Victoria actually had its highest week of projected boardings since the start of the pandemic, at 35.8k boardings per day. This is 46% above the lowest week (April 6-10).

Overall though, last week was still slightly below the peak of two weeks ago (last week of free fares):

As a reminder, we will continue to update daily this week, but then revert to twice weekly (Monday and Thursday) next week.

BC Ferries

Note that past summaries of BC Ferries ridership counts were incorrect. Future reporting will wait for BC Ferries to publish monthly actuals mid-month in the following month instead of relying on daily reports. Additionally, TransLink Unit staff were unable to confirm the discrepancy between March 2021 numbers provided by provincial staff and actuals published online by BC Ferries. These totals have been excluded from this month's ridership data pending confirmation.

• Notes from BC Transit

- Numbers are projected average weekday boardings from APC.
- All low points were week of March 30, 2020 with the exception of Sunshine Coast (week of April 6, 2020), Kamloops and Prince George (week of April 13, 2020) and Whistler (week of May 4, 2020).
- Boardings province-wide remain almost identical to last week. Typically the pattern at this time of year is to see a modest weekly decline, meaning that the recovery rate against pre-pandemic boardings has increased slightly this week to 52%.

Hi Jackie, here are calendar year totals from TransLink. More accurately the figures are for Metro Vancouver, as TransLink only launched in 1999. If we receive numbers from BC Transit prior to that time there will be an overlap in ridership counting.

Hi Jackie, I have data from BC Ferries (happy to send by itself if helpful); still outstanding from BC Transit folks (internal) and TransLink. BC Ferries folks say they're not able to revise to provide calendar year totals. I'll follow up again with BCT and TransLink.

Hi Jackie,

Are you looking for calendar year or fiscal, or is either acceptable? I currently have fiscal year stats from BC Ferries back to 90/91, and calendar year stats from TransLink between 1989 and 2015 (they're working on filling out more recent years).

My BC Transit colleague would like to know if you have a preference for calendar or fiscal before he compiles his data. If necessary, I could also go back to BC Ferries or TransLink folks to see if they can alter their data to calendar year or fiscal, respectively.

Thanks!

Best regards,
Stephen Harrison

Hi Jodi, this should be doable. It isn't clear to me from Jackie's email what years are of interest, though. Given BC Ferries' timelines the earliest we could have any comparison for 2019, 2020 and 2021 would be late January, 2022.

If you think Jackie's looking for something historical I could ask for previous years now; otherwise, I'll set a reminder for January. Let me know, thanks!

Hi Jodi,

Thanks again for these reports.

I'm working on another project and I was wondering if it would be possible for us to get annual ridership reports for the province. I've seen the figure in annual reports but it would be helpful to have a table similar to the one below but looking at years, rather than months. We wouldn't need the percent calculations, just the numbers.

Thanks,

Jackie

Hi Jackie, here are calendar year totals from TransLink. More accurately the figures are for Metro Vancouver, as TransLink only launched in 1999. If we receive numbers from BC Transit prior to that time there will be an overlap in ridership counting.

Hi Jackie, I have data from BC Ferries (happy to send by itself if helpful); still outstanding from BC Transit folks (internal) and TransLink. BC Ferries folks say they're not able to revise to provide calendar year totals. I'll follow up again with BCT and TransLink.

Hi Jackie,

Are you looking for calendar year or fiscal, or is either acceptable? I currently have fiscal year stats from BC Ferries back to 90/91, and calendar year stats from TransLink between 1989 and 2015 (they're working on filling out more recent years).

My BC Transit colleague would like to know if you have a preference for calendar or fiscal before he compiles his data. If necessary, I could also go back to BC Ferries or TransLink folks to see if they can alter their data to calendar year or fiscal, respectively.

Thanks!

Best regards,
Stephen Harrison

Hi Jodi,

Thanks again for these reports.

I'm working on another project and I was wondering if it would be possible for us to get annual ridership reports for the province. I've seen the figure in annual reports but it would be helpful to have a table similar to the one below but looking at years, rather than months. We wouldn't need the percent calculations, just the numbers.

