Nature Canada and the Canadian Labour Congress.

We launched the Oxfam #AskHer campaign in the fall of 2018 to bring attention to the incredible challenges faced by women in refugee camps around the world.

The Project Alberta campaign was seen by over 1.6 million Albertans. It includes What's Inside Jason Kenney's UCP? and How Long Can He Hold It Together?

Also, I am drafting with an effective date of July 4, even though the nine reappointments expire on June 30 as the Ministry needs a few days to get everything vetted and signed – the 30th is a Sunday and it's a long weekend. The next Council meeting is on July 5, so July 4 creates a small lapse in the reapps, but will have everyone appointed in time for the meeting.

I have created a new DN for your discussion with the MO based on your previous direction.

Subject: For MO + PSK: Federal Anti-Racism Strategy released

Canadian Heritage just released the federal anti-racism strategy and a report out on their consultations.

To read the What We Heard report from the public consultations, click here.

To review the Federal Anti-Racism Strategy, click here.

Fairly brief strategy. A few new items (most notably the creation of a national Anti-Racism Secretariat – modelled after Ontario's, it will be internally focused on reducing systemic/institutional racism across federal government departments) and the continuation of existing programs.

Other highlights include:

- Introducing a new Anti-Racism Action Program focused that will support initiatives related to employment, community participation (notably for us: arts, sports and culture) and justice
- Additional funding for community and interfaith dialogues
- $3.3M for a national public education campaign on the impact of racism on Indigenous people and other marginalized communities
- $5.9M for on-line hate focused initiatives
- $6.2M for new data collection initiatives
- Commitment to engage further with Indigenous communities on additional initiatives related to TRC Calls to Action, MMIWG

No specific mention of funding per region/prov. The Division has put a call in to the Regional Office to see if they have any information on how this will roll out in BC.

Subject: Re: Update

Hi Shauna,

I hadn't heard that s.22 Thanks for letting me know. And I will keep you updated directly going forward.

It might be useful to give you a brief update on where things are at. Please forgive me if I'm repeating what you already know. Alternatively if you want more info on any point I'd be happy to provide it.

As I'm sure you know as a result of our bid submission (which I am assuming you saw, but let me know if you don't have it and I will get you your own copy) we were shortlisted with two other cities (we still don't know which ones).

Subsequently we have had a series of video conferences with the Invictus Games Foundation (IGF) staff to further refine and develop the bid and to respond to their questions.

I also took the opportunity two weeks ago to go to London to meet with the IGF to do some "relationship building". More specifically we were able to have the Premier attend a meeting with the IGF at Canada House. In that meeting the Premier was an absolute champion for our bid. He very clearly expressed the absolute commitment of his government and the Feds to host the Games. We really couldn't have had a better advocate. We have subsequently heard back from IGF that their Board (including Prince Harry) are very impressed with our Bid and the support we clearly have from government. s.22

The next step will be for the IGF's CEO (Dominic Reid) to do a site visit. He will visit all three cities and report back. The visit to Victoria is tentatively scheduled for August 24-27 with the working days being the 25th and 26th. With the Premier's assistance and support we are hoping to arrange a reception at Government House for the evening of the 26th with the key supporters of the bid from the province and local governments along with members of the local sport community and potential volunteers. This will be an important opportunity to demonstrate broad government and community support as well as to introduce many of the key players that would be involved in hosting the Games themselves. (I hope it goes without saying that having you there would be incredibly helpful).

After the site visit we are expected to attend a formal presentation of the bids in London on or about September 17. s.13; s.16; s.17
s.13; s.16; s.17

s.13; s.16; s.17

This would, in very general terms, allow for our contractor to continue to refine the bid based on the feedback and requests we have had from IGF (for example they asked us to add sailing and wheelchair tennis) as well as prepare a proper presentation package and attend in London on the 17th.

s.13; s.17

s.13; s.17. As you know we have already been funded by the various municipal governments ($70k) s.13; s.17 I had really hoped we could get through the bidding process without needing any provincial money but given the new requirements I am afraid we are going to need to come to you cap in hand. To that end if you would be able to steer us to whoever or whatever process or application for some urgent funding I would really appreciate it.

