Hi Jacqueline,

I have been asked to try and set up a meeting with MCT and Chastity Davis, Chair of MACAW (Minister's Advisory Council on Aboriginal Women), while she is in Victoria on September 21st and 22nd? Chastity was at the First Nations Leaders Gathering, and she either met and/or spoke with MCT and she agreed to a meeting? Does MCT have any availability on Sept. 21st or 22nd for a meeting?

Hi Patrick

I wondered if you could assist: Are we in a position that we are allowed to name the two bid groups that will be compensated for the decision on the Massey project? I've had a request which cites the following:

"an important decision three years ago by the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner, which ordered the release of information about bidders and bids on a City of Vancouver contract.

September 8, 2014

[2014] B.C.I.P.C.D. 39 2014 BCIPC No. 39

Summary: The City of Vancouver awarded a contract for pay-by-phone parking services following a request for proposals. The applicant requested a list of RFP proponents, including their identities and the value of each their proposals. The City created a record in response but withheld some information related to the value of each proposal and information that disclosed the term of the previous pay-by-phone parking services contract it awarded because it believed disclosure would be harmful to the financial or economic interests of a public body (s. 17(1)(d) and (f) of FIPPA) and harmful to the business interests of a third party (s. 21(1) of FIPPA). The adjudicator determined that these sections do not apply and ordered the City to disclose the information.

Thanks!

Subject: media request - Massey bridge procurement cancellation

Hello Minister,

I hope this finds you well. I followed Todd Stone's questioning of you during Question Period today regarding the cancellation of the Massey bridge procurement. The former minister had a less-than-desirable record in running the Transportation Ministry from a variety of perspectives, including the deliberate obstruction of the public's right to know the costs and contracting details of major projects. There is mounting evidence of systemic waste and/or corruption in the Transportation Ministry.

I was, however, dumbfounded when you said that you cannot provide bid information. There is no basis in law for that statement. As a former journalist, I hope you can be sympathetic for the public's right to know.

Further, you said: "On this side of the house, we care about public spending..." I am hoping you will put those words into action.

I want to bring to your attention an important decision three years ago by the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner, which ordered the release of information about bidders and bids on a City of Vancouver contract.

A link to that decision and a summary are below.

Minister, the previous government released the names of the three groups that were bidding for the Massey bridge project. One of those groups includes SNC-Lavalin, a company that has a horrendous record of corruption around the world. When you announced the cancellation, you said there would be two groups that would receive the $2 million each in compensation.

There is no basis in law for withholding the names of the two bid groups that are receiving that compensation. I will vigorously defend my right to access that information and it would be poor optics for the NDP, which promised transparency, to resist disclosure.

I am asking for you to please provide me the names of the two bid groups that are receiving compensation for cancellation of the Massey bridge procurement.

Sincerely,