Thanks,

Jackie

Hi Stephen:

I've started filling in BC Transit annual ridership figures in the table you forwarded, with the first year of 2007 (which is as far back as we have monthly ridership figures in the Branch's records).

However, it is slow-going to fill in all of the figures, as I have to sum and re-enter figures from the detailed monthly ridership tables. (I couldn't find an easy way to automate these calculations as table formats change from year-to-year).

I'll complete the table as I have time over the next few days. Will that timing meet your deadline?

Thank you for clarifying.

I'll fill in the BC Transit ridership figures in the table below and provide to you as soon as possible.

Please note that 2021 calendar year ridership figures for BC Transit will not be available until approximately mid-February in 2022, when BC Transit normally provides 3rd quarter reporting. And, similar to TransLink, those figures will be preliminary estimates that will be subject to change in spring 2022.

Hi Stephen:

Yes, for many years I've been tracking monthly ridership for BC Transit systems and TransLink in the following file on our LAN: I:\TRANSIT\73 Transit Studies\73 Reference Materials\Transit Statistics and Data\Ridership & Service Hours\Provincial Ridership & Service Hours\Provincial Transit Ridership - Monthly Actuals.xlsx

(I've been tardy in entering the ridership statistics for 2020-21 – will do this when I have time).

Before I start populating the BC Transit ridership table below, can you please confirm with Jackie Storen that CITZ is looking for calendar year, rather than provincial fiscal year, figures? As you know, BC Transit normally reports figures for the provincial fiscal year, so calendar year figures, although readily calculable, will not match values in BC Transit's annual reports.

Hi Jodi,

Thanks again for these reports.

I'm working on another project and I was wondering if it would be possible for us to get annual ridership reports for the province. I've seen the figure in annual reports but it would be helpful to have a table similar to the one below but looking at years, rather than months. We wouldn't need the percent calculations, just the numbers.

Thanks,

Jackie

Hi Ross,

Per the request below, I've been asked to compile annual ridership totals, going as far back as possible, for the three transit agencies. Do you have this information handy for BC Transit, or could you request it from Greg? Thanks!

All that's needed is the annual totals, so it would look something like this, for as many years are doable (i.e. further back than 2010, if it's available). Thanks again.

	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020
Central Fraser Valley
Chilliwack

Hi Jodi, this should be doable. It isn't clear to me from Jackie's email what years are of interest, though. Given BC Ferries' timelines the earliest we could have any comparison for 2019, 2020 and 2021 would be late January, 2022.

If you think Jackie's looking for something historical I could ask for previous years now; otherwise, I'll set a reminder for January. Let me know, thanks!

Good morning Ross,

I was on vacation last week. There were some issues with acquiring the weekly numbers – apologies for those not being communicated to you. The issues are still ongoing and so we'll get you both weeks as quickly as possible this week (though expect a delay).

The September numbers are below:

	Current Month, Pre-COVID	Current Month, Previous Year	Previous Month	Current Month
System	September 2019	September 2020	August 2021	September 2021	Percent relative to pre-COVID ridership levels (same month in 2019)	Percent relative to same month in 2020	Percent relative to previous month
Central Fraser Valley	275,328	143,274	157,325	192,409	70%	134%	22%
Chilliwack	67,274	44,289	42,224	53,423	79%	121%	27%

Nanaimo	3,261	12,590	6,211	8,904	7,870	141%	63%	127%	-12%
Prince George	1,849	7,179	3,234	4,283	4,086	121%	57%	126%	-5%
Sunshine Coast	469	2,017	887	1,257	1,087	132%	54%	123%	-14%
Victoria	24,163	117,574	49,349	79,251	72,748	201%	62%	147%	-8%
Whistler	1,463	4,236	2,233	2,476	2,388	63%	56%	107%	-4%
All BC Transit	52,738	225,511	99,542	152,372	138,391	162%	61%	139%	-9%

Notes

Numbers are projected average weekday boardings from APC

All low points were week of March 30, 2020 with the exception of Sunshine Coast (week of April 6, 2020), Kamloops and Prince George (week of April 13, 2020) and Whistler (week of May 4, 2020)

Looking deeper into the numbers, in large part this was due to last Thursday, in which we ran regular service on what was a statutory holiday for schools and most places of work. Boardings on Thursday were approximately 25% below what we have been seeing and what we saw for most of last week. This brought the overall average down. I would expect, therefore, to see a return to normal levels this week.