Lastly we have been told that the IGF will announce the host city in late September or early October.

So, there you have it, a very Cole's Notes summary of where we are at. Please do let me know if you have any questions as I would be happy to address them. Im also more than happy to speak with you on the phone or meet with you at a time convenient to yourself if you would find that helpful.

s.22 and I will make sure you are kept more directly in the loop as we move forward.

Peter

Subject: Invictus Update / Advice Please

Hi Bobbi,

Thanks again for working your magic to connect the Premier with Invictus COO Richard while you were recently in London. Richard shared how positively impactful that was, especially regarding hearing firsthand from the Premier about BCs (and Canada's) strong commitment to the 2020 Games. I'm sure you got the photos from the meeting...

Our team continues to have weekly contact with the Invictus CEO and COO regarding Bid specifics, and we continue to feel the relationship is getting closer and very aligned. One key update is the tentative date of Aug 26/27 for their multi-day site visit to Victoria. We should get confirmation next week, and will share the “program” detail once signed off with London. The hope is to hold a small reception at Govt House, and invite Govt leads and Invictus to speak, meet, and socialize. We also learnt that our Bid presentation (with the other two proponents) is tentatively scheduled for September 15 or 16 in London. The final decision should land by the end of September, and then we’re off an running hopefully. Obviously we will keep you and other key Govt (BC/Fed/Municipal) leads updated.

In terms of advice, we need a short term injection of modest funds ($50k) to: host their visit; prepare our final presentation; and go present. As you may know, all cash so far to support the Bid came from founding organizations (ie, Tourism Victoria) and local Municipal supporters. The new amount essentially matches the dollars raised to get us in the game and now to be down to the final three. We’re wondering where to land this ask please? I’m working up a description to support it. Any and all thoughts are really appreciated.

Cheers

Colin

Date: June 17, 2019 1:52:48 PM
Attachments: Provincial Government Invitation - June 29, 2019.pdf

Good afternoon,

On behalf of the offices of Premier John Horgan, Minister George Chow, and the Ministry of Tourism, Arts and Culture, we would like to invite you to join the Premier and Minister for an event in Victoria Chinatown on Saturday, June 29 from 11:00 am to 2:00pm.

As you know, our government is working to establish a Chinese Canadian Museum in British Columbia to honour the many contributions of the Chinese British Columbians to the Province, past, present, and future.

Because the history of Victoria Chinatown is rich from both the historical and contemporary perspectives, Premier Horgan would like to visit a few of the historical buildings of the Chinese societies and family associations in the Victoria area. Prior to the walking tour, the Premier would like to invite representatives from the Victoria Chinatown societies, particularly the ones that the Premier is visiting, to a dim sum lunch from 11AM to 12PM at Don Mee Restaurant at 538 Fisgard Street. We would be pleased if you could join us.

The event will consist of:

1. 11AM: Meet for dim sum at Don Mee Restaurant at 538 Fisgard Street (<http://donmee.com/>)
2. 12:15PM to 2PM – Premier's walking tour to several Victoria Chinatown sites of historical significance in Victoria Chinatown.

Please let us know if you are available to attend this event by RSVP'ing using the webform available here. Please RSVP by Monday, June 24.

Please note that this invitation is non-transferable. If you would like to add a guest, or have someone attend in your place, please email theresa.ho@gov.bc.ca

Thank you and we hope you are able to join us,

Hi Kelly – Minister received a briefing on the Annual Report Service Plans (ASPRs) during the June 12th M/DM meeting. Can you ask her if she has any feedback that she'd like incorporated as our CPP team is hoping to send all items through for final sign off by the end of this week?

Hi Andrea,

During the Minister briefing last week, we discussed a couple of potential enhancements in the ASPRs (which my team is working on) and the Minister indicated that she would read the plans in full and provide any further feedback. Could you follow up with MO to see if there was anything the Minister wanted adding? We are hoping to send everything for final sign off by end of this week.

Thanks,

Jo.

Morning All,

Attached are the SN's and PowerPoint for Friday's presentation with the Surrey Board of Trade.

A friendly reminder that they initially asked for 15 min of speaking time, and we negotiated to 7-9 min and currently have it timed to 8.

We look forward to reviewing with the Minister at 11 am.