Greg

Hi Jodi,

Attached are August ridership projections from TransLink, BC Transit and BC Ferries, as well as the July ridership actuals for those organizations. While TransLink is missing some of the number totals for individual modes for August, the ridership percentages vs. pre-COVID are all there.

Hi folks,

I've updated the numbers at these links and will send to Jodi momentarily. We have complete information (albeit projections) for BC Transit and BC Ferries. We have TransLink journeys totals, as well as percentage of pre-COVID ridership, including boardings and individual modes.

August projections: s.15

July ridership: s.15

Hi Kate:

I've sent a reminder message to BC Transit to provide preliminary August ridership estimates by this afternoon if possible.

I agree with your suggestion to send the July report (I believe Stephen has that report – Stephen please let me know if I should re-send it). If we haven't received BC Transit's August report before our deadline today, I suggest we send the BC Transit weekly ridership report for August 23-27, which I've inserted below.

BC Transit ridership reached 64 percent of pre-pandemic levels last week.

		Current
--	--	---------	--	--

	COVID Low Point	Current Week, 2019 (pre-COVID)	Week, Previous Year	Previous Week	Current Week
System	March 30-April 3, 2020	August 19-23, 2019	August 17-21, 2020	August 16-20, 2021	August 23-27, 2021	Growth relative to low point of ridership (March 30-April 3, 2020)	Percent relative to pre-COVID ridership levels (same week in 2019)	Percent relative to same week in 2020	Percent relative to previous week

Good afternoon,

The latest update on BC Transit boardings is in the table below:

	COVID Low Point	Current Week, 2019 (pre-COVID)	Current Week, Previous Year	Previous Week	Current Week
System	March 30- April 3, 2020	July 1-5, 2019	June 29-July 3, 2020	June 28-July 2, 2021	July 5-9, 2021	Growth relative to low point of ridership (March 30-April 3, 2020)	Percent relative to pre-COVID ridership levels (same week in 2019)	Percent relative to same week in 2020	Percent relative to previous week

Victoria	24,163	91,283	38,832	45,485	49,404	104%	54%	127%	9%
Whistler	1,463	5,619	2,211	3,224	3,313	126%	59%	150%	3%
All BC Transit	52,738	169,625	78,368	89,436	97,017	84%	57%	124%	8%

Notes

Numbers are projected average weekday boardings from APC

All low points were week of March 30, 2020 with the exception of Sunshine Coast (week of April 6, 2020), Kamloops and Prince George (week of April 13, 2020) and Whistler (week of May 4, 2020)

As you can see, average projected weekday boardings bounced back from the week prior, indicating that the heat did have a lot to do with it. They're still below where they have been prior to the end of June but this isn't entirely unexpected given the time of year.

Hi Chelsea and Ross,

Yes, once I have received monthly ridership data from BC Transit, TransLink and BC Ferries, I combine it into a single Word document and forward to Jodi, who I believe passes it on to Deborah. I largely ignore the weekly ridership emails from BC Transit and TransLink unless there's a specific, narrow request.

Subject: RE: Ridership reporting

Hi Chelsea:

- BC Transit is providing weekly and monthly ridership reports
- These reports show ridership figures for BC Transit as a whole, and separate figures for 10 of the largest transit systems.

I understand that Stephen combines the monthly BC Transit statistics with TransLink monthly statistics and provides monthly ridership reports to the Transportation Services Branch (Stephen, can you please confirm this is an accurate description?)

The Transit Branch also provides quarterly BC Transit and TransLink ridership reports to the Transportation Services Branch, which coordinates the Ministry's quarterly Provincial Services Covid-19 Data report. This quarterly report also includes statistics for BC Ferries, Aviation, Commercial Passenger Transportation, Commercial Vehicle Transportation, Construction, Ports and Municipal Cycling Data.

Please let me know if you need any further information.

Hi Ross,

Can you give me a bullet or two on what ridership reporting Greg Hill is providing? I think its monthly and combined with Ferries and Translink and goes up to Deborah? Is that correct?

Thanks,

Hi Aaron,

I assumed this was a reference to the travel restrictions that went into effect on April 23rd (please let me know if I'm wrong), and I've attached all the weekly ridership stats we have for BC Transit and TransLink since that date, as well as a week prior.

I don't think there's anything to conclude about the travel restrictions' effects on BC Transit and TransLink's ridership for a few reasons.

- BC Transit:

- While ridership is down slightly on BC Transit from the week prior to the restrictions, BC Transit notes that typically at this time of year they see a modest weekly decline, and based on the numbers they're seeing, the recovery against pre-pandemic boardings has actually increased.

- TransLink:

- While TransLink is reporting a lower percentage of pre-pandemic ridership than before the restrictions went into effect, boardings are up overall.
- During this period TransLink changed how they're estimating ridership, making it difficult to compare the most recent week to previous weeks.

Hi Jodi,

I've prepared the following Excel templates if you want to share with Maria or whomever is providing the monthly totals at TransLink. The "March and Beyond" file includes columns to compare back to 2019 numbers, as well as the percent increase since 2020.

They've likely got their own set up going, but it's the format I'm using to get it into the Word doc and it does some of the calculations automatically. Not a huge deal if they don't want to use it.

Thanks Ross, that's great! It seems like he's on top of it, but I've attached some templates for March and future months if you want to share with Greg in case they're useful. Greg likely has his own set up, but the Excel file does some of the calculations automatically if that would be of use to him.

To be clear, he doesn't have to use either of these, let alone fill out both! Just providing them for his option.

Best regards,
Stephen Harrison

Hi Ross,

Sounds good. For monthly, I'll use the existing template for February (reported next week) as the pandemic hadn't impacted anything by then. But we'll add an extra column from March. The table will look like this:

System	March 2019	March 2020	February 2021	March 2021	Percent relative to pre-COVID ridership levels (same month in 2019)	Percent relative to same month in 2020	Percent relative to previous month
--------	------------	------------	---------------	------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------	------------------------------------

Weekly will be as described below.

Hi Greg:

Thank you for bringing this upcoming change to my attention, and for providing your proposed change to the ridership reporting format.

I've discussed with Bart, and we would like to see the following changes to the weekly (and monthly) ridership reports starting in Week 12:

- Change the second column to the same week in 2019 (as you've proposed)
- Insert a new column reporting ridership for the same week in 2020 (year-over-year)

In effect, the report would contain figures for 3 years – 2019 (pre-pandemic), 2020 and 2021.

We'll send you a new template for the monthly report shortly.

If you have any questions, please feel free to call me.

Thank you for your kind assistance.

Hi Ross,

Just a quick note on this. The data below is for Week 8. Week 12 is the anniversary of COVID, and so the recovery rate will jump as boardings will be above the same week in 2020. Week 12 this year is March 22-26.

I would therefore propose that we tweak the table below so that the second column is the same week of 2019. All other columns remain the same.

Please let me know your thoughts.

All BC Transit	52,738	204,984	103,291	101,001	92%	49%	-2%

Notes

Numbers are projected average weekday boardings from APC

All low points were week of March 30, 2020 with the exception of Sunshine Coast (week of April 6, 2020), Kamloops and Prince George (week of April 13, 2020) and Whistler (week of May 4, 2020)

Projected boardings are similar to last week, and remain above that 100k threshold. The longer term trend remains very consistent.