On the Opposition release:

Statement from MLP:

Background:

- This government has been clear in it's support of farmers hosting events and there's a process in place for ALR landowners to make that happen.
- The previous government announced regulations and criteria developed in 2016 around hosting events in the ALR. <https://news.gov.bc.ca/releases/2016AGRI0044-001383>
- Those Regulations have been in place for three years and have not changed.
- The ALC is an independent tribunal that accepts applications from property owners that wish to hold events that exceed the criteria in the 2016 regulation. That process should be followed.

With:

Support for Sector

Government is proud to support hop producers in British Columbia. B.C. hop producers are eligible to apply for funding and programs that are offered to farmers and producers across the province.

- The application-driven programs available to hop producers and others include:
 - Innovation (Canada-BC Agri-Innovation) Provides funding to support promising new products, practices, processes and technologies.
 - B.C. Agrifood & Seafood Market Development Provides funding to support businesses to develop marketing skills, purchase market research, create marketing plans and expand export sales.
 - Buy BC Partnership Program The Buy BC Partnership Program provides up to $2M in funding per year to increase the competitiveness of B.C.'s agrifood and seafood industry in the domestic market. The Program includes both funding as well as Buy BC logo licensing.
 - B.C. Agri-Business Planning Program to enable B.C. producers and processors to make more informed decisions and strengthen their business.
- Producers looking for more information about how they can benefit from these programs are encouraged to contact the Ministry of Agriculture.
- There are more than 200 breweries in more than 60 communities in B.C., employing more than 4,000 British Columbians – and many pride themselves on using local grains, hops and ingredients when available.
- The B.C. government encourages hop producers to build relationships with local brewers so they can produce and deliver the type, quality and quantity of hops that the more than 200 brewers in B.C. are looking for.

And depending on the nature of the request:

Breweries in the ALR

- In November 2017, the B.C. Government provided a new and consistent approach for breweries, meaderies and distilleries as currently provided for wineries and cideries.
- The updated regulation is creating new opportunities for B.C. farmers. It enables all alcohol producers to operate within the ALR, providing they source at least 50% of the primary farm product used in their alcohol (e.g., grapes for wine, barley for beer, honey for mead) from their own and other B.C. farms.
- This proposal to “level the playing field” was put forward by the BC Chamber of Commerce, UBCM, the BC Craft Brewer’s Guild as well as by individual breweries such as Persephone.
- The Ministry of Agriculture is continuing to listen to the sector and will consider whether further changes are needed.

BC Hop Fest

- The permit that is being referenced is part of an application practice for a non farm use to the ALC.

- The organizers have stated publicly that they were encouraged to apply for a permit, but did not apply. <https://www.cbc.ca/news/canada/british-columbia/hop-fest-paused-red-tape-1.5170586>
- Had they applied, the ALC would have made a decision on the application, and could have potentially allowed the event to move forward.
- Again, the rules around events on land in the ALR were established in 2016 by the previous government.
- The ALC is an independent tribunal, so suggest you connect with them directly. Here is their contact info: <https://www.alc.gov.bc.ca/alc/content/contact-us>

Subject: INFORMATION>Sport to join Creative and Multicultural Division

I'm pleased to advise that, effective immediately, the Creative and Multiculturalism Division has grown to include Sport. This larger division will be led by Asha Bhat, who has been appointed Assistant Deputy Minister, Creative, Multiculturalism and Sport.

Why are we making this change?

Government has already acknowledged the connection between Sport and Multiculturalism, appointing Ravi Kahlon Parliamentary Secretary for these portfolios in 2017. Joining our teams together under one ADM is reflective of this association and will help ensure a cohesive vision and direction moving forward.

How will this impact how we work?

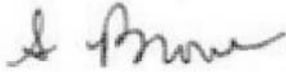

There are already many linkages between the work of each of the Creative, Multiculturalism and Sport Branches, these should continue to grow. On the people side, Executive Director of Sport, Margo Ross, will report directly to Asha; no other reporting changes (or physical moves) are planned at this time. Note that, as announced last week, the office of the B.C. Athletic Commissioner now reports through my office.

About Asha

Asha, who has been serving as Executive Lead for the Creative and Multicultural Division since Aug. 2018, has a long history with the B.C. Public Service. First hired in s.22 . Asha's career path has provided her exposure to a variety of portfolios including immigration and settlement, women's policy, social marketing, tourism policy and the creative industry. She holds a diploma in Media Arts, a Bachelor of Arts in History and Political Science, and a Master of Arts in International and Intercultural Communications.

Please join me in congratulating Asha on this career milestone!

Can you review the attached backgrounder and let me know if this is what you're looking for – and if this backgrounder is enough to move ahead with a meeting? Based on the backgrounder and the topic, it seems to me it would make sense to have both MGH and MSF in the room.....

Subject: 36676 Incoming Legislation Section 396(F), the closure of cultural space The Beaumont Studios

Dear Lisa,

My name is Jude Kusnierz, I am the Executive Director of an arts organization, The Beaumont Studios, located in Mt Pleasant at 5th and Alberta, Vancouver. We are a member-based society of community members and artists and we have been here for 15 years, maintaining 100% occupancy since we opened our doors in 2003. The space is 2 buildings, 20,000 sqft with working artist studios, a gallery & event space for performance works.

I write today on behalf of The Beaumont Community – its 100 resident artists, 10 employees, dozens of volunteers, membership base of 600 members, and our extended community of thousands – We would like to state in advance our gratitude for your consideration to champion with us towards solutions to the devastating situation of how this year's property taxation increases will impact our organization and the impending door closure of our space, which is currently being considered and prepared for by December 31st, 2019.

While the City Council's recent vote to alleviate 2% of the tax burden over the course of 4 years, for businesses is appreciated, the reality is that 2% over 4 years on a $100,000 of annual tax does not significantly affect a small non-profit organization like ours. As you know, many cultural organizations have already been snuffed out and we continue to face the reality that we will likely board up the windows this year if change is not imminent. Meetings are ongoing with the landlord for lease renegotiation, but this does not look like a real solution and closing has become a clear reality before years end. After 15 years of contributing to our community, this is will be a travesty.

The Beaumont Studios in addition to many other arts organizations in Vancouver need long-term solutions to help survive as cultural spaces. Hyperinflated real estate prices and the way property taxes are evaluated create unrelenting financial pressure for triple-net leaseholders. In 2014, the property we lease was assessed at $4 million; in five years, it rose to almost $13 million. Why? There is a dawning recognition that ungoverned forces have been at play.

This "best use" evaluation determines the very real taxes we pay. Every year we are taxed as if we were a luxury car lot or corporate tower but we are not; the majority of our residents in our space that pay rent are low-income artists in business for themselves, professional hobbyist or cultural sector workers and all have become struggling local taxpayers. The past few years have all but killed us to continue living in this city, our home.

To date, we have had years of long-running conversations with Arts & Culture staff members Diana Leung and Alix Sales. We have met with Andrea Reimer and Heather Deal on many occasions, both at our venue and at City Hall. We have spoken with Grace Cheng (Director of Finance office) and Marty Radakovich (City Assessment), George Heyman (MLA) and many others, including Mike Weibe most recently. Yet still, there has been little to no action nor much reassurance that any is forthcoming. Meanwhile, land values spiral up and our countdown clock ticks faster. We need acknowledgment that CoV has heard us, and are coming up with real concrete solutions and fast when it seems over the course of these years, no actual action or resolve has happened and this approach of non-activity has got to stop.

In fall 2017, we became aware of some legislation that could make all the difference. We have presented it to all of you over the years since all of you. The existence of this legislation has been confirmed and explained by Nick Damian of BC assessments (see his letter below). In the spring of 2018, The Beaumont met with many of our key stakeholders and members of our fellow arts organizations with the intention to mobilize, lobby and advocate to find a solution to the shared cultural space crisis. We concluded that we must entreat the City Council to direct City Staff to use legislation section 396(f) for our cultural space as it is in their discretion to do so.

How do we begin this process? This is our formal request that the process of enacting this legislation begins as soon as possible.

The legislation states that indeed “the city has the authority at their discretion to offer a promissory exemption of property taxes to not-for-profit organizations like ours”. Creating a separate category of/for non-profit cultural groups would be immediately recognized by the Assessment Authority, giving the city/council the power to relieve groups like ours from 100% of the property tax burden. Which is so desperately needed, urgently.