Hi Bart and Stephen:

Please see Greg Hill's suggestion below for modifying BC Transit's weekly (and presumably monthly) ridership reports, starting in the week of March 22-26, 2021.

I support Greg's proposal to change the table format so that the second column shows ridership for the same week in 2019 (pre-pandemic). I'm wondering if it might be helpful to have a new column continuing to report the same-week ridership for 2020 (post-pandemic), as this would be useful information for tracking the year-over-year ridership recovery during the pandemic.

What are your thoughts?

Stephen, have you identified any proposed changes for the BC Transit, as well as TransLink and BC Ferries monthly reports, starting in March 2021? It might be helpful to advise Deborah of the proposed new format.

Hi Maria

I have been asked for monthly ridership data. We are going to roll up with BC Ferries and BC Transit. Below is the BC Ferries table. Would you be able to provide the data for TransLink on a monthly basis, as below? We need it by mode. I understand you don't have that right now but if you could provide an estimate for December that would be great, then we would need January as well.

	Current Month Previous Year	Current Month	Change Current Month/Current Month previous year	% Change Current Month/Current Month previous year	Previous month	% Changes current month to previous month
Total Monthly	December 2019	December 2020	2019 minus 2020		November 2020	Percent relative to previous month
Passengers	1,145,780	446,854	698,926	61%	554,379	-19.4%
Vehicles	447,800	259,690	188,110	42%	298,959	-13.1%

Hi Ross,

Please find below the monthly ridership update for January 2021:

	Current Month, Previous Year	Previous Month	Current Month
System	January 2020	December 2020	January 2021	Percent relative to pre-COVID ridership levels (same month in 2019)	Percent relative to previous month
Central Fraser Valley	244,112	131,261	134,464	55%	2%
Chilliwack	56,701	41,683	40,709	72%	-2%

All BC Transit	5,661,518	2,343,492	2,486,371	44%	6%

On looking at last month's numbers, I believe that I may have sent you the incorrect totals. They should have read:

- December 2019: 4,433,110
- November 2020: 2,452,709
- December 2020: 2,343,492

The totals for the individual systems were all correct.

Here are drafts of what this could look like, in Excel and Word.

s.15

In the Excel document, you can see how the format changes in the March worksheet, referring back to both 2019 and 2020.

I would prefer using the Excel document as the use of formulas eliminates the inconsistent ways the BC Transit and BC Ferries folks provided percentage changes, and it's self-referential back to the previous month's ridership. Teams would also be great, assuming nobody messes with my formulas! ☺

So for January numbers we would only need to ask for the following, by boarding type or system:

- Current Month, Previous Year (2020); and
- Current Month

Starting for March numbers, we'd need to ask for:

- Current Month, 2019;
- Current Month, Previous Year (2020); and
- Current Month

Stephen Harrison

I.e. where are we at compared to pre-COVID (March 2019 to February 2020, say), and in the future, where are we at compared to both pre-COVID and compared to the previous COVID-year to chart annual improvements.

We discussed this, and as we are not 12 months into COVID, in order to go "pre-COVID", not sure what we would benchmark it against. I would think Pre-COVID would be more of interest though. Do you think it makes most sense to just compare to pre-COVID, or both?

Hi Jodi,

For future months is what's of interest comparing to pre-COVID (i.e. comparing months to the equivalent month between March 2019 and February 2020), or as below, comparing to the previous year (e.g. comparing March 2021 to March 2020, which would likely show improvement)? Thanks!

She just said she liked the clean/simplistic approach of the BCF one so it doesn't matter it's the same info just make them look consistent and tidy and I'm sure it will be fine!

Sounds good, although I think the BC Transit table is much clearer and I will go with that if that's okay. Will people send these to me automatically, or will I have to chase after them each month? I am hopeful it's the former as it seems everyone's been told to do this.

It could also potentially live as a Teams document for each unit to update. I could share it with the relevant folks.