We are not a big business. We are not a corporation. We are not driven by foreign capital or organized crime. We are local people who live and serve in the community. We are part of the culture of Vancouver. We are one of Vancouver’s longest and last standing arts hubs.

Our request is that we work together to implement the legislation. The control is in the hands of the city, not the province and not the property owner. Any use of this legislation should mandate that the landowner must be transparent, as ours is, and pass the exemption to the non-profit organization, such as ours holding long term triple-net leases, which is the only place where the respite can exist.

The city has the flexibility to set the term of any relief from 1 to 10 years. Consider beginning by making for 1-5 years and revise it as the market changes, which we sincerely hope it does. This approach would not lock the city into something that is detrimental over the long term. Our goal would be 100% relief from property taxes as long as we remain a non-profit organization in this current space. Same as if we were an arts organization that owned the property, which is exempt at a provincial level. This inequity between leaseholders vs. owner arts organizations is simply inexplicable.

If an owner of an empty lot can throw up a box of dirt, call it a community garden, and get a tax break then please consider the positive effect that people working with people can have on a community. And please consider the effect of yet another arts organization boarding up its windows and then in turn, pointing fingers back at the city of Vancouver for not taking the steps they could have to prevent it. We want to be a symbol of endurance and Vancouver spirit and this council can be a part of that positive example of a city that cares about its culture, not another casualty of too little, too late.

We are eternally grateful for your consideration to help us in this process. We believe that change is coming and the real estate turbulence of the past few years is subsiding under new controls. We are thankful and hopeful that you have our back in this almost impossible situation.

Most recently I sent word to the City Manager, Sadhu Johnstone and hope that with between our pleas to the council members, the Mayor, Mr Johnstone and yourself that the process of moving this legislation ahead will be considered with much seriousness.

I look forward to hearing from you and thank you in advance for any of your time and efforts.

Subject: reply. request FW: follow up Sea to Sky DD Planning Area -- Working Sessions

Sonja,

I think this would be a perfect video for DBC to open the working sessions with as they go around the province

Can you confirm with Kelly and the Minister they are also good with it.

Then I think we can provide to DBC to use in the sessions.

Thx!

Shauna

Hi Sonja,

Both the desktop and mobile version of the TAC report was sent out as usual this morning. Apparently some changes to MS Outlook is resulting in some e-mails ending up in people's trash and/or junk folders.

If you do a search in Outlook you will find the TAC Summary - Wednesday, June 05, 2019 in a folder somewhere on your PC.

If not, you can call the help desk and they can remote in and find it for you.

Unfortunately, this is a problem with Outlook not TNO so there is nothing we can do to help.

Dear Parliamentary Secretary Kahlon, Minister Ralston, and Minister Beare,

I'm following through on my email and letter from yesterday. We're disappointed we haven't yet heard from you on this urgent matter. We have been forced to let the venue know that Sidhu Moose Wala has been pulled from the lineup.

We will have to communicate this to the public at some point, and we are concerned about the public backlash this will cause in the broader South Asian community.

There is still an opportunity to change course, and we would appreciate a meeting with you at your earliest availability to discuss how to rectify this situation,

Dear Parliamentary Secretary Kahlon, Minister Ralston, and Minister Beare,

Surrey's upcoming 5X Festival staged by the Vancouver International Bhangra Celebration Society (VIBC) is a place where global South Asian culture and identity can be expressed, embraced and reconnected. Since 2004, the VIBC has been dedicated artistic expression and representation that inspires cross-cultural creativity, community engagement and inclusivity between ethno-cultural boundaries.

However, the VIBC has recently received opposition from the Surrey RCMP over the anticipated performance of an influential voice in Punjabi music, Sidhu Moose Wala. Currently, Assistant Commissioner Dwayne McDonald has advised the City of Surrey of his view that Sidhu Moose Wala poses a public safety risk. As such, the City and the venue, Center City Mall, have postponed VIBC's permit for this rapidly approaching festival. The venue owners have given us until 5pm PDT today to pull Moose Wala from our line-up.

This opposition to Sidhu Moose Wala's performance is ill-informed and perpetuates misunderstandings of the South Asian community in Surrey.

It has been brought to the RCMP's attention that two appearances by Sidhu Moose Wala were marred by violence in Surrey and Calgary. However, Sidhu Moose Wala was not present at the venue when violence occurred. These incidents resulted from a combination of factors including a lack of adequate security, alcohol consumption and late show- times. None of these factors are unique to the South Asian community, and none of them are applicable in the case of the 5X Festival. In actual fact, Sidhu Moose Wala recently completed a successful USA wide tour in legitimate venues with proper security, resulting in no public safety concerns. Moose Wala is signed to one of the largest agencies in the world, UTA, which represents a wide variety of talent including David Gilmour and The Tragically Hip.

The RCMP's efforts to derail Sidhu's performance represent (intentionally or not) cultural prejudice, poor judgement and will directly affect the representation and cultural appreciation that the South Asian community deserves. Our event is safe. The board and staff at VIBC share equal concern and understanding for the safety of the Surrey community, as we have every year over the course of 14 years of community events and advocacy.

In an attempt to respond to the RCMP's concerns, the VIBC has quadrupled private security presence (from 4 to 16 guards) and have amended our security plan (attached for reference). In addition to security measures, the VIBC can confirm that the performance of Sidhu Moose Wala will occur during the daylight and is subject to a zero-tolerance policy for alcohol at 5X Festival. The TD Bank VIP zone will be sequestered and feature alcohol only available to sponsors and include a strict, per-person drink limit. Lastly, the VIBC has developed a prominent "Code of Conduct" displayed at multiple locations on site (please see attached).

We request your assistance to ensure that this event can continue as planned, and that we can work together to mitigate any potential damage that might be done to our event and community. We are happy to pull together a group to work together to resolve all concerns.

Thank you for your time,

Subject: 2019 Abbotsford International Airshow Invitation

Hello,
You are cordially invited to be our honoured guest at this year's 57th annual Abbotsford International Airshow. We have reserved two VIP tickets for your delegation for Friday, August 9, 2019. Please note that the VIP entrance is open from 3 to 5 pm on this day, with opening ceremonies beginning at 5:30 pm.

This year's airshow will highlight performances by the CF Snowbirds and USAF Thunderbirds jet teams, RCAF CF-18 Hornet and USN FA-18 Super Hornet, the Aeroshell Formation Team, Vampire jet plus many more civilian and warbird aircraft. This year's theme is Thunder over the Valley, including the first appearance of the Thunderbirds here since 2012 and a nod to warbirds such as the P-38 Lightning and P-47 Thunderbolt.

I have attached a copy of the official invitation. Please let me know if you are able to attend, as we look forward to hosting you this summer.

Regards,
Elizabeth Froc | Marketing, Sales & Admin Assistant

Subject: follow up Sea to Sky DD Planning Area -- Working Sessions
Date: June 4, 2019 11:28:31 AM

Hi Minister,

Did some follow up with Marsha on the Sea-to-Sky event and there is a suggestion for a video that would be used at the sessions. Would you like me to speak to Sonja about that? (highlighted below) I have also asked Marsha to add to the calendar of events – as she has noted below.

I will also follow up with Kelly and Jeff regarding the original request in February and see where that went – I don't recall seeing that.

I will also ask Marsha to have Sonja added to the email that goes to Amber so we can be looped in a bit more on our Monday meetings.

Hopefully we will get better at this.

Subject: DD Planning Area -- Working Sessions

Shauna,

Just did a bit of follow-up on these sessions. At this stage in the process, our managers are presenting back the strategic plans to tourism stakeholders -- essentially, the summary of the community consultations conducted with them over the past year or so. For instance, four small sessions were held along the Sea-to-Sky corridor (North Van, Squamish, Whistler, Lillooet) with 15-60 people in attendance. Following our presentation, they become working level meetings, so I think the best opportunity for an MLB presence would be a generic video that we can use everywhere. There will be dozens more of these in the coming year, but only two confirmed so far in the next quarter.