Best regards,
Stephen Harrison

Subject: Action: Monthly Roll Up of ridership data

Hi Stephen,
I chatted with Jodi this afternoon about this so she may have already CC'ed you in a related email and if so, apologies for my lateness on this info, but if not, you'll see it soon.

ADM Bowman would like monthly roll ups of ridership data from BC Transit, BC Ferries and TransLink. The other units in our division are working on compiling that data for BCF and BCT, and Jodi will be requesting the data from TL, but we need to put it into the table that the EDs have agreed on and compile the 3 tables into 1 word doc.

Can you take that on? Timeline would be the end of each month. This first one would be as soon as you receive that info from TL. Let me know if you have any questions!

See below for pasted BCT table and see attached for BCF. Jodi likes the simplicity of the BCF table and would like them to all match with basically the same columns but different rows depending on the data given by the orgs.

Hi Ross,

TransLink's 2021 Business Plan is online here: https://www.translink.ca/-/media/translink/documents/about-translink/corporate-reports/business_plan/2021_business_plan_operating_and_capital_budget.pdf

It includes a 2021 ridership forecast of 244,772,000 boarded passengers and 143,777,000 journeys (page 11). The 2020 numbers in that document are budgeted projections, not actuals, but if they're useful they are listed as: 468,445,000 boarded passengers and 283,000,000 journeys.

I hope that helps!

Best regards,
Stephen Harrison

Hi Brittany:

Thank you for your quick reply.

I'll assume TransLink's mid-range scenario ridership forecasts for now. Please let me know if TransLink provides updated forecasts later this month.

Each year, the Transit Branch submits two discussion sections for inclusion in the MoTI Service Plan on provincial transit ridership performance. (I've attached these sections from MoTI's 2020-21 Service Plan for your reference.) The sections identify TransLink's and BC Transit's annual ridership forecasts for the next three years, and their sums are presented as total provincial figures, along with some discussion of key trends and considerations embedded in the forecasts.

I'll make sure that you, Stephen and Kate have a chance to review the draft sections before we send them to Andrea for her review early next week.

Morning Ross,
I've included Stephen here on this chain who should be able to help you with your inquiry #2 below.

Regarding your other inquiries, we are hoping the Safe Restart group will meet very soon, however, that is not our decision. It is up to ADM Bowman and DM Krishna so we are waiting on their further direction and will let you know when we know. Regarding the most plausible – TL has been using the “medium” restart scenario for planning purposes, but again, that will be updated and shared with that group when they meet again to reflect the best available and most current data.

We're curious how much of a focus on TL data there is in the MOTI Service Plan? If there is a lot perhaps we could review what makes it in to ensure accuracy and awareness on our end.

Thanks!

Subject: FW: TransLink Ridership Forecasts

Hi Brittany:

Thank you for providing TransLink's annual ridership projections under the three scenarios.

I have a few questions for your consideration:

1. Is the Safe Restart Working Group expected to meet before Jan. 29th ? (if so, we may have the opportunity to update the forecasts in the MoTI 2021-22 Service Plan, which are to be submitted to MoTI Service Planning by Jan. 29th)

2. Has TransLink identified official and/or published ridership forecasts for 2020 and 2021, either in its 2021 Business Plan or the Safe Restart Agreement (if you have received TransLink's 2021 Business Plan, could you please forward it for our records?)
3. Do you have a contact in TransLink's planning group whom we could ask to recommend the "most plausible" of the three ridership scenarios, prior to our Jan. 29th deadline?
4. Could you please ask TransLink to identify the specific annual ridership values depicted in the chart (they are difficult to discern by looking at the chart)?

It will be very helpful if we can pinpoint the source for the TransLink ridership forecasts that we'll include in the MoTI Service Plan. I'll include language in the ridership discussion around the higher level of uncertainty inherent in both TransLink's and BC Transit's ridership forecasts, given the unprecedented impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Thank you for your kind assistance!