By the way, the four Sea-to-Sky sessions were not listed on our last (Feb-June) Events Update for the Minister since we consider these operational, but they are appearing on the Events Update list as of this quarter. Also, FYI, Amber in MTAC receives weekly, detailed updates from our DD team on which sessions are coming up (as the timing for each is confirmed).

Lytton was an unusual request as it was driven by the local MLA, not us. As noted, the MO was contacted directly by the M.A last February. Heather in our office followed up several times to determine next steps but did not get a response. Finally, MLA McTaggart reached out to me; you saw the email chain from there. The meeting went very well. MLB's video was well received, as were the brief presentations by Peter and Suzanne.

Hope that helps clarify...

Subject: Urgent correspondence regarding RCMP cancellation of 5x Festival South Asian concert
Date: June 4, 2019 10:34:15 AM
Attachments: VIBC letter to provincial government.pdf
ATT00001.htm

Dear Parliamentary Secretary Kahlon, Minister Ralston, and Minister Beare,

Surrey's upcoming 5X Festival staged by the Vancouver International Bhangra Celebration Society (VIBC) is a place where global South Asian culture and identity can be expressed, embraced and reconnected. Since 2004, the VIBC has been dedicated artistic expression and representation that inspires cross-cultural creativity, community engagement and inclusivity between ethno-cultural boundaries.

However, the VIBC has recently received opposition from the Surrey RCMP over the anticipated performance of an influential voice in Punjabi music, Sidhu Moose Wala. Currently, Assistant Commissioner Dwayne McDonald has advised the City of Surrey of his view that Sidhu Moose Wala poses a public safety risk. As such, the City and the venue, Center City Mall, have postponed VIBC's permit for this rapidly approaching festival. The venue owners have given us until 5pm PDT today to pull Moose Wala from our line-up.

This opposition to Sidhu Moose Wala's performance is ill-informed and perpetuates misunderstandings of the South Asian community in Surrey.

It has been brought to the RCMP's attention that two appearances by Sidhu Moose Wala were marred by violence in Surrey and Calgary. However, Sidhu Moose Wala was not present at the venue when violence occurred. These incidents resulted from a combination of factors including a lack of adequate security, alcohol consumption and late show-times. None of these factors are unique to the South Asian community, and none of them are applicable in the case of the 5X Festival. In actual fact, Sidhu Moose Wala recently completed a successful USA wide tour in legitimate venues with proper security, resulting in no public safety concerns. Moose Wala is signed to one of the largest agencies in the world, UTA, which represents a wide variety of talent including David Gilmour and The Tragically Hip.

The RCMP's efforts to derail Sidhu's performance represent (intentionally or not) cultural prejudice, poor judgement and will directly affect the representation and cultural appreciation that the South Asian community deserves. Our event is safe. The board and staff at VIBC share equal concern and understanding for the safety of the Surrey community, as we have every year over the course of 14 years of community events and advocacy.

In an attempt to respond to the RCMP's concerns, the VIBC has quadrupled private security presence (from 4 to 16 guards) and have amended our security plan (attached for reference). In addition to security measures, the VIBC can confirm that the performance of Sidhu Moose Wala will occur during the daylight and is subject to a zero-tolerance policy for alcohol at 5X Festival. The TD Bank VIP zone will be sequestered and feature alcohol only available to sponsors and include a strict, per-person drink limit. Lastly, the VIBC has developed a prominent "Code of Conduct" displayed at multiple locations on site (please see attached).

We request your assistance to ensure that this event can continue as planned, and that we can work together to mitigate any potential damage that might be done to our event and community. We are happy to pull together a group to work together to resolve all concerns.

Thank you for your time,

Looks good – the only nuance is that VAG is a long time BCAC client, receiving regular operating and project funding. The reference to 2018/19 amount suggests it was a one time investment.

Some messages to support MLB today if she is asked about the VAG project. I don't expect it to come up with CBC but just in case.

If asked about recent comments in the media that the VAG project is at risk, following the departure of executive director Kathleen Bartels:

- The Vancouver Art Gallery plays an important role in promoting the arts and artists in British Columbia, and is a significant draw for tourism.
- In 2008, the B.C. government provided a one-time grant of $50 million to support a new or refurbished gallery, and we provided more than $1 million in BC Arts Council and BC Community Gaming Grant funding in 2018-19.
- Last year we advised the Board that when they had substantially reached their private fundraising target, we would invite them to submit another request for funding. I understand that they have now met that threshold thanks to the generous donation of the Chan family.
- We have engaged the federal government on behalf of the VAG to highlight its importance to B.C.'s arts and culture scene and tourism sector.