Subject: RE: TransLink Ridership Forecasts

Hello Ross,

I've done some more digging and unfortunately we have not received the latest ridership projections because the Safe Restart Working Group has not yet met in January as anticipated, likely due to our change in ministry, etc. However, we do have previous projections that we are hoping will be sufficient given your timeline. Please see the graph attached.

We have heard from TransLink that the current ridership is at about 40% of pre-covid levels based on 2019 stats. Unfortunately, I'm not sure which projection would be the most likely and TL has not provided us with that information as there are so many variables and they have in fact stated that they are again seeing impacts based on this second wave (they would have expected based on ridership recovery to be at 46% of pre-covid levels, for example, rather than the 40% due to the second wave).

I hope this is helpful and I apologize that it's not more cut and dry and may require some additional analysis on your end.

Hi Brittany:

MoTI Service Planning has informed me that updated provincial ridership forecasts are required before January 29th for inclusion in the Ministry's 2021-22 Service Plan report. Would you be able to provide TransLink's most up-to-date ridership forecasts (annual numbers of passenger journeys) for the calendar years 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023 and (if available) 2024, before January 20th (to provide sufficient time for internal review)?

If TransLink is identifying a range of forecasts, we would appreciate your guidance on which set of forecasts is deemed "most likely".

If you have any concerns about meeting the requested timeline, please let me know.

Thank you for your kind assistance.

Hi Ross,

We are working with TL on this type of planning as part of the Safe Restart WG and there is some great scenario-based work being done to estimate ridership based on different scenarios given the uncertainty of the pandemic. The next version of that range of estimates is expected in January. Given your timeline, could you reach out to me again in the early new year and hopefully we will have some best available data for your service plan at that time?

Thanks!

Subject: TransLink Ridership Forecasts

Hi Kate:

As you may know, yesterday CABRO launched the 2021-22 service plan development period for ministries and crown agencies.

For inclusion in the Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure's service plan, the Transit Branch will be providing a section including forecasts of annual provincial transit ridership (the sum of BC Transit and TransLink forecasts). This section from the 2020-21 Service Plan is shown below. Please note that the ridership figures reported are those that TransLink reports as "journeys", which exclude transfers. (TransLink also reports numbers of passenger boardings).

Would your team be able to assist us in requesting TransLink's most up-to-date ridership forecasts for 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023 and 2024? We'll require those figures by mid-January or so to meet timelines.

We recognize the higher level of uncertainty inherent in the ridership forecasts of both TransLink and BC Transit due to the continuing impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic.

If you'd like to discuss this request, please feel free to call me.

Thank you for your kind assistance.

Key Strategies:

- In partnership with other levels of government and Indigenous communities, expand public transit including bus service and rapid transit.
- In collaboration with the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing encourage compact and mixed land-use around transit stations and along transit corridors through policy and funding agreements.
- Implement intelligent transportation systems to manage traffic and congestion, reduce idling, and enable improved transit service.
- Expand the use of high occupancy vehicle lanes and transit priority measures.
- Collaborate with the trucking industry to reduce emissions from the commercial vehicle sector by reducing permit wait times, increasing the use of weigh in motion technology at inspection stations, building rail grade separations, and improving rural road infrastructure.

Performance Measure	2019/20 Forecast	2020/21 Target	2021/22 Target	2022/23 Target
3.1 Annual public transit ridership in B.C. ¹	335 million	345 million	347 million	353 million

Linking Performance Measure to Objective:

3.1 Increased use of public transit (higher ridership) helps reduce greenhouse gas emissions generated by motor vehicles. Public transit improves the effectiveness of the transportation network by opening up capacity, diminishing our carbon footprint and providing a lower cost transportation alternative. The reduction of greenhouse gas emissions from the transportation sector is a priority for Government.

Hi Brittany,

You could try starting with Maria Su, who I believe is TransLink's Director of Research and Analytics. Maria emails Jodi the weekly COVID ridership numbers. If she's not the best person, hopefully she could at least point you in the right direction, as TransLink has been doing lots of work on COVID ridership projections.