- We recognize the many benefits of building a new art gallery, and the project continues to be of interest to us.

Following our separate conversations, attached is a high-level timeline of the integrated Safe Sport strategy from the provincial and national lens. I will share this with the Minister and PS today. I believe it will give the issue context for all the moving pieces within this program.

In addition, should the opportunity present it, I've prepared some notes and a verbal update on:

Dear Minister Beare,

Attached is a letter from MLA Jackie Tegart and Lytton Chamber President Bernie Fandrich respectfully requesting a briefing from staff on the Gold Rush Trail Destination Development Strategy as well as participation by Destination BC at a Fraser Canyon Stakeholders' Session on May 31st.

I apologize for the urgency of the request, however we just learned on May 16th that requests for MLA briefings on Destination BC's programs are managed through your office.

We have been in contact with Marsha Walden, CEO and President of Destination BC, who indicated that she would be pleased to arrange for follow up on the above mentioned requests at their earliest opportunity based on direction from your office.

As the stakeholders' session is on May 31st we hope to arrange for the briefing next week, so an early response from your office on our requests would be most appreciated. Thank you so much for considering.

Best Regards,

And here are some messages around the minimum wage from Labour:

- In Canada — one of the most affluent countries in the world — and in B.C. — one of the healthiest economies in Canada — there are still far too many ‘working poor.’
- To help lift people out of poverty, we have set a fair and predictable path towards a minimum wage of at least $15.20 an hour and eliminating the lower liquor server wage in 2021.
- These increases are measured, reasonable and they provide the predictability and certainty that businesses can plan around, following recommendations from the independent Fair Wages Commission.
- They also reflect British Columbia’s unique economic situation — we currently have the lowest unemployment rate in the country, we have strong job growth, and a positive economic outlook.

Good morning –

No separate issues call today but flagging two articles for you.

1. Minimum wage increased to $13.85/hr on June 1. I'll get the latest messaging from Labour.
2. The report on MMIW is being released today. KMs and the Premier's statement (going at 8am) are attached.

Tostenson – restaurant industry expenses

By Global News: BC 1

Ian Tostenson warns of financial challenges within the province's restaurant industry, particularly for independent establishments. Operating costs continue to rise, including a looming hike to the minimum wage, and Tostenson suggests the challenge is exacerbated by government taxes. [fin, lbrr]

And here are some messages around the minimum wage from Labour:

- In Canada — one of the most affluent countries in the world — and in B.C. — one of the healthiest economies in Canada — there are still far too many ‘working poor.’
- To help lift people out of poverty, we have set a fair and predictable path towards a minimum wage of at least $15.20 an hour and eliminating the lower liquor server wage in 2021.
- These increases are measured, reasonable and they provide the predictability and certainty that businesses can plan around, following recommendations from the independent Fair Wages Commission.
- They also reflect British Columbia’s unique economic situation — we currently have the lowest unemployment rate in the country, we have strong job growth, and a positive economic outlook.

Hi Team,

We're planning a Victoria Chinatown tour and lunch for the Premier (similar tours in Vancouver with PJH) and MGC wanted to make sure that we include MLB. The date has now been confirmed for June 29th, 11 am – 2pm. Details will follow. Let me know if your team and MLB can make it!

Thanks,

He didn't use much of the interview but good to have her quote right at the top of the article.

Hi team – I was thinking that June 10, right before the RBCM meeting in Vancouver, might be a good time to reschedule the CBC interview that we had to postpone last week. Could you ask her whether that would be okay on her end, and then I'll confirm with CBC whether that works for them?

s.12; s.13; s.17; s.18

The Ministry with RBCM is launching the first ever repatriation handbook which has been showcases the RBCM as a leader in this field of work. The launch of this handbook will generate more questions about the future of funding the program.

This repatriation work is also a cornerstone of the RBCM modernization theme and design.

Thank you,
